Nixon Pounds At Pocketbook Issue

By The Associated Press

VICE President Richard M. Nixon hit hard at the pocketbook issue in campaigning through Pennsylvania and New York Tuesday—with some televised help from President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson.

Nixon appeared before an enthusiastic rally in Erie, Pa., and spelled out the Eisenhower Administration's various efforts to provide aid for economically distressed areas.

Later, he was given a huge welcome at Rochester, N. Y., where he accused Sen. Kennedy of resorting to a "bare-faced lie" in saying the Republicans always had opposed Social Security. Nixon said he considered such a statement "vicious" and "despicable."

Meanwhile, his Democratic opponent for the presidency, Sen. John F. Kennedy, began a two-day tour of California aimed at winning Nixon's home state with its parcel of 32 electoral votes. And he got a rousing welcome.

Addressing a rally at the University of Southern California, Kennedy denounced Nixon as a stand-patter in a revolutionary era, saying: "I can't believe the people will choose the status quo.

"We are either going to drop back or move ahead."

Kennedy's wild welcome into California had some out-of-the-ordinary sidelights: Fog delayed his arrival. The motorcycle of a policeman overheated and the gas tank blew up. The motor of Kennedy's auto overheated and he had to change transportation.

Nixon started out his day in Pennsylvania—a state with 32 electoral votes—and moved into upper New York—in a state with the nation's largest electoral count, 45 votes.

In Pennsylvania, the vice president pounded on the theme that the Democrats have made a "political football out of a pressing human problem by sending President Eisenhower two distressed area bills he had to veto." Unemployment is a pressing problem in the state's coal mines and steel industry.

Nixon also promised to work for doubling the nation's immigration quotas; predicted he would win a majority of the nation's seven biggest states, and challenged Kennedy to say how he would pay for promises made in the Democratic platform.

Truman Inflation

Then in Rochester, N.Y., Nixon said Kennedy's program would mean "a retreat to the unchecked price increases in the Truman administration." His statement said that under Eisenhower "runaway inflation has been stopped and the rise in the cost of living has been brought under control."

Support in the pocketbook argument that Eisenhower and Anderson provided was in a taped TV show broadcast over the CBS network as a paid political program.

Anderson called on Kennedy to spell out exactly how he would pay for the programs advocated in the party's platform. Generalities are not enough, Anderson said, "it's like being for good against evil."

Eisenhower said in introducing Anderson: "The preservation of the soundness of the dollar, as well as preservation of the confidence that the dollar will remain sound is absolutely essential both for the welfare of our citizens at home and the rest of the free world."

The President, meanwhile, made it definite that he will campaign for Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge in Cleveland and Pittsburgh Friday. The White House also said he will make a nation-wide TV talk from Pittsburgh Friday at 9 p. m. (CBS).

Lodge, Nixon's running mate, also campaigned in New York Tuesday. And Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, was in Chicago.

Poll Forecast

With the candidates sprinting toward the election day finish, these were the latest polls and predictions:

The American Society of Newspaper Editors polled its members, who predicted Nixon will carry 28 states with 314 electoral votes, Kennedy 19 states and 209 votes.

Time Magazine's correspondents estimated Kennedy is leading in states with 306 electoral votes and Nixon in states with 149.

Newsweek polled 60 top Washington correspondents. Results—Kennedy 279 electoral votes, Nixon 159, with 100 as a tossup.

U.S. News & World Report said its state-by-state survey of political experts showed the Democratic nominee is leading in enough states to win the presidency.

Absentee Ballots Might Delay Election Results

HARRISBURG (AP)—A close election Nov. 8 could result in Pennsylvania's absentee voters casting the deciding ballot. That means 32 presidential electoral votes could hang in the balance for 10 days.

The 10-day waiting period is to allow receipt of the absentee ballots from all over the world. They are then counted and certified to the State Elections Bureau as part of the official returns of each of the state's 67 counties.

This will be the first general election in which civilian absentee balloting will be permitted. The absentee franchise was extended to civilians under a 1959 amendment to the State Constitution. Previously, absentee voting was limited to servicemen and hospitalized veterans.

An Associated Press survey indicated the county elections bureaus have mailed out absentee ballots representing 1.15 per cent of the state's registered voters—in other words, about 65,000 absentee ballots.

The survey indicated there is little difference in the trend of absentee applications from county to county or between urban and rural areas. The low was .8 of one per cent in Cumberland County and the high was 1.6 per cent in Montgomery County.

There is no way of determining what percentage of the mailed ballots will be returned.

In 1956 the 67 counties distributed 33,138 military ballots and 1,180 ballots for hospitalized veterans. Of that total an estimated 16,000 were returned.

Though President Eisenhower swept the state by 600,000 vote margin, Republican Sen. James H. Duff was defeated for re-election by Democrat Joseph S. Clark by a narrow margin. The margin could have been threatened by a Duff sweep of all soldier ballots. However, the votes split two to one in Duff's favor—far short of helping him overcome his deficit.

If the same proportions hold up this year—and there is nothing to indicate they will—the absentee vote would be worth 10,000 to 12,000 votes for Democrats and 20,000 to 24,000 votes for Republicans.

Absentee ballots must be postmarked prior to midnight election day. Absent from their regular polling place Nov. 8 or for persons who are unable to vote in person because of physical disability.

Phila. Bulletin Backs Nixon

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —The Philadelphia Bulletin, largest afternoon newspaper in the nation, Tuesday editorially endorsed Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency.

The Bulletin said the Republican candidate "offers more rational programs and displays deeper understanding of the means to further them," than does his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

THE second of three editorials endorsing candidates for public office appears today on Page Four of The Daily Record.

The third editorial will appear in tomorrow's Record.

U.N. Defeats Cuban Call For Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U. N. General Assembly Tuesday night rode down Cuban-Soviet demands for urgent Assembly debate on their charges that the United States is planning an invasion of Cuba.

The Assembly, after two days of debate, rejected a Cuban amendent to upset a previous steering committee decision assigning the debate to the Assembly's 99-nation political committee.

The vote was 29 in favor of the Cuban-Soviet stand, 45 against, and 18 abstentions.

U. S. Welcomes Debate

The United States branded the Cuban-Soviet charges "false . . . monstrous distortions and downright falsehoods," but said it welcomed the chance to disprove them in a far-ranging debate.

After voting down the Cuban amendment the Assembly decided by a vote of 53-11 with 27 abstentions to send the issue to the assembly's political committee. The Soviet bloc, Cuba and Indonesia voted against the majority. Six countries were absent.

James J. Wadsworth, U. S. delegation chief, took the rostrum in the U.N. General Assembly to say that airing of the accusations will show up Cuba and its Soviet supporters.

He argued for a complete discussion of the charges in the Assembly's political committee, even giving it priority for the widest possible debate there.

Valerian A. Zorin, Soviet deputy foreign minister and head of the delegation, opened Tuesday's debate with an accusation that "the United States seeks to delay the discussion which would expose its aims. It tries to gain time it needs to carry out measures planned by the Pentagon to prepare and commit direct armed intervention in Cuba."

Zorin led off with a long statement that encompassed the charges voiced in the Assembly Monday by Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa and spokesmen for Soviet bloc countries.

Zorin charged that the Cuban people "can at any moment become a victim of direct armed aggression from a neighboring imperialist power. Even now acts of gross interference by the U.S. government in the affairs of the Cuban people are taking place."

Wadsworth said that if Cuba is serious about the charges, it should take them to the U. N. Security Council.

Daily News Has Kennedy Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Daily News Tuesday night printed the final results of a nation-wide survey predicting Sen John F. Kennedy will win the presidency with 396 electoral votes in 30 states.

The newspaper's political analyst, Ted Lewis, gave Republican Richard M. Nixon 20 states with 141 electoral votes.

Chest Drive Moves Ahead

Industrial Units Set Pace

THE INDUSTRIAL division surged ahead in the Community Chest Fund Campaign yesterday when Al Schaffer and William Reaser, co-chairmen, brought in enthusiastic reports of the response in a number of industries in the county.

The employes at Worthington Mower Co. came in for special mention when it was announced that with the employe-giving still incomplete they had given $1,280. Representing the contributions of about 150 employes, this makes the per capita giving far above the average and gives a big boost to the drive.

Other employe groups who have completed their solicitation and added to the industrial division's surge were:

Stroudsburg Engine Works, employes, $460.

Ronson Corp. Employes, $640.

Weico employes, $170.

Industries Give

In addition the management of two of the major industries in the county also made their contributions with $2,500 each from Ronson Corp., and from Worthington Mower.

Some of these contributions are included in the final tabulation, others came in too late for tabulation this week. However the industrial division's percentage rose to $6,323.35 which is 27 percent of quota.

The campaign total, according to the official tabulation yesterday, shows contributions of $22,741.67, almost 27 percent of the goal of $87,222.

Percentage-wise this compares favorably with the money contributed in the first two weeks of the campaign last year, Glen Sanborn Jr., president, reported.

Among the divisions, the clubs and organizations of which Stuart Pipher and Walter McClelland are co-chairmen still led with 75 percent of its quota or $741.

Sharing honors for attaining 50 percent of quota were: the resorts with $3,137, the Barrett house-to-house, with $1,294, and professional with $4,762.32.

Also reporting additional funds were: Trade, with $3,535, or 25.3 percent of quota.

Public Service, with $768, or 13.2 of its total.

Stroudsburg house-to-house, $245 with 11.6 percent of its quota.

Shortway Hailed In Jobless Fight

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—State Sen. Z. H. Confair of Williamsport Tuesday urged a prompt start on a 17-mile segment of the Keystone Shortway near here as one way to fight unemployment.

Confair was one of 11 witnesses who testified at the Shortway hearing. All spoke out for this segment of the limited access superhighway and there were no opposition witnesses.

A mild surprise occurred when Robert F. Astleford, of Hazleton, appeared on behalf of a farm cooperative group and endorsed the proposed route, which will carry the Shortway across lands owned by the farmers.

The 17-mile segment extends westward from Route 309 (Hazleton-Wilkes Barre Highway) to a point near Berwick.

Confair and Rep. Daniel J. Flood, (D-Pa.), a member of the House Appropriations Subcommittee, said work on the freeway will help creat jobs. Flood termed it an "important aid to the area."

Confair, who is also president of the Keystone Shortway Association, said that a survey made three months ago showed 92,000 unemployed persons in the Shortway belt in Pennsylvania. During the past 10 years, he said, 140,000 people have moved away."

The Shortway will eventually stretch 290 miles from Stroudsburg to Sharon. Near Hazleton it will intersect with the Anthracite Freeway, another proposed limited access highway.

Others testifying on behalf of the Shortway were Martin Cohn, eastern area vice president of the KSA; Paul Cerula, Greater Hazleton Chamber of Commerce, and area assemblymen.

Routing of the segment covered in Tuesday's hearings had been delayed because of terrain problems.

Presiding at the hearings was J. B. F. Rinehart, assistant attorney general for the State Highways Department.

This was the last of seven hearings dealing with the eastern link of the shortway. Other hearings will take up other sections of the road later.

Reds Seize 'U.S. Spy' In Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—Mikhail Platovsky has been arrested in the city of Minsk as a spy for the United States, Tass said Tuesday. It reported he had radio and code equipment and duplicating material for printing anti-Soviet propaganda.

The Soviet news agency did not identify Platovsky's nationality, but said he was trained in West Germany by U. S. intelligence officers and smuggled into Russia with V. M. Slovnov. The Russians announced Slovnov's arrest Aug. 2 in a charge of spying.

The announcement of Platovsky's arrest followed by five days the New York arrest of Igor Y. Melekh, chief of the Russian translation section at the United Nations, by the FBI.

In Washington the State Department disclaimed any knowledge of Platovsky's case and said he "apparently" was a citizen of Russia, or some other Communist country, not an American.

British Give U. S. Base For Polaris Subs

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told the House of Commons Tuesday Britain will furnish the United States a base for roving nuclear submarines armed with Polaris missiles.

The site is in Scotland, in the Holy Loch of the River Clyde. February is the planned date for anchoring a submarine tender there. A floating dock will come later.

Macmillan's statement, heard with hostility by the opposition Labor members, came after Queen Elizabeth II opened a new session of Parliament in regal splendor.

The queen sat in the House of Lords on a glistening golden throne and outlined, in a speech written for her by Macmillan's Cabinet, an extensive legislative program.

Macmillan said the agreement will serve and strengthen the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—an alliance the queen herself characterized as vital to peace.

Labor party members in Commons immediately attacked the Macmillan plan, saying the people of Scotland would resent exposure to destruction. But the prime minister retorted that a Polaris sub base would be less an enemy target than would bomber bases.

Macmillan emphasized that U.S. submarines operating from the base will be on "routine patrol in peacetime" and that their real home ports will still be across the Atlantic in the United States.

Of the decision to conclude such an agreement with the United States, he said: "It is in the tradition of Anglo-American cooperation in joint defense carried by successive British governments."

Macmillan withheld details of the arrangements at the Scottish anchorage. But other sources said the agreement calls for U.S. personnel to be stationed there to serve submarine units of the American Fleet Ballistic Missile task force, now coming into being.

Two Polaris-firing submarines of the force will start patrolling the northern seas within the next three months. Eventually a force of 45 nuclear-powered submarines is planned by the United States. Each sub carries 16 missiles.

Ask Germany To Help Aid Free Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two top U.S. officials planned to go to Bonn in the wake of a letter from President Eisenhower urging bigger German contributions to backward nations and to free world defense.

The administration announced Tuesday that Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson and Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon would visit Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during the latter part of this month for talks on "matters of mutual interest, with the primary emphasis on the problem of aiding the less-developed countries of the world."

While the White House officially declined comment on Eisenhower's letter, it was authoritatively reported that the President had written Adenauer several weeks ago.

Poorer Nations

Eisenhower was said to have urged the German chief to step up West Germany's part in aiding less-developed countries "and increasing her share in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense burden.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the United States plans to meet its NATO commitments including the maintenance of U.S. forces in Europe. He said there should be no inference from the announcement of the Anderson-Dillon trip that there is any intention to reduce U.S. forces.

Germany Recovered

However the spokesman left open the possibility that the U.S. representatives might do some talking with the Germans about possible ways of cutting down U.S. expenses.

Washington's view is that the Western industrialized nations, having recovered from the ravages of World War II, should pitch in with the United States in the task of helping backward countries of Asia and Africa.

Fog Slows Traffic On Area Roads

HEAVY FOG was reported in some sections of the Pocono Mountains last night, but for the most part the reports indicated it was spotty and clearing at a late hour.

State Police at Lehighton said the fog was patchy and clearing; troopers at Milford reported heavy fog; Fern Ridge troopers said the fog was heavy earlier but was clearing; while State Police at Mount Pocono said fog was thick in the mountains and in the Swiftwater area, but had cleared off, and troopers at Stroudsburg said fog was thick in spots.

The Blue Mountain Control Center at Wind Gap also reported bad fog in spots.

There were no automobile accidents reported by any of the stations checked. Most traffic was traveling at a slow to moderate pace.

Eaton Predicts Kennedy Victory

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland industrialist, said Tuesday he thought the election will be a landslide for Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee for president.

"I am not saying this because of personal preference," he said, "but as an opinion based on my experience in business."

"If Kennedy carries Iowa and Kansas he will carry all 50 states," he said in an interview.

Eaton has been a frequent defender of Russian policies and has visited the Soviet Union as a guest of Premier Khrushchev and other Red leaders.

Reds Told To Keep Hands Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower declared Tuesday the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo, Cuba, is important to the defense of the entire Western Hemisphere and this country will take whatever steps may be appropriate to defend it.

The President's declaration was in a statement which took note of the growing intimacy of Fidel Castro's government with Soviet Russia and Communist China.

Thus it was a warning to the Communist powers as well as Castro not to believe the United States can be bluffed into pulling out of Guantanamo.

In giving Eisenhower's statement to newsmen, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower wanted to make this country's policy position perfectly clear "so there can be no misunderstanding."

Hagerty said he wanted to point out that Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. and Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, recently have made statements similar to that of the President's.

Hagerty told a news conference that during the last week or so the President has been expressing his views regarding Guantanamo privately in talks with friends and in a few letters.

Here is the President's statement:

"While the position of the government of the United States with respect to the naval base at Guantanamo has, I believe, been made very clear, I would like to reiterate it briefly.

"Our rights in Guantanamo are based on international agreements with Cuba and include the exercise by the United States of complete jurisdiction and control over the area.

"These agreements with Cuba can be modified or abrogated only by agreement between the two parties, that is, the United States and Cuba.

"Our government has no intention of agreeing to modification or abrogation of these agreements, and will take whatever steps may be appropriate to defend the base.

"The people of the United States, and all the peoples of the world, can be assured that the United States' presence in Guantanamo and use of the base pose no threat whatever to the sovereignty of Cuba, to the peace and security of its people, or to the independence of any of the American countries.

"Because of its importance to the defense of the entire hemisphere, particularly in the light of the intimate relations which now exist between the present government of Cuba and the Sino-Soviet bloc, it is essential that our position in Guantanamo be clearly understood."

Judge Bars Polling Of Finch Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The judge in the second Finch murder trial Tuesday denied a motion to poll the jurors, who began deliberating the case two weeks ago.

Attorney Grant B. Cooper, representing Dr. R. Bernard Finch, moved that the jury be asked how it is divided numerically. He did not ask that they indicate how they stand on guilt or innocence.

Dr. Finch and his pretty mistress, Carole Tregoff, are charged with the July 1959 killing of the surgeon's socialite wife, Barbara. They contend it was accident. The first jury could not agree.

Superior Judge Leroy Dawson said in denying the plea:

"I realize that these people have listened to 12 or 13 weeks of testimony, and I originally thought that two weeks was a reasonable time for them to reach a verdict. But they were interrupted by three days in which they heard testimony reread. I deny the motion now, but I am not saying how I will feel about it by, say, Thursday."

Cooper then moved the jury be discharged. The judge turned that down, too.

Chile Rocked By New Quakes

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — A series of three earthquakes sent thousands of men, women and children rushing in panic into the streets and countryside of southern Chile Tuesday.

The area was ravaged by destructive quakes last May.

Damaged walls crumbled and cracks opened up in some roads, but there were no early reports of severe destruction or casualties.

The tremors hit Concepcion, Lebu, Puerto Montt and other cities along the lower Pacific coastline before and right after dawn.

Good Morning!

An old timer is one who remembers when parents dared to make decisions without consulting their children.

For 37 years he was an army officer. He was a lieutenant colonel during World War I. After the Japanese attack at Pearl Harbor, he was a brigadier general in London planning the basic strategy of a European Theatre of Operations, a lieutenant general in command of the Western Allies Invasion in North Africa, and a general and Supreme Commander of the Allied Forces in the most gigantic military assault in history—the Normandy invasion.

In December, 1944, he was made a five-star general of the army. With victory, May 1945, he returned to the United States to serve as Chief of Staff for three years. In 1948, he was President of Columbia University. Two years later, he was back in uniform as Supreme Commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

His national popularity prompted activity in his behalf as a Presidential possibility. Nominated by the Republicans at the convention in 1952, he was elected, receiving almost 34,000,000 votes. Inaugurated the thirty-fourth President of the United States, January 20, 1953. Re-elected 1955. His administration saw the first application, for peaceful use, of atomic energy and the inauguration of exploration into outer space.

Castro Halts Those Trying To Flee Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government yesterday tightened its control over Cubans seeking to flee this troubled island by extending its blacklist of those banned from seeking refuge abroad.

Informed sources said the list now includes many types of professional men needed in Castro's planned economy—engineers, petroleum specialists, all government employes and Cuban executives of the many newly nationalized U. S. and Cuban businesses.

These people now must obtain special permits from their superiors before they are allowed to visit or take up residence abroad. Enforcement of this order has been noticeably strengthened in recent days.

Monday a Cubana Airlines plane bound for Miami with a full load of passengers was delayed at Havana Airport for three hours while officials checked and rechecked all passengers. Six persons, apparently all Cubans, were taken off the plane before it left.

The latest move is to delay the baggage of those flying out of Cuba and forward it on later flights. Officials term it strictly a security precaution.

Some of the nation's best trained and most experienced men already have left the country. Among these are at least 16 top Cuban technicians at the seized Shell Oil refinery. Technicians at the former Esso Standard and Texaco refineries, now operated by the government petroleum monopoly, also have left.

"It's beginning to pinch," said one Cuban professional man.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A drive to expand the U.N. Security Council and the Economic and Social Council was launched yesterday. The Soviet Union quickly served notice it will fight the move unless Red China is seated.

The long-sought increase in the size of the 11-nation Security Council and the 18-nation Economic and Social Council is aimed at giving Asian and African countries better representation. Preliminary debates began in the U.N. Assembly special political committee.

The increase requires two-thirds approval in the 99-nation General Assembly, to be followed by formal ratification by two-thirds of the U.N. members, including the five permanent members of the Security Council. These are the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union, France and China.

Thus, if any of the five countries fails to ratify, the move to expand the councils would be halted.

Walter Hits Hard At Eisenhower

By Tony Cesare
Record Reporter

BROADHEADSVILLE — Congressman Francis E. Walter hit hard at the Eisenhower Administration last night while Rep. Yetter took the local level to task in what he outlined as "setting the record straight."

Rep. Yetter said he was confused by what he was hearing lately of how he voted for a wage tax in General Assembly. "It must have been a bad dream," Yetter declared but he said he checked with the Secretary of House of Representatives in Harrisburg anyway and received this telegram in reply: "... Record reveals no bill was ever ... adorsed or voted upon," the secretary message stated.

"Deliberate Attempt"

Yetter said it was a "deliberate attempt to confuse the issue" in Monroe County.

The two Democratic leaders in the county spoke at the Democratic dinner at West End Fire House before a capacity crowd. Other addresses were delivered by Assistant Atty. General of Pennsylvania George G. Lindsay who delivered the Kennedy-Johnson message to the assembly and Bessie Altemose, who told the group of how the campaign is running in the western end of the county.

Rep. Walter's talk included Congressional the present status of American prestige, the sacred documents of the U.S. Constitution and attacked the present Administration as "do-nothings."

Walter, who in rapid succession asked the question and just as rapidly answered his own query said:

"Have we kept pace with the demands people make on the government?"

"No!," he blurted.

"But we won't delve on great length . . . or spend our time now to justify the do-nothing Administration." But if we had foresight (in previous elections) selves in the situations we have today."

The 15th District Congressman also spoke of how he is aware of the prestige reports and how the country's prestige has been lowered."

He attacked Eisenhower for not making a better showing at the U. N., during the last big meeting there and said that the President should have greeted the heads of state more fashionably. "The same way as they greeted him when he toured their countries," he said.

Walter went on to say that no government official can deviate from the sacred document of the U. S. Constitution. He stated that every official swears allegiance to U. S. document and "swear to support the Constitution of the U. S."

"Any president couldn't disobey these laws and get away with it for five minutes," he said. The separation of church and state are "very, very, plainly described," he reported.

Jokingly, Walter said he knows Nixon (Vice President Nixon) so well that he prefers not to talk about him.

Yetter, during his brief remarks, said the GOP controlled Senate in Harrisburg have rebuked on many bills sponsored by the Democrats.

He illustrated the $55 million school aid bill which would have lowered taxes in many districts but the GOP overruled the act- and you will see things being done. Yetter said in reference to radio broadcasts, he has been hearing lately of how the Democrats haven't done anything for the past six years.

Yetter pointed out the 'Wind Gap Highway,' the constructions in the Stroudsburgs and the new thruways under construction as prime examples.

Rev. John P. Kline, of Pleasant Valley Lutheran Church gave the invocation while the toastmaster was Attorney Kennard Lewis.

Mrs. Kathryn Yetter, Mrs. John P. Kline, Grace Palmer, Democratic Club president of Monroe County; George Hallett, chairman of Monroe Co., Democratic Committee and many others of the organization were introduced.

East Stroudsburg Police Car Question Is Deferred

THE question of a second police car was referred to its police committee last night by East Stroudsburg Borough Council.

The action was taken after Robert W. Irwin, owner and operator of the Penn-Dell Dairy at 665-669 N. Courtland St., presented a strong argument for a second car.

Irwin cited four separate accidents at Eagle Valley Corners since Aug. 27 of this year and a series of burglaries dating from eight years back as evidence of the need for another car.

Irwin suggested that the new car should be a small sedan, unmarked. He charged that most of the persons involved in the accidents at the corner are local persons who know the road conditions and who are reasonably sure that the present police car, which he described as "lighted up like a Christmas tree," is nowhere around.

Irwin said the department's first car was purchased in 1939 when the borough had a two-man police force and that with eight fulltime patrolmen at present, there is ample manpower to staff a second car. He also charged that two men in one car is a waste of manpower.

Irwin said the borough "can well afford to put on a second car."

Burgess Jesse R. S. Flory said he feels a second car would help and added: "There is no question they (meaning speeders and other violators) watch the police car.

In other action, Council:

Deferred until a meeting on Nov. 15 awarding of a contract for collection of garbage, refuse and ashes after receiving bids of $5,745.00 from William J. Halterman and $5,500 from Willie Harper for a six-month period.

Approved Request

Approved a request from residents of E. Brown St. to have a borough-owned copper water line replaced with a six-inch line, if the petitioners agree to pay for it on a front footage basis.

Agreed to move a fire hydrant on Washington St. approximately two to three feet to permit installation of a canopy to be erected for East Stroudsburg National Bank.

Accepted the appointment of David Swink to the shade tree commission by Flory.

Approved $150 additional for operating capital of the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg Control Center. Stroudsburg will contribute an equal amount.

Horn Cites Growth Of Area Resorts

"THE RESORT areas of Monroe County will not grow and prosper if the entire Democratic program is put into the ...ing," Woodrow A. Horn, Republican Candidate for Congress, told a night at a Republican Rally at the Stroudsburg American Legion Home.

"You know," Horn pointed out, "the Democrats and my opponents have consistently ...tered a series of programs that mean additional taxes and inflation of the dollar which must result in less disposable income for leisure activity.

"Federal spending is the wonderful but ... way to pay cost of the Democrat program and you will pay it two ways ... in higher taxes and in the loss of business for this area. Eisenhower years have been good years for you and for the Democrat 'platform promises' at this time will ... nothing but disappointment.

Strunk Is Named To Authority

EAST STROUDSBURG Borough Council last night named Clarence Strunk, chief of Acme Hose Co. No. 1, to the East Stroudsburg Municipal authority, succeeding Fred S. Miller, who resigned after he was appointed operator of the borough's sewage treatment plant.

Burgess Jesse R. S. Flory cast the deciding vote in favor of Strunk after he and George Butts, also nominated for the post, drew a 3-3 councilmanic vote.

The council also named Arthur Troeger to the borough's planning commission. This nominations had no opposition.

Long, Hard Winter Is Seen By Old Farmer's Almanac

By Don Allen
Record Reporter

Stand by for a long, hard Winter.

That's the word from the Old Farmer's 1961 Almanac, now in its 169th continuous year of publication.

Robb Sagendorph of Dublin, N. H., who has edited and published the almanac since 1939, has this to say on the subject:

"The Winter will be colder than last year and slightly colder than average. There will be 52.5 inches of snow, 19.68 inches total precipitation and for these five months (November, December, January, February and March) an average temperature of just under 30 degrees. Look for a cold November, snowy December, very cold January, warm but snowy-struck February and a cold but not too snowy March."

Rainy Summer??

To those who survive the Winter, the almanac offers this outlook for the remainder of the year:

An early Spring and "if there is such a thing, normal or average;" a rainy Summer with no heat records being broken and a Fall which will be warm and "relatively excellent vacation weather."

The weather, of course, is only one of a variety of subjects to which the almanac devotes itself.

There is a listing of eclipses, an outdoor planting table, a schedule of growing seasons and killing frosts, an article on sonic booms, fallout, satellites and the moon, a page devoted to the origin of the names of the days of the week and—so help us—something called a "do it yourself" astrology game.

You can also find bird migration tables, "seasonal recipes," postal laws, word charades, old-fashioned puzzles and laws governing such diverse subjects as hunting, automobiles and marriage.

If you get the idea from the above that the almanac is a compilation of a little bit about a lot of things and not much about anything, you're so right.

And, apparently, that's just the way people like it. How else do you account for the glowing testimonials listed in an accompanying brochure on the almanac?

Can't Argue

For another thing, you can't very well argue with an institution — and if being published for 169 years doesn't make the almanac an institution, it should.

Sagendorph and Co. even managed to corral that urbane man about letters, Ogden Nash, to write a little treatise for them. It's right there at the top of Page 78.

In addition, there is miscellaneous information on such vital issues as "concerning kisses," early bathtubs (We are not making this up as we go along and an 1858 article entitled, "The Red Petticoat Not Getting On?" — which must have been pretty daring stuff in those days.

Around 169 Years

Call it corny if you like — and it has been by many — but a lot of farmers and a lot of other persons in more sophisticated occupations swear by it. And since it has been around for 169 years, it looks as if it's here to stay.

The one '61 car built to back up a long-term warranty

Ford led the way with the one car beautifully built to take care of itself . . . and you

On September 29, Ford Dealers set an industry trend—were first to extend their 1961 car warranty from the conventional 4,000 miles or 3 months to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first.

Why? Because Ford built the one car to support such confidence. Ford for 1961 is the one car beautifully built to take care of itself!

The '61 Ford was designed and built to the more exacting standards necessary to offer an extended warranty. Ask to see this warranty at your dealer's.

It is significant that Ford has so many take-care-of-itself features not found in other cars, regardless of price. These new Ford features are a triumph of exhaustive research, fine engineering, and quality construction that give you the most reliable Ford ever built. Drive a '61 Ford soon.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubricates itself—You'll normally go 12,000 miles between chassis lubrications. Then a quick, inexpensive Ford Dealer lube job (which could come to less) will get you set for another 12,000 miles.

Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Line shoes adjust themselves automatically for the life of the lining.

Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

Record Endorses Veteran Congressman For Reelection

A vote for Congressman Francis E. Walter next Tuesday is the best way the people of the 15th Congressional District can express their appreciation for a job well done during the past 28 years.

Mr. Walter, Democrat, of Easton, is seeking his 15th consecutive two-year term as a member of the U.S. House of Representatives. No other Pennsylvanian has ever served as long in either the House or Senate.

The people of the 15th District (indeed, those of the entire United States) have reason to be proud of the long and faithful service credited to Mr. Walter since he first took office.

The honors paid to him by his colleagues—and others—are mute testimony to everything he has accomplished on behalf of his fellow man over the years. A recital of his accomplishments since entering the House at the start of the Roosevelt Administration in 1933 would read like a book.

Suffice to say, Congressman Walter has risen to a high and honored place among our public servants in Washington.

He is most famous, perhaps, as chairman of the important anti-subversive House Committee on Un-American Activities. Because of his ceaseless efforts in exposing Communists, both in this country and elsewhere, he is best known by the people who hate him most—the Reds.

Congressman Walter is also chairman of the Subcommittee on Immigration, the ranking Democrat on the Judiciary Committee and a member of the Joint Committee on Immigration and Nationality Policy.

The high regard in which he is held within his own party became evident when he was elected chairman of the House Democratic Caucus by a vote of the membership.

The congressman is seventh in seniority among House Democrats and ninth in the entire House, and is the youngest in years of any of the members having great seniority.

His service to this country has carried him abroad on many occasions, among them as the U.S. delegate to the Intergovernmental Committee on European Migration at Geneva where he was elected president by acclaim. His awards include those presented by Japan, The Netherlands and Italy for distinguished service.

Mr. Walter's opponent in the present campaign has charged the congressman with absenteeism during portions of the last (86th) session of Congress.

On the surface, the charge appears to be a valid one. It is not substantiated, however, since it is a matter of public record that Mr. Walter was in Europe and Africa on government business or holding committee hearings in this country during much of the time referred to by his political rival.

It is also a fact, moreover, that Mr. Walter was called upon to preside as speaker of the House when controversial measures came before the membership during the last session. This was by agreement of the leaders of both parties.

His wise counsel and his stature among fellow congressmen resulted in both parties reaching agreement on most points of issue and thus averting deadlocks during the heated debates.

It is a privilege, we feel, to lend our wholehearted editorial support to the candidacy of Congressman Francis E. Walter. We call upon all voters to cast their ballots for him at next Tuesday's election.

Mr. Castro Runs True To Form

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Twisted Words

Colonialism has become a bad word. Liberation has always been a good word. These Western Powers have abandoned colonialism because they do not wish to be smeared by bad words (there are also other reasons, perhaps as pressing).

Soviet Russia calls colonialism liberation when it is associated with Soviet Russia. It is only colonialism when someone else does it. Ergo, Soviet Russia engages in a new kind of colonialism.

Let us take Cuba as an example. Spain practiced colonialism in Cuba. The United States went to war with Spain, occupied Cuba, gave Cuba its independence, in fact, liberated Cuba. So, we are gringos for doing that.

We are colonialists, imperialists, expoiters because we liberated Cuba. Now, Soviet Russia is turning Cuba into a Soviet satellite which is colonialism, but it is called liberation. From whom is Cuba being liberated?

While other countries are revoking their colonial charters and are giving subject peoples their freedom, Soviet Russia has engaged in a new colonialism and so has Red China. Soviet Russia has become a successor to the Hapsburg Dynasty in the Danubian area.

It has conquered and taken the Balkan as well as the Baltic countries. Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Albania, Czechoslovakia, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia and Poland have become colonies (satellites) of Soviet Russia. East Germany has become little more than a province of Soviet Russia.

Mongolia is a hunting ground between Soviet Russia and Red China. And now, the Kremlin is moving into Ghana and Guinea and the Congo in Africa, while Red China has conquered Tibet and is moving into Ladakh, Napal, Assam, and is seeking to operate southward until it reaches the Bay of Bengal. As soon as a country gains its freedom, Soviet Russia attemts to liberate it — that is, to control it.

It is estimated that between 1945 to 1960, 38 nations have won their freedom from Western European colonial powers, where as Soviet Russia has extended its control over more than 25 countries.

A. Nations or areas formally incorporated into Soviet Union: Azerbaijan, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, East Poland, East Prussia, Bessarabia and North ern Bukovina. Sub-Carpathian Ruthenia, Karella, Sakhalin, Tannu Tuva, Kurile Islands.

B. Nations formally maintained as independent but in fact subject to Communist (Soviet and Chinese) colonial rule:

China, Manchuria, North Vietnam, North Korea, Tibet, Outer Mongolia, Poland, East Germany, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Albania.

The Soviet plan is twofold: it conducts a violent agitation for liberation or it supports a local party which seeks liberation. Then it steps in and takes over.

Thus, in Indonesia, where Sukarno believes that he is independent and neutral, he is constantly being forced to move farther to the left and was required to bring with him to the United Nations General Assembly a Communist leader, perhaps because his Communists are so powerful or because he needed a monitor. At any rate, he was afraid of something.

The West has made a grevious error in giving up its colonies, particularly in Africa where in most countries there the people are not ready for self-government and where significant mineral deposits can fall into the hands of Soviet Russia.

The rejection of colonialism by the Western Powers was forced by "the spirit of the times," a trite and meaningless phrase which can be defined as anyone chooses but which never means anything specific.

What happened was that in each Western country many persons, hoping to avert war and to change the world, insisted upon moving helter-skelter into libertarian movements, assuming that others are equally just and upright.

The African leaders do not have sufficient popular support or a long enough tradition to appreciate the values of self-government any more than the various peoples of the vast territory of Soviet Russia know what democracy means, they never having had any experience with its institutions or protocols.

An excellent example of the Russian concept of parliamentary majority rule was Khrushchev banging his shoe on a desk to distract attention from an applauded person in the General Assembly. He has had no experience with fair play to an opposition.

The reason that Soviet Russia moves into the so-called liberated areas is precisely because they are now on their own; they are incapable of self-government; and when the Western European Powers evacuate, a political vacuum is formed which Soviet Russia fills.

Veterans Guide

Q. I understand that recent legislation allowed veterans of the Spanish-American War to change from their older system of pension payments to benefits under the new law, if they wish. Does this new ruling also apply to the dependents of Spanish-American War veterans?

A. No, only to the veterans themselves. The veterans may elect to take pensions under the new law, but their dependents, as well as dependents of deceased Civil War veterans, may not.

Q. I am the widow of a World War II veteran who never applied for a GI loan. I have never remarried. Recently I noticed that the deadline for World War II GI loans had been extended to July 25, 1962. Does that mean my right to apply for a loan was also extended?

Q. I am a World War II veteran drawing disability compensation from the VA, and I also have a GI insurance policy on which I pay monthly premiums. I'd like to have VA use my compensation to pay my insurance premiums. Will they do that?

A. Yes. So long as your disability compensation checks are large enough to cover premiums, VA will arrange with you to have those premiums deducted from your monthly compensation checks. Just write and tell them what you'd like to do. Be sure to give your "C" number and the number of your insurance policy with the letter or letters before it.

The Pennsylvania Story

Minehart Speaks

(Editor's Note — The four candidates for Pennsylvania's two fiscal offices — State Auditor General and State Treasurer — this week are serving as guest columnists for Maxon Dennison. With the completion of this week's guest writings next Tuesday, candidate for statewide office this year — plus the two presidential candidates — at one time or another during the campaign will have had the opportunity of expressing their unabridged views in this newspaper and the nearly 40 other daily newspapers throughout the state in which "The Pennsylvania Story" is syndicated.)

By Thomas Z. Minehart
Democratic Candidate
For Auditor General

Throughout Pennsylvania, in and out of state and local government, the Auditor General is often referred to as the "watchdog" of the State Treasury. It has become a cliche; but like all cliches, the essence of truth is there. By law, only the Auditor General can, in effect, pay the State's bills.

It is worth noting that the Auditor General does not spend the State's money.

The State Legislature does this through appropriations to the various State agencies who, through the accident of performing their mandated responsibilities, expend their allotted funds.

But, neither the State Legislature nor the agencies of state government have been constitutionally endowed with the right to pay their bills.

This duty has been granted the Auditor General and he fulfills this duty through the issuance of warrants to the State Treasurer who, in turn, fulfills his responsibility by writing checks in accordance with the warrants.

These warrants are prepared by the Auditor General upon receipt of proper requisitions and itemized statements from the State department, board or commission, or other agency to whom an appropriation of State money has been made by the State Legislature.

Before the warrant is written, however, it is the duty of the Auditor General to scrutinize the requisition to determine both its accuracy and its legality.

A legal background is important to the proper fulfillment of these duties, insofar as the expenditures of State money is concerned.

There is the other side of the coin, however, and it is equally important. For the Auditor General must also audit and inspect the accounts of all moneys owed to the Commonwealth.

The significance of this responsibility is sometimes lost in the avalanche of news releases proclaiming the present Auditor General's intrepidity in protecting the taxpayers' interest by watching the outgo.

It seems to me that to protect the taxpayers' interest by carefully scrutinizing the reports of tax returns of those persons, associations or corporations who owe money to the Commonwealth is a corollary responsibility of this State office of which we hear little.

To me, the taxpayers' interests can best be protected by the Auditor General if that man has legal training and background.

My legal career lends itself to this need. In the maze of legal technicalities which inevitably arise in a complex agency of State government serving all other agencies of State government, a mind trained to search out fact and act in the letter as well as the spirit of the law is essential to good administration.

There is another factor which may justifiably be mentioned when a candidate for public office is appealing to the people — which is apart from the duties of the office he seeks. It is his philosophy of government—the meaning for which he understands public service to hold for the people.

My philosophy of government is the Democratic one. I believe that government exists to serve the people, but not to impose its will upon the people. I believe that government should be imaginative and act positively. I think it is wrong for servants of government to willfully obstruct the progress of the people's business for partisanship or for private advantage.

My family has long been identified with politics and government service. Two of my uncles from Franklin County served in the State Legislature. My father and, later, I served on Philadelphia City Council. I was the sole candidate elected on a reform ticket during the Republican domination of that city, the same Republican rule which was later turned out by the people after a series of scandals and corruption.

If granted the privilege, I will serve the people of this Commonwealth with honor and to the best of my ability.

Off The Record

By Robert Clark, City Editor

Probably one of the best humorous stories about the coming election came from the lips of Monroe's District Attorney James Marsh.

Last week Marsh decided to take a poll of the number of stickers on cars for the different candidates. His findings: Vice President Richard Nixon, 97 stickers; Senator John F. Kennedy, 86; and the Wild Animal Farm, 112.

This means that either a bear, kangaroo or elk will be the next president and that the Cabinet will be made of every other animal from high atop Foxtown Hill.

Well, at least the government will be in the hands of Monroe County "personnel."

Mrs. Mabelle G. Creen is the 13th postmaster to serve the Mountainhome Post Office. Daniel Staples was the first to head the mails when the setup was situated at White's Tannery, 1858.

Other postmasters who served the area which dedicated a new post office building last Saturday were George Shafer, to 1861; Jeremiah Kresge, 1870; Jerome Frantz, 1875; Charles Decker, 1883; Martin B. Rinehart, 1893; Garrison Shafer, 1895; Madge Sarbaugh, 1915; Madge Shotwell, 1918; John J. Sarbaugh, 1923; Rapha C. Seig, 1929; and Charles Kingsley, 1934.

White's Tannery was changed to Mountain Home in 1870 and in 1895 was changed to one word—Mountainhome.

Mrs. Creen took over her present post June 18, 1934.

Harold Kreck, of Barrett Twp., did a magnificent job as master of ceremonies at the dedication of the new Mountainhome Post Office over the weekend.

Harold, one of Barrett's chief bosters verbally and physically ran the program off in clocklike fashion and gave the assembled quick and to the point remarks about each individual on the rostrum.

Issues In Campaign—V

Split On Health Care

By Congressional Quarterly

The basic issue on medical care for the aged in 1960 is whether to tackle the problem through compulsory national insurance under the Social Security system, as advocated by the Democrats, or through a federal-grant program that is dependent on state actions, as advocated by the Republicans.

The essential objective of both programs is to spread the costs among the younger working population through governmental action. Both sides concede that private insurance companies can not do the job on their own because of built-in cost factors in insuring the aged.

Kennedy Position

The approach supported by Democratic Presidential nominee John F. Kennedy calls for uniform nationwide health benefits for aged Social Security recipients, financed by a small increase in the Social Security payroll tax. The plan, strongly backed by the AFL|CIO, was defeated in the Senate Aug. 23, 44-51 (43-19; R 1-32). The fight against it was led by the American Medical Assn.

Democrats, who took the initiative in aged health care legislation in the 1959-60 Congress, claim that their program would work while the Republican plan would not, since the GOP plan hinges on implementation by the states. Democrats say there is little evidence that the states are in a position to act. On the other hand, they point out, at least 30 state governors, including New York Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller, have gone on record in favor of the Social Security approach.

Kennedy says his party's program is "based soundly on the pay-as-you-go insurance principles of the Social Security system" and would "enable our older citizens to receive help without making them take a pauper's oath."

During a swing through Buffalo in September, Kennedy described the Republican counterproposal as one which "will cost the American taxpayer over a billion dollars a year, is impossible to administer, which will not even be put into effect in many of our states, which has been rejected by the Governor of New York, and which will fail to bring relief where it does go into effect."

Answering GOP complaints that the Social Security plan is "compulsory," Democrats say the general taxes required to finance the Republican plan would be equally compulsory. To charges that the Social Security approach would allow benefits to wealthy beneficiaries who did not need them, Democrats say the only alternative, a "needs test," would be less desirable.

To complaints that the plan would not cover the aged who are not on Social Security, Democrats point out that many of these persons are covered by other government retirement programs, and the remainder could be covered by a "medically needy" program passed by the Senate in August. And to charges that the Social Security plan would blunt private insurance efforts, the Democrats counter that it would actually free the insurance companies from the high risks of the aged so that they could do a better job in other categories.

Nixon Position

The aged health care proposal supported by Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon calls for payments directly out of the treasury to assist states which decided to implement the Nixon program. The plan was defeated in the Senate, the same day the Kennedy plan was beaten but by a heavier margin, 28-67 (D 0-62; R 28-5).

The Nixon plan calls for a fixed range of benefits in states for some flexibility within that range. Participating states would be required to offer benefits to aged persons with incomes of $3,000 or less annually ($4,500 for a couple). Those who paid an enrollment fee would be entitled to specified government paid benefits. Others would be entitled to government subsidies of up to $60 annually to help them pay premiums of private insurance.

Although the Eisenhower Administration opposed the Social Security health care approach during House hearings of the Democratic "Forand bill" in 1959, it was nearly a year before the GOP presented its own program. The main Republican objections to the Social Security approach were that (1) it could "blank out" private commercial insurance efforts for the aged, (2) it would be "compulsory," and (3) it could be a step toward "socialized" national health care.

Nixon, in the first of the "great debates" Sept. 30, said the alternate health and other welfare proposals he was supporting were "not extreme" and "will accomplish and end without too great cost in dollars or in freedom." Nixon said he was convinced his proposals "could get through the next Congress."

Nixon Oct. 6 in Cleveland said his plan "would do a better job of meeting the costs of either short-term or long-term illnesses," would be "voluntary," would be operated "not by the Federal Government but by the states, with federal support" and "would build on and not destroy the encouraging progress being made by private health insurance." He said the Kennedy program would not help three million aged persons who were not on Social Security, but "would help the wealthy who have absolutely no need of it."

Nixon said that it was his "conviction" that "the American people don't want, and I don't believe that they will allow, anyone to an compulsory insurance down their throats."

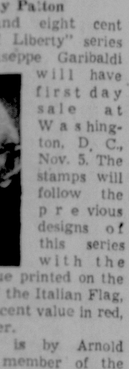
Inside You And Yours

Dear Doctor

By Burton H. Fern, M. D.

Dear Doctor: I have terrible heartburn and gas pains, but x-rays showed nothing unusual.



I bought tablets containing calcium carbonate, magnesium trisilicate, glycerine and magnesium superoxol and take two every night. They give complete relief.

Should I keep taking them?

Mrs. L. F.

Dear Mrs. F.: If your doctor says so. The tablets can't harm you unless they cloud the real problem.

Pain is a useful alarm. You don't want to be like the fireman who couldn't stand the clanging alarm, disconnected it and missed the fire.

Sometimes this gas erupts from a blown-up emotional problem. Carrying the torch for an old flame has fired up many a heartburn in the younger set.

Dear Doctor: Is there a complete cure for albumen in the urine?

My six-year-old daughter has had it for two years, but the doctor won't give her any medication.

Mrs. H. P.

How It Happens

Dear Mrs. P.: The kidneys form urine by straining blood, usually holding back all proteins. But enough force on the strainer can open the mesh and let smaller proteins (albumen) through.

Sometimes albumen pours through only when standing or sitting, especially if the lower part of the spine shows a deep forward curve. It seems like gravity is pushing albumen through the strainer, because the condition clears when lying flat.

This is only one of many normal causes for albumen in the urine, which do no harm and need no treatment.

Ask your doctor what he thinks!

Celery Itch

Dear Doctor: Can you catch poison ivy from celery?

My boy friend, who works picking celery, has a rash that looks just like poison ivy but the doctor calls it celery itch.

Miss S. A.

Dear Miss A.: Celery can cause a rash just like bad poison ivy. Perhaps the itching blisters come from the plant-oil, chemicals sprayed on the celery, or celery-attacking fungus.

Celery rash clears up just like poison ivy.

Dear Doctor: My mother, grandmother and aunt all had Huntington's chorea. Some say it is inherited only by women.

Is this true? Can you prevent it?

Mrs. G. J.

Both Sexes

Dear Mrs. J.: Both men and women inherit Huntington's St. Vitus Dance.

Everyone inherits two traits, one from mother and one from father. You need only one, labeled Huntington, for admission to this St. Vitus Dance.

Perhaps your mother had only one; then she could have passed the normal tendency on to you. You won't know until you're much older, because the ailment often strikes late in life.

If you have the trait, half your children may inherit it. If you have no children, none will inherit it.

From The Realm Of Stamps

By Ray Palton

The four and eight cent "Champion of Liberty" series honoring Giuseppe Garibaldi will have first day sale at Washington, D. C., Nov. 5. The stamps will follow the previous designs of this series with the four cent value printed on the green color of the Italian Flag, and the eight cent value in red, blue and ocher.

The design is by Arnold Copeland, a member of the Citizens Stamp Advisory Committee. Giuseppi Garibaldi, Italian patriot, liberator and guerrilla leader was born in 1802. He became a sailor and when he was 23 was master of a ship. His espousal of the Italian National Movement forced his flight into exile several times.

While in exile in South America he fought for the liberation of Uruguay and then returned to Italy in the defense of Rome against the French. After the French withdrew from Rome it paved the way to the final unification of Italy. Garibaldi died in 1882 at Caprera.

No date or city of issue has as yet been set for the four cent Dulles Memorial Stamp but it still is due sometime after Nov. 15. The four cent Lincoln "Credo" will have first day sale at New York Nov. 19 in conjunction with the National ASDS show at the 71st Infantry Armory.

Stamp Club News

The Monroe Stamp Club will meet tonight at 8 at 36 Club Court, Stroudsburg. This meeting will feature a "Foreign Mixture." For the meeting on Nov. 16, which will be during National Stamp Collecting Week, the club will have two sound films, "St. Lawrence Seaway" and the new "Automated Post Office." Visitors are welcome.

Display The Flag

Dear Mr. Editor:

This is just a little note on our flag. Veterans Day is just a few days away—it seems we have forgotten.

When our boys came home we had lots of flags out; they were in windows and the streets. It seems we were proud of our boys. But now it looks like we have forgotten.

There were very few flags when we honored boys who passed away, on Memorial Day.

So please if you have a flag put it out so when our boys pass your home they will know you are thanking them for what they have done for us. We should be very proud to have a flag like ours.

MURIEL HUGHES
551 Main St.,
Stroudsburg, Pa.

The Flag

A bit of cloth, you tell me,
Is all it means to you.
A piece of streaming textile,
In Red, White and Blue.
But, oh! that banner waving,
So high and gay and free,
In God's clear air and sunlight,
Means more than that to me.
My heart is in those colors,
Their ripples thrill my soul,
They lead a happy people,
To some God-given goal.

New Social Security Benefit Checks On Way

TOMORROW, Stroudsburg area and people across the nation will receive social security benefit checks, made possible for the first time by the 1960 amendments to the social security law.

Receiving checks for the first time will be working people and their dependents (and also some survivors of workers who have died) and have become eligible for benefits because of a provision reducing the amount of social security credit needed.

The amount for work required to qualify for benefits has been reduced by about one-third, Harry R. Peterman, district manager of the Easton social security office said.

Also Receiving

Also receiving benefits for the first time will be widows whose husbands died before 1940. Before the changes in the law enacted in September, no benefits were payable to the survivors of any person dying before 1940.

Now, benefits may be paid to the qualified survivors of such persons if the worker, at the time of his or her death, had credit for at least a year and a half of work under social security.

Persons who believe they qualify for benefits under the amended law may still apply and receive benefits beginning with the month of October. Additional information about this can be obtained from the local social security office.

Very Small Change Noted In Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American economist recently returned from Russia reports there has been only a relatively small improvement in living standards there.

The economist is Dr. Floyd A. Bond, now with the private Committee for Economic Development and soon to become dean of the School of Business Administration at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Bond's views appeared in the weekly magazine U.S. News & World Report, in a copyrighted interview.

He said the rate of improvement in Soviet living standards "is disappointing, particularly in light of the glowing reports on the Soviet's high rate of economic growth."

"If the criterion is physical production, I would say the Soviet economy is working quite well, even though productivity is far below our own," Bond said.

"If the criterion is consumer well-being, then I'd say it is working quite badly, even though consumers are better off now than under Stalin."

Falcons Set For Parade

THE Falcon Drum and Bugle Corps, of American Legion Post, East Stroudsburg, will convene in front of the Ramsey School at 6 p.m. tonight, to participate in the Halloween parade.

The Corps is also slated to take part in the annual Halloween parade in Nazareth at 7:30 p.m., on Thursday night. All corps members are requested to meet at the Legion home at 5 p.m., so the corps can leave in convoy.

Any members unable to leave at this time, are asked to depart for the parade as soon as it is possible. A special effort should be made to arrive at the site prior to the 7:30 starting time, a spokesman reported.

Freedom, Honesty Is Reflected Here

HERE'S a lesson in home design. It applies to all who are considering building or buying a new home - whether it is luxurious colonial or a vacation home such as H-421.

Warmth and distinction need not be sacrificed to simplicity and economy.

Although this week's featured home has only three rooms and a bath, its design reflects unusual freedom and honesty. Here's why:

Extensive glass areas relieve the block pattern and opens up the interior. The living room's modest size borrows from the outside with a floor-to-ceiling window wall in the front and a contoured glass wall overlooking the side patio.

The designer, however, does not stop here. A second contoured glass wall compliments the bedroom. To obtain maximum benefit from this feature, a six foot folding door is the dividing partition between the two rooms.

It is agreed among kitchen designers that properly handled, a "U" shaped kitchen is preferable from the standpoint of step-saving efficiency and a maximum of cupboard and counter space.

This kitchen is a "U" and is handled properly. Not only is there room for a two compartment sink but a snack bar as well.

Positioning of the laundry equipment at the opposite end of this area emphasies the theme of a place for everything and everything in its place.

Economic heating unit is centrally located and shut off by a folding door.

Exterior vertical boards give an illusion of height with the brick planter adding a look of sturdiness as well as beauty to the structure. Board fence screens living center from view.

This plan conforms to general FHA, VA and Building Code requirements. Included with this plan you receive Specification Guide, Material List, and Conversion Detail Sheet. Your builder or material supplier can give you the average cost per square or cubic foot in your area. Complete Building Plan, including Detail Sheet, Material List, and Specification Guide for Des. No H-421 may be purchased for $9.75 for first set; 2 for $18.25; 3 for $26.25; or 4 for $33.75. You may also purchase The Daily Record Plan Book showing 71 designs for 75 cents postpaid. On The House

FROM various sources come these bits of information of interest to the home owner:

With a few exceptions, bedrooms in English homes have no closets. That's because the English use wardrobes as a standard part of bedroom furniture. Herman H. York made this and other interesting observations in discussing his assignment earlier this year as supervising architect of the American-style home exhibited during England's 50th "Ideal Home Exposition" in London. He also noted that American central heating is considered desirable, but the English will buy houses without it; the interior planning of English homes is much less open than in modern American homes, because the English prefer compartmented houses; and most Englishmen think Americans spend too much money unnecessarily on bathroom and kitchen equipment.

For those confused by the different numbers given to fuel oils, here's a breakdown, furnished by the National Fuel Oil Council. Fuel oil No. 2 leads the list both in production and consumption and is the main home heating oil used in the major types of home heating equipment, in hot water heaters and for similar domestic uses. Kerosene, a widely known product, which has no number, is ordinarily used for heating in space-type heaters, in cooking stoves and lamps.

Fuel oil No. 1 is a similar type of distillate oil, consumed in pot-type burners, space heaters and in some special furnaces.

Fuel oil No. 4 is a heavier type of oil used in large heating units, but which does not require pre-heating before vaporizing in a burner. Fuel oils 5 and 6 are even heavier residual types of oil, are used in large heaters and require pre-heating. Fuel No. 3 is no longer made.

Painting authorities say that about 90 percent of paint blistering on the exterior of a house is caused by water vapor created inside the house from showering, cooking, mopping, washing, etc. Very little of this trouble occurs during the months when the windows are open.

Heat beater blades of an electric mixer in hot water a few minutes before attempting to mix cold shortening with your mixer.

When pan broiling meat, you need only to add enough fat to coat the skillet and keep the meat from sticking.

Apply a coat of paste wax to the underside of a rubber sink mat to prevent it from sticking to the drainboard.

Modernize Home With Mobile Light

By Vivian Brown
AP Newsfeatures Writer

IT TAKES the American housewife a good while to adopt some of the newer features in the home. She fears the expense and she usually must sell her husband on the idea she can make a radical departure from customary home decorating.

So it goes with mobile light fixtures which make a lot of sense in today's small homes and large families. The units give rooms a sleek, modern look, increasing the living space by eliminating floor clutter.

There is an opportunity to use mobile light fixtures wherever there is a table, chair or bed in the home. If a ceiling outlet isn't available, there are two solutions. Your electrician can add an outlet, sometimes involving a small amount of plastering or decorating. Or you may use a fixture that plugs into a wall outlet near the floor.

Where is the best place in the room for a mobile light fixture?

The American Home Lighting Institute offers this room-by-room guide:

Living Room: Pull-down fixtures are good at the sides of a sofa, and even over end tables, if you have them. The fixtures may be raised to general illumination for reading or sewing.

A low corner table may look very dramatic with a pull-down fixture over it. Pull it down low over a planter or figurine on the table for an unusual effect.

If there is a roving game table in the living room, you may want to use a pull down fixture on a track so that when the table is moved, you may pull the fixture along to follow it. The fixture can be moved up and out of the way when the table is moved back against the wall.

Dining Room and Kitchen: Tables in both of these rooms can appear in a variety of moods by raising or lowering the pull-down fixture mounted above. The lower the fixture, the more intimate the lighting. If there is a buffet table that is used a good deal, a pull-down fixture on a track will be handy to highlight a particular area of the table.

Bedrooms: Pull-down fixtures over night stands provide good reading light and add to room beauty. In children's rooms, a pull-down fixture over the head of the bed is a good idea. A light over a table in the corner separating two beds, L-fashion, may provide all the illumination that is needed in that area.

Sewing Or Study Room: In a room with a desk or sewing center, you'll find work goes faster if you have a pull-down fixture on a track. Let the fixture hang high in the center of the room. When you use the desk or sewing machine, just pull the fixture down and over to the spot where you need the light over your work.

Heres' The Answer

QUESTION: I want to apply liquid wood preservative to some fence posts I will be placing in the ground. Should the preservative be applied with a brush?

ANSWER: Generally, the preservative can be applied with a brush. However, it is essential that the portion of the posts below ground be treated more intensively than that which will be above ground. One way to do this is to fill a galvanized steel pail about half full of the preservative. Place the lower portion of the post in the pail for a minute or two. The upper portion, which projects above the liquid, can then be coated with a brush. After the treated post has been removed from the pail, place it on some old newspapers so that the drippings do not damage the floor or lawn.

QUESTION: In applying putty when replacing a broken window pane, should the putty be painted or left as is?

ANSWER: Putty will last longer if it is painted. However, allow the putty about 24 hours' drying time before putting on the paint. Also, the channel into which the putty is placed should be painted or brushed with linseed oil before application of the putty.

Bring Pleasure To Everyone With This Decoration

PLACE THESE whimsical snowmen in front of your home and note how much pleasure they bring to everyone. This colorful Christmas Decoration measures 40 inches high and can be cut from inexpensive panelboard which costs about 10 cents a square foot.

The panelboard required costs approximately $1.25. By following the full-size pattern, you can cut out and decorate these figures with professional results assured. Since you trace through the patterns, each color can be painted in its exact position.

An ordinary coping, jig or compass saw is the only tool needed to cut out the figures. While the largest snowman measures 40" high, it can be made higher by extending the body. If you want one figure to represent each child in your family, cut out additional snowmen to size corresponding to the child's height.

Another personal touch is to name each figure after a member of the family. Still another idea is to cut out the faces and insert a photograph blow-up of each member of the family.

To insure capturing the nappy facial expressions of the snowmen, full-size decorating outlines are printed directly on pattern. The face and body lines are traced directly on the panelboard. Each color is then painted in its respective position. Nothing is left to guesswork.

No artistic ability is needed to decorate with professional touch. After Christmas make a New Year Greeting and fasten it over the original Christmas message.

Send 50 cents in coin or money order (no stamps please) for Pattern No. 331; send 35 cents additional for 64 page catalog illustrating over 300 other Build It Yourself projects to The Daily Record, P. O. Box 215, Pleasantville, New York.

Dear Abby

Take Your Choice

Dear Abby: The tradition of stopping the clocks when someone died stems from an old Irish superstition. It was said that if the "devil" could hear a sound in that house, he would return to claim another spirit. They also turned all the mirrors to the wall so they wouldn't get dark and smoky. Then they went out to the beehive (if they had one) and whispered the news of the death to the bees, lest they leave the hive. Don't ask me why they did all this. I just know they did.

FROM IRELAND

Dear Abby: According to my grandmother, who is 92, only one clock was stopped in the house when a person died. The reason being that when the coroner came around to write up the death certificate there would be no question as to the exact time of the death. There was no superstition to it.

MONICA

Dear Abby: The custom of stopping the clocks when a person died originated in Scotland in the 17th century. In those days all clocks were the loud ticking type, and out of respect for the deceased, they kept complete silence.

M. Mc. T.

Dear Abby: Stopping the clock at the moment of death is an old Jewish practice. It is symbolic that "time" has run out for that person and, therefore, in his honor, everything "stands still" until he is laid to his eternal rest.

HAD JEWISH NEIGHBORS

Dear Abby: Where do people get the idea that stopping the clock when someone dies is an "old superstition?"

It is still done today and the reason is a good one. When friends make condolence calls, they don't have to ask, "What time did he pass away?" They can just look at the clock.

"DOC"

Dear Abby: When I was a little girl, I recall seeing my mother stop the big grandfather clock that stood in our hallway. I asked her why she was stopping the clock and she told me my brother had died, and there should be no chimes or bells in a house of mourning. She was Hungarian-born, so I imagine this was an old Hungarian custom.

OVER EIGHTY

Dear Abby: If you find out why they stopped the clocks when a person died, please print it. And while you are investigating this superstition, also find out why they throw out all the water that happens to be in the vases at the time of death, and why they cover up all the mirrors and pictures.

CURIOUS

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers all letters.

Trooper's Condition Is 'Satisfactory'

NEW BLOOMFIED, Pa. (AP) —A young sailor accused of killing his wife in Maryland is due to be taken to that state Wednesday or Thursday, Perry County authorities said yesterday.

The serviceman, Donald R. Riefer, 24, of Rochester, N. Y., also has been charged with assault with intent to kill for wounding Pennsylvania state trooper Stanley J. Jezewski, 22, of Nanticoke, Friday night.

Jezewski, in satisfactory condition at Harrisburg Polyclinic Hospital, was shot six times when he stopped Riefer for speeding near Limerpool in Perry County. Riefer sped away from the scene and was arrested 90 minutes later near Williamsport.

When caught, police said he admitted killing his wife Geraldine, in their Port Deposit home. Maryland police, checking his story, found the woman's body.

Riefer, who was stationed at the Bainbridge Naval Station, was arraigned on the Pennsylvania charge and was held on $5,000 bail.

Perry County Sheriff Lester Fuller said the defendant probably will be transferred to Maryland in three or four days to face the murder charge.

Riefer shot his wife during a domestic quarrel. When he was arrested, his two sons, Donald, 5, and Daniel, 3, were in the car. A child welfare agency in Williamsport is caring for them.

Manufacturers Hike Spending

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —The Federal Reserve Bank reports that manufacturers in the Philadelphia area will spend a record $412 million this year on new plants and equipment.

The previous high was $391 million in 1957.

The bank said a survey of manufacturers indicates spending next year will drop 20 per cent to $330 million. It added, however, that forecasts for 1962 show no further drop.

Two-thirds of the manufactures answering the poll said spending in 1962 will equal 1961. The remaining third said spending in 1962 will exceed 1961.

August 'Ruled' Baby Month

There were an estimated 399,000 live births registered during August, 4.5 per cent more than the 382,000 in August 1959.

"50th Year Selling Quality Furniture for Less"

Just Between Us — —

That was truly a terrific fashion show put on at the Manor last night. I might have been at the Couture Group showings in New York from the professional touches to the show: the commentator, the printed programs and the clothes themselves.

The models weren't quite as emaciated as the New York variety, we'll have to admit, but for that very reason the guests could tell how the styles would look on them—well, the ones who are sticking to their diets, anyway.

And I got a little homesick for Italy at all the Italian imports shown—not quite as radical as the avant garde numbers I saw at the Alta Mode showings but beautiful knits handled in an unusual manner.

However, looking around the crowd, I couldn't have been anywhere but Monroe County: they were there from Bushkill and Barrett, and Pocono and Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg, from every club and clique, and both political parties.

Incidentally, the crowd was pretty fashionable, too, I must say, and exhibited some fashion trends themselves, including those big pins Lenore Benson was talking about.

The only fault I could find with the party was that I had to leave it when everybody else was settling down to cards or to hashing over the fashions and deciding which ones they could wear best.

Holiday Fashions Score With 450 Guests At BPWC Party At Manor

The forecast of holiday fashions presented last night at Pocono Manor Inn under the auspieces of the Business and Professional Woman's Club lived up to its title "Viva Elegance" with more than a touch of "Alta Mode," too.

The 63 brand new fashions, presented by Zacher's, East Stroudsburg and commented by Lenore Benson, merchandise editor of Madamoiselle magazine, more than 450 guests from all sections of the county applauded the touches of Parision design, the imported fabrics from Italy, and the all-America... wearability of the styles.

Printed programs carrying descriptions of each number added a further professional touch to an already professional production, which included sportswear, daytime dresses and — the largest group of all — the after 5 fashions for the holiday.

There was more than a hint of coming fashions for Spring, too in many of the clothes: heightened, whitened colors, a relaxing of the sheath silhouette often marked by soft sashes of leather, fuller skirts, cropped jackets, and emphasis on skirts, under simple, almost severe bodices.

Among the colors, gold, beige, and a sort of whipped cream white called candlelight in interest with the lilac shades: rosewood lilac, and grape. Other high colors were brilliant turquoise, a flame orange, and royal blue.

Leather appeared in many of the sports ensembles in which car coats were teamed with coordinated skirts, blouses and sweaters.

In the daytime dresses, big news came in the knit suits of Italian import, and in the costume look of jerkin or jacket and dress. In this group, the necklines were simple, collarless and often set away from the neck as a background for accessories. Miss Benson forecast that the big important pin was the big news in the jewelry items for late Winter and Spring.

The After 5 fashions included long-sleeved dresses made important: through fabrics like velvet and satin or wool and moire combinations, or silk alpaca and through interesting neckline treatment or unusual peplums, poufs or tunics.

Cocktail dresses included brocades, red chiffons, or gold lame, and the closing ball gowns featured sequin bodices or crystal bead trim made dramatic through color and fabric.

Modeling in the show were many of the BPW members themselves including the president Betty Clark: Ann George, Mary Hunsicker, Sara Kresge, and Joyce Rutt, with Betty McClelland and Doris Shinn — and modeling the men's fashions John Butz.

Ann George was chairman of the successful affair, with the proceeds to be used for the club's welfare projects. Evelyn Hastie was chairman of the ticket committee which included Edna Brockman, Ann George, Hazel Kaniper, Rose Kennedy, Hilda Kitzman, Dolores Lesoine, Betty Peckman, Betty Peterson, Ruth Rinehart and Dorothy Storms. Aura Miller was in charge of publicity.

Diane Flagler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Flagler, provided the music for the show with shoes by George's Smart Footwear, hair stylings by Gladys Rundle, make-up by Millie Everitt; and transportation by Kelpers.

A card party followed the fashion show.

The Wyckoff Shopper
"the friendly store" A.B. Wyckoff Stroudsburg, Pa.

THE MAIL ARRIVES—

Dear Wyckoff Shopper,

When talking about gifts for children you said "Blueberry Hound." I have a five year old who looks at TV, and it's Huckleberry Hound. Just thought I would mention it. Huckleberry, blueberry—no difference really.

Mrs. Omar Michaels, Jr.

Dear Mrs. Michaels,

Thank you for listening and thank you for calling my error to mind. I guess I was depending too much upon my memory, for I usually work without notes. As you say, there isn't much difference between huckleberry and blueberry . . . in PIE, at least. I like' em both, and am happy I went no farther astray than I did. I like gooseberries and raspberries too, so that bubble bath hound might have been called just about anything, depending upon where my mind was wandering. I can see I'll have to either take a memory course, make notes about our merchandise, or adopt a five year old. The latter might be too expensive. Anyway, write again . . . or better still, stop by someday and we'll share a dish of STRAWBERRY ice cream!

Sincerely,
Madalyn Maloney

Another letter signed "essie":

Dear Shopper,

I listen to you on the radio. Your programs are best when you "get on your soap box." Why don't you get up there about election, and give us your views on bigotry?"

Yours truly, essie

Dear "essie,"

There are several reasons why I don't, and one is that the Wyckoff store, which sponsors our program, does not endorse any political party or candidate, and I would likewise not wish to do so. There is one thing I am for, and so is the store—the United States of America. My personal feeling is that God probably admires much for which our nation stands, and will not let us go too far astray in the selection of a President. I personally hope to vote intelligently, and have listened to both candidates regularly and weighed the issues. I have tried to decide in my own mind whether their promises are sound, or whether they would eventually cost our nation more than they would give. My mind is made up . . . I have no desire to force my opinions upon anyone, and can only wish everyone felt likewise.

As for bigotry, I think most people are, to an extent, biased beyond reason on certain subjects. Bigotry, however, is a two-edged sword, and I deplore it. It annoys me when I see it in others. I am ashamed when I find it in myself. Beyond this, I wouldn't make a statement. In any case, thank you for listening and for writing. Keep listening, keep writing, and when you are in the store, drop by.

Best wishes,
Madalyn Maloney

My sincere thanks also to Mrs. Helen Hess for the pretty card, and to the members of the Portland Woman's Club for their letter about our recent fashion show and Wyckoff Shopper column. I love mail the way some gals love males.

Reject Request For Dismissal

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— The district attorney's office and the State Justice Department have asked that charges be dismissed against Miss Norma Jean Scott, 21, a witness in a vote fraud case.

However, the request was disregarded and she was held on $500 bail by Magistrate Thomas A Marotta yesterday.

She testified Thursday against John Whitehead, 35, a Democratic committeeman. Whitehead, she said, paid her to vote five times in last November's election. As a result of her testimony, Whitehead brought counter charges against her.

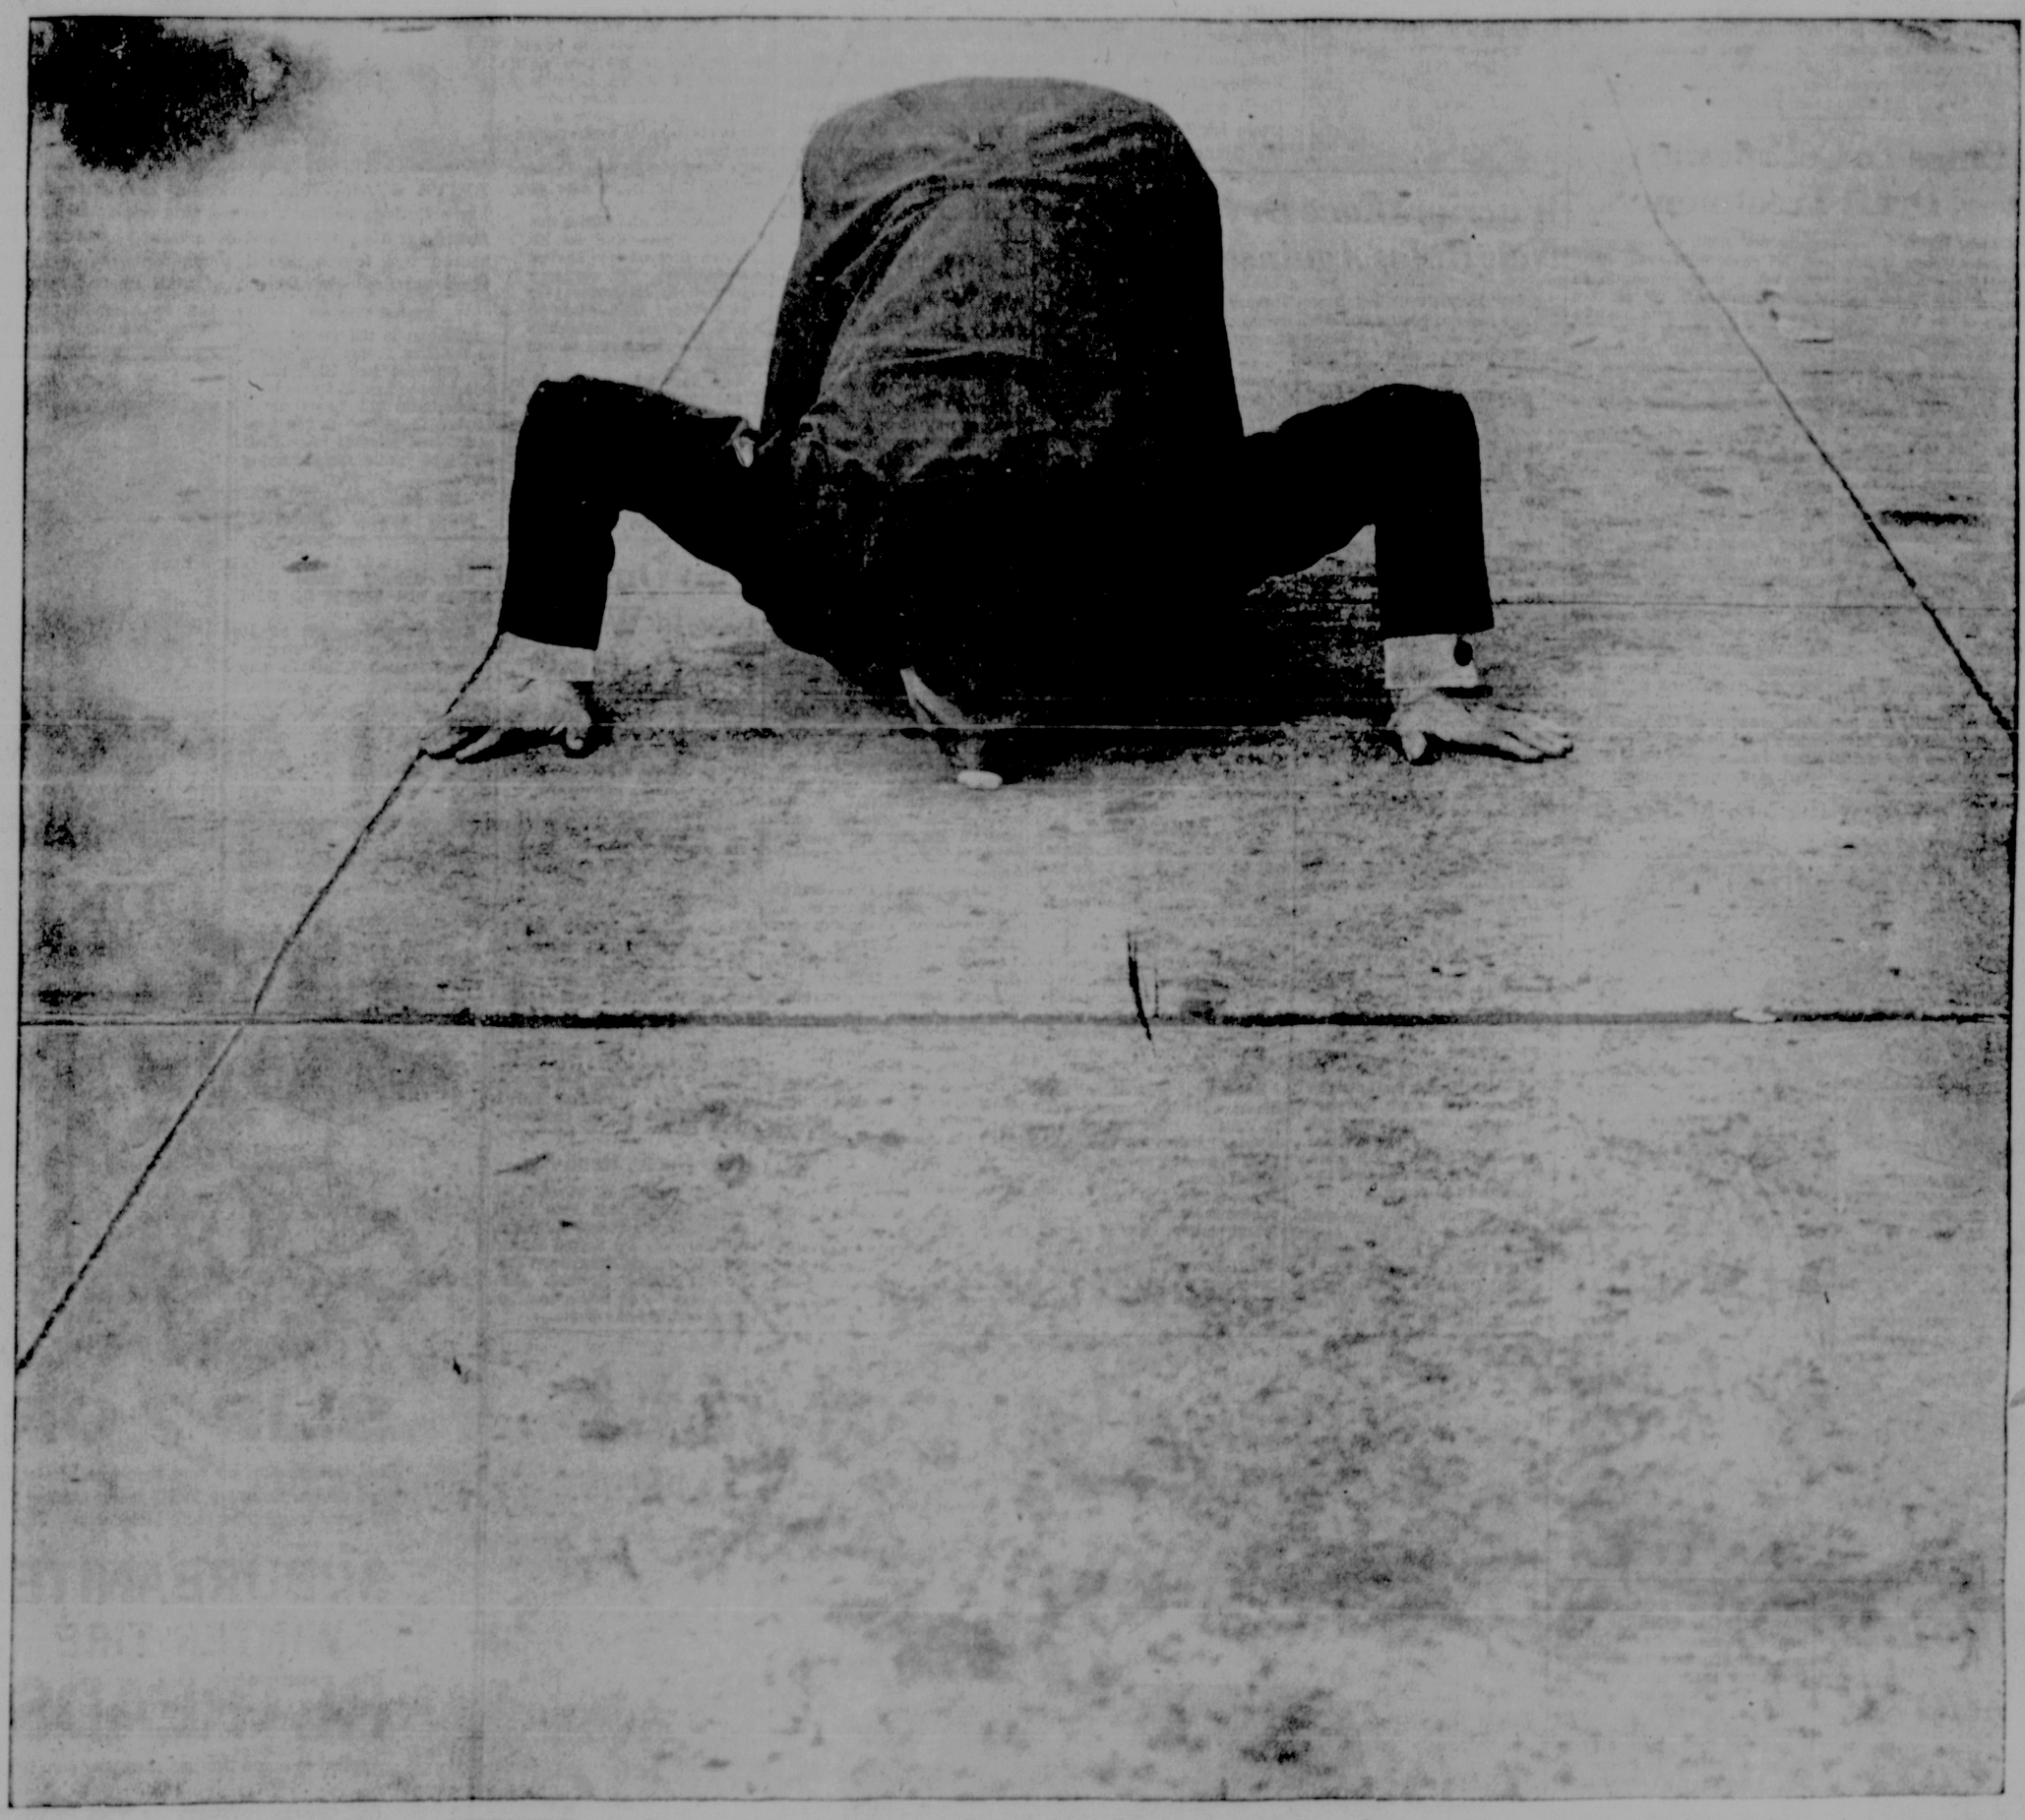
WHAT STARTS THINGS ROLLING RIGHT AFTER ELECTION?



The election returns, of course. But who totes up these results so you have them scant hours after the polls close? Not the government. (Government returns won't be certified for weeks.) The count is made by almost 10,000 daily and weekly newspapers working hand in hand with Associated Press and United Press International. On election night, tens of thousands of newsmen pick up vote totals at precinct level, feed them up the line to local, state and national headquarters. Computers translate the numbers into hard election facts: who won, who lost. (Generally, the press wire services handle state and national counts; your local newspapers, city and county contests.) Vote counting is only one key role newspapers play in a free election. Newspapers bring you coverage—in unmatched depth—of conventions and campaigns. Newspapers bring you candidates' words in a form you can go back to for checking and rechecking. On editorial pages, newspapers express opinions, explore issues, help you weigh platforms and promises—help you make a well-informed choice. At election time—and all the time—you can bet on newspapers. And never lose.

The Daily Record

Missouri Second

Iowa First But Must Get Past Minnesota

By The Associated Press

IOWA'S rating as the No. 1 college football team of the nation will be challenged Saturday at Minneapolis when it meets the strong Minnesota team which is ranked No. 3 in the weekly Associated Press poll of a 48-man panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

The Iowa team, which has rolled over Oregon State, Northwestern, Michigan State, Wisconsin, Purdue and Kansas for six straight victories, was a near-unanimous choice in this week's poll. The Hawkeyes received 46 first place ballots as compared to one each for Minnesota and Washington.

Minnesota also takes impressive credentials into this vital clash for the Big Ten lead. The Gophers have won six in a row in their march past Nebraska, Indiana, Northwestern Illinois, Michigan and Kansas State.

In six games, Iowa has scored more points (161 to 154) but Minnesota has given up fewer to the opposition (31 to 69).

Missouri Second

Missouri, winner of seven straight and ranked No. 2 in the latest poll, also faces an important opponent Saturday when it meets once-beaten Colorado in a Big Eight clash that could decide the championship.

Navy, the No. 4 club with seven in a row this year, meets a rugged opponent on the road when the Middies travel to Durham, N.C., to play Duke, beaten only by Michigan.

Ohio State, which has lost only to Purdue (24-21) in six games and is rated fifth, is not expected to have too much trouble with Indiana.

Mississippi, tumbled to sixth after its 6-6 tie with Louisiana State, hopes to make up ground against Chattanooga.

Rose Picture

Washington, ranked No. 7 plays Southern California in a game which should go far toward firming up the Rose Bowl situation.

Tennessee's 27-14 victory over North Carolina on a day when Mississippi was being tied and Baylor and Syracuse were losing put the Vols into the No. 8 position. They play Georgia Tech Saturday and Mississippi Nov. 12.

Despite Syracuse's 10-0 defeat by Pitt, the Orange remains in the top ten, dropping from third to ninth. Syracuse plays Army Saturday at New York.

The new No. 10 team is Rice. Rice risks a share of the Southwest Conference lead Saturday night in a game with Arkansas at Little Rock.

The leaders (first place votes, season won-lost-tied records in parentheses; points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

1.	Iowa (46) (6-0)	476
2.	Missouri (7-0)	359
3.	Minnesota (1) (6-0)	350
4.	Navy (7-0)	324
5.	Ohio State (5-1)	279
6.	Mississippi (6-0-1)	265
7.	Washington (1) (6-1)	142
8.	Tennessee (5-0-1)	108
9.	Syracuse (5-1)	91
10.	Rice (5-1)	73

ESSC's Barkman Plays Despite Damaging Injury To Right Leg

By Curt Prins
Daily Record
Sports Editor

TOBY BARKMAN is the second leading scoring on the East Stroudsburg State College football team but only 11 months ago, it was doubtful if he would ever play football again.

Barkman, a freshman from Roxbury, N.J., was struck by a car in January, 1958 and he spent the next 11 months on crutches.

Barkman had been off crutches for only three hours, when he was hit by the car.

A cartilage injury in his knee put him on crutches at the end of the football season of his junior year, 1958.

On January 12 of that year, at 4 p.m. he was allowed by his doctor to walk without the crutches. At 7 that night he was struck by the car.

Pin And Plate

It took 24 stitches to repair the damage to his face and another 30 in his right leg, where two bones were broken. A steel pin and plate were put in his right leg to strengthen the bone. Two bones in his back were also broken. Doctors doubted if he would ever play football again.

Barkman, who earned this week's "Brite Star" for his clutch performance against Bloomsburg, did not play football in his senior year at Roxbury High. But he had recovered sufficiently the following spring to run track.

As a dash man, he turned in a 10.1 clocking in the 100-yard dash, to win the district title.

"I think I was able to run faster after the accident than before," says Barkman, "although I didn't run track in my junior year and have no time for comparison."

BRITE STAR—Toby Barkman, East Stroudsburg State College halfback earned this week's Brite Star award for his play against Bloomsburg Saturday. He scored two fourth period touchdowns, as the Warriors upset Bloom 21-20. (Staff Photo by Prins)

Fastest Warrior

Barkman is the fastest man on the East Stroudsburg squad. He outraced two Bloomsburg defenders to haul in a pass from quarterback Bill Lewis for a 42-yard touchdown in the final period and minutes later went off right tackle for the tying score.

He also scored touchdowns against Mansfield and Shippensburg, for a season total of 24 points.

Frank Lupin leads the team in scoring, with 30 points.

When the season opened, Barkman was on the second team. He played only briefly against Millersville in the opener. But injuries to the first unit halfbacks, Donnie Schleicher and Bill Race, earned him a starting assignment against Kutztown.

Since then Barkman has alternated between first and second team and last Saturday was rushed into the game on the first play after Lupin broke his leg.

Dad All-American

Halfbacks run in the Barkman family. Toby's dad Ralph (Mose), was a Little All-American halfback at Albrigh in 1928.

Toby might have been able to get a scholarship to one of the big football schools, if he had played in his senior year of high school. He was picked on the all-district team in his junior year. But he was forgotten by the scouts after the injury.

He was recommended to the East Stroudsburg Coach Jack Gregory by Bob Shiffner, the Roxbury coach, who felt Toby could play football despite the injury.

Toby told me the injury wouldn't bother him," says Gregory, "and so far it hasn't. He has a great deal of potential and he could be a great football player."

New Clubs To Get Special Waiver, Draft Treatment

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick and the presidents of the two major leagues Tuesday set up procedure for stocking the new clubs created by expansion of the American and National Leagues.

Frick gently slapped the wrist of the American League, which unexpectedly voted to expand to 10 clubs in 1961 last week. He said future expansion should be made jointly following executive sessions at which the league president and the commissioner would be present.

Frick said, however, he was satisfied that the American League had lived up to its commitment to the defunct Continental League.

Waiver Preference

Its expansion committee had recommended two Continental League clubs be added, but the owners decided to shift one franchise and added two new clubs.

Under the procedure for stocking the new clubs, the new teams will be given preferential treatment within their leagues in all waiver claims and will get two extra draft choices from the minor leagues at $25,000 each.

Frick said the new Los Angeles and Washington clubs will get the special treatment in waiver claims after they had qualified for membership, probably by the Nov. 17 meeting. The Minneapolis-St. Paul franchise, actually the old Washington franchise switched to a new sight, will not get special treatment.

Houston and New York, added to the National League for 1962, will not be able to participate in the 1960 draft as they probably will not have qualified by that time. However, Houston probably will draft from the lower minors as a member of the American Association in 1961. Both New York and Houston will participate in the draft a year from now.

The changes in the draft procedure must be approved by the minor leagues, who are being asked to do so in a mail vote.

Warriors Face Dry Spell, New Rules Against Cortland

EAST STROUDSBURG State College has not beaten Cortland in football since 1951, when a guard named Jack Gregory played for the Warriors.

Gregory will be with the club again Saturday but this time as a coach. The game is at Cortland.

In the '51 game, played at Normal Hill, the Warriors won 20-6.

Short On Points

Since then the Warriors have scored only 34 points in seven games against Cortland. The 1953 game was called off because of snow. Over the same span, Cortland has tallied 120 points.

And East Stroudsburg has not beaten Cortland on the New Yorkers' field since 1946 and has scored only 15 points there, over the same length of time.

In the overall series, which goes back to 1926, Cortland holds an 11-10 edge, with five ties, including last years 0-0 battle at East Stroudsburg.

Not only will East Stroudsburg, which is 5-2, with a four game winning streak, have to battle an eight year losing streak at Cortland, but also a new set of rules.

Cortland plays under the NCAA rules, while the Pennsylvania State College teams play National Football Alliance or high school rules.

There will be no unlimited substitution Saturday but the "wild card" rule will be used. Under the "wild card" arrangement a coach may substitute one player at a time after each play. Complete team changes are allowed only once in a quarter.

Added Point

For extra-point tries, the ball will be placed in the three-yard line rather than the two. A kick will count one point and a run or pass two.

Fumbles cannot be advanced and only one arm is allowed for blocking. And the ball may be advanced out of the end zone. Alliance rules do not allow a kickoff that goes into the end zone to be returned.

But the change that may cause the most trouble concerns shifts. In Alliance rules, an offensive interior lineman may not lift his hand from the ground once he puts it down. In NCCA rules this is not required as long as someone on the team moves to a different position, such as changing from a T-formation to a single wing. However, it is an illegal procedure penalty if there is no such change following the lift of hands.

Starner Tops In Contest

THREE contestants in last week's Daily Record Grid Contest picked 19 correct winners out of a possible 23.

However, Larry Starner, Stroudsburg RD 3, came out on top by picking 53 as the most points to be scored by any of the contest teams. Only one point off from the high mark of 54.

Harold Piastas of East Stroudsburg State College, placed second by picking 47 as the high mark for the week. James Paul of 837 Fairview Ave., Stroudsburg missed out on the prize money because his pick of 42 for high score was too far removed from the weekend's to score.

Not Everyone Happy With Alvin Dark

By HARRY JUPITER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—He's quiet and he's serious but there's only one way Alvin Dark attacks the game of baseball. He gives it everything he's got.

The announcement of Dark's selection as manager of the Giants was met with mixed emotions here.

Some fans declared Dark will be an inexpensive substitute for such as Casey Stengel or Leo Durocher—who were proposed by several sports writers and thousands of fans to succeed interim Manager Tom Sheehan.

Predict Success

Others, recognizing Dark's aggressiveness, hustle and intelligence, predicted a successful managerial career for the 37-year-old infielder.

Often overlooked, however, is the intense pride and desire of owner Horace Stoneham for a pennant. He has the final decision in every major move the Giants make.

Stoneham hired Dark because he believes Dark can lead the Giants to San Francisco's first National League pennant.

As for Dark getting the job without previous managerial experience, Stoneham remembers that the intense young man was the major league rookie of the year in his first full season with the Braves in 1948.

Dark, a fullback and sprinter at Louisiana State, believes in the run-run-run and hustle-every-second style of baseball.

Rugby Winner

PENANG, Malaya (AP)—Thailand's National rugby team Monday night defeated Penang's Blues 14-3 to complete a four match tour of Malaya with an unbeaten record. The visitors won three games and tied one.

Two Quick Goals Win For College

EAST Stroudsburg State College scored twice within a minute in the third period, to hand Wilkes College a 3-1 soccer loss at Normal Hill yesterday.

It was the fourth win for the Warriors and the third in a row. Saturday they upset previously unbeaten Lock Haven. The Warriors have lost three and tied one.

Paul Grube pushed East Stroudsburg into a 1-0 lead in the second period, when he shot from in front of the net rolled through the Wilkes goalie's legs.

Tie Breaker

Barry Wray scored mid-way through the third frame to break a 1-1 tie and less than a minute later freshman Karl Dickl rammed in the insurance goal.

Bob Roberts scored the visitors lone goal in the third period.

East Stroudsburg got off 48 shots, while a tight Warrior defense limited Wilkes to only four chances.

Two Backs Ready

6 Points Hurt Pitt

By JOE BRADIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Except for six points Pitt could be winging its way to South Bend on Saturday undefeated. Instead, the Panthers go against Notre Dame with a 3-2-2 record.

Pitt opened with an 8-7 loss to UCLA, tied Michigan State 7-7 and next lost to Oklahoma 15-14. Then came 17-6 and 42-0 victories over Miami (Fla.) and West Virginia, respectively.

Last Saturday, the Panthers won their third straight by beating previously unbeaten Syracuse 10-0. Notre Dame lost 14-7 to Navy. As has been the case in four of the five defeats, the Irish had the advantage in statistics but not on the scoreboard.

Offensive Problem

Pitt's big problem is its offense. There's no question about its defense. The Panthers proved that against Syracuse. Led by big Mike Ditka, Pitt never gave the Orangemen a chance to move. On the other hand Pitt moved well on the ground but not through the air.

Assistant Coach Carl Depasqua, who has scouted Notre Dame, speaks highly of the Irish. "Notre Dame is a tough luck team," he says. "They move the ball well and if our boys don't play a good game, it will be a long afternoon."

And from Brady Lynn, the Irish assistant backfield coach and scout, comes this appraisal of Pitt:

"A big strong man, similar in size and ability to Michigan State and Purdue, and probably as good as any team in the country."

Ray Murray, former American League catcher, led the Rio Grande Valley Giants to victory in the Texas League this year. The team took the lead early in May and never was headed.

Shifts Make Ballplayers Morning Paper Readers

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

MAJOR league baseball has become a fluid thing, like the molasses you pour on your morning pancakes. The situation may become just as sticky.

Players are reading their morning newspaper more than ever. Those who are ready to build or buy new homes are holding off in fear of being traded.

The swapping of playing talent will be greater than ever this off season now that new teams in Washington and Los Angeles must be stocked for next spring in the American League's surprise expansion move.

Minneapolis-St. Paul gets a break because most of the Washington name players will call Minnesota their "home" in 1961. At best, only two or three 1960 Senators listed as expendables will be back in the Capital next year under new management.

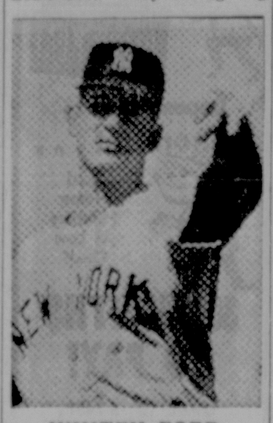
Giants Active

The San Francisco Giants figure to be more active than ever when the winter league meetings open in Louisville Nov. 28. At the St. Petersburg sessions last year they made a multi-player deal with Baltimore. It didn't help. Now Horace Stoneham now wants to trade Johnny Antonelli.

The Yankees would like to have him. And Antonelli, a Rochester, N.Y., resident, would like to pitch for the New Yorkers. Who wouldn't, with all their power? Before the World Series, Whitey Ford was mentioned in a possible deal for Anty. Now the Yankees have cooled on such a deal. Ford pitched two series shutouts.

"I don't know if I'd quit or not if I were traded," Ford says. "It all depends on where I was traded. I'm an off-season customer's man in Wall Street and my family ties are in New York. I'd hate to leave the Yankees."

The Detroit Tigers will try to unload veteran third baseman Eddie Yost. They are figuring



WHITEY FORD
Will He Go West?

on Steve Boros, who had a fine season at Denver, as their 1961 third sacker.

Trade Minded

Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane undoubtedly will be quite active. Of the 40 players on his list this time last year, only 10 finished the season around Lake Erie. Cleveland was a pennant contender a year ago but in 1961 finished fourth, 21 games off the victorious Yankees.

Milwaukee is looking to get outfielder Wes Covington and his bad heel out of the National League. The Braves also are looking for a couple of relief pitchers and a new shortstop to replace Johnny Logan. Among their expendables are two fine pitching prospects, Carl Willey and Juan Pizarro. They also could use another catcher to back up brilliant Del Crandall.

Pittsburgh might try for a right-handed hitting outfielder with Dick Stuart and Gino Cimoli as expendables. Stuart didn't appear too happy after Bill Mazeroski decided the series with his ninth inning homer in the final game. Stuart was to bat next for pitcher Harvey Haddix. He never got the chance.

Youth Movement

Los Angeles has a youth movement under way and Gil Hodges and Duke Snider can be had. Baltimore wants a power hitter and it would'nt be surprising to see the Orioles come up with Hodges who would act as a platoon man around first base with Jim Gentile spelling him against right handers. Hodges might even like such a deal. He lives in Brooklyn. It would give him more time in the east and would cut down his flying hours with only one California team in the American League.

The Los Angeles Dodgers are looking for a catcher. They could do worse than turn to the Chicago White Sox for veteran Sherm Lollar. He would love that left field screen in the Coliseum.

Yes, the players are reading the morning papers more than ever. Baseball these days is like a three-ring flying circus and the players would like to know now where they can expect to have their morning coffee next year.

Yanks Out Of Meet

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Scandinavian track and field officials decided not to accept a United States offer for a U. S.-Scandinavia meet in Helsinki in July.

The U.S. team requested $15,000 and expenses, which was considered too much, and the proposed dates conflicted with the inter-Scandinavian championships.

Red Cracks Lift Marks

MOSCOW (AP)—Anatoli Zhgun, a 23-year-old Leningrad railway engineering student, bettered two world lightweight weightlifting records, Tass reported.

Zhgun lifted 324.08 pounds in the snatch, bettering his world mark by 1½ pounds. He hoisted 352 pounds in the jerk, topping by 1½ pounds the record held by Japan's Anuma Grover.

Atkins Top Back

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

PERVIS ATKINS, an outstanding, all-around halfback from New Mexico State University, was named the back of the week Tuesday by The Associated Press for his exploits in the unbeaten Aggies' last quarter 27-24 triumph over Arizona State.

With his team trailing 24-14 in the final period, the 190-pounder from Oakland, Calif., returned a kickoff 98 yards for a touchdown and later ran 70 yards from the 4, setting up the winning score. That brought the Aggies their seventh straight victory this year, their 11th over a 2-year span, and virtually assured them the Border Conference football championship.

Many Leads

Atkins, the 1959 major college rushing, scoring and punt return leader, has teamed with tailback Bob Gaiters, the nation's top scorer this season, to give the Aggies a powerful one-two punch. Atkins has been one of the chief blockers in springing Gaiters loose. He also has been a stickout on defense.

There were other contenders for the weekly honor, including Tommy Mason of Tulane, Guy (Sonny) Gibbs of Texas Christian, Wilburn Hollis of Iowa, Ed Dyas of Auburn, Hank Lesesne of Vanderbilt, Hugh Scott of Princeton, Tommy Larscheld of Utah State and Marshall Starks of Illinois.

Angels Win Hoop Opener

HAWLEY — Newfoundland's Blue Angels rapped the Hawley Raiders 89-49 to win the opening game of the newly formed Pocono Mountain Basketball League. Wade Keen tossed in 26 points to lead the winners. He was followed by John Hinds with 24 and Bob Haag with 19.

Newfoundland plays the Viking A. C. next Saturday at Hawley.

Full Season Of Grid Shocks Crammed Into One Saturday

By FRED WALTERS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Maybe it was the witching spirit, or maybe it was the weather—rain in the east — but this past weekend in Pennsylvania high school football provided more shocks than the entire season put together.

Here's a rundown by region:

Northeast — Bangor, Pottsville, Wilkes-Barre Meyers and Minersville all suffered their first defeats of the season.

Berwick, which beat Pottsville, and Coal Twp., which edged Hazleton, took over the East Penn southern division lead, with Coal on top. The two meet Nov. 12.

West Scranton continues on top in the northern division and should stay there.

Three Area Powers

Independent Easton, Northampton of the Lehigh Valley and Nazareth of the Lehigh-Northampton are other standouts in the region. Unbeaten Kingston, which ended Meyers' long string, is now the Wyoming Valley favorite, pending its Nov. 12 game with Wilkes-Barre G.A.R.

Midstate—York and Harrisburg Harris, two strong Central Penn teams, both went down to unexpected defeat, while conference leader Lancaster was an impressive winner over Reading. Harris meets Lancaster this coming weekend.

Carlisle defeated a good Hanover Delone team by an astounding 47-7 and heads for its South Penn showdown with Waynesboro this weekend and leader Chambersburg the following week as a team that looks awfully difficult to beat.

Lock Haven Wins

Bald Eagle-Nittany stunned unbeaten South Williamsport, 34-19, to take over the West Branch lead. Lock Haven—certainly one of the state's best—thumped previously unbeaten Danville, 38-6 in a Susquehanna Valley contest.

Chief Logan was a big winner, walloping Lewistown — in whose shadow it has played for years—33-0. Trevorton of the Twin Valley and Southwestern of the Laurel League continued unbeaten as did defending Laurel champion Littlestown, which has a Nov. 11 date with Southwestern.

Sayre remained unbeaten with Cortland, N. Y., Nov. 11 its next big one.

West Central—Dubois comes up to its big game with Hollidaysburg once-tied (by Altoona), but otherwise perfect. It trails Lock Haven in the West Penn standings. The two do not meet. Central Cambria won impressively over Indiana, 25-0.

Southwest—Greensburg, Hampton and Avella fell out of the various WPIAL races.

Greensburg's 20-14 loss to Latrobe left only Beaver Falls and Monessen available for the WPIAL-AA playoff, Hampton's 14-12 loss to Freedom left Sewickley and Beaver the only two WPIAL-A contenders. With Avella out of the WPIAL-B race, Northwestern, Perryopolis, Trafford, Union Twp. and Washington Twp. were left.

Buffalo Baseball Outlook Bright

NEW YORK (AP)—R. V. Taylor, chairman of the board of the Buffalo group seeking a big league franchise, said Tuesday he was encouraged about the chances of getting into the National League after a conference with Branch Rickey.

Rickey, president of the defunct Continental League of which Buffalo was a member, told Taylor that Lou Perini of Milwaukee, John Galbreath of Pittsburgh, Phil Wrigley of Chicago and Walter O'Malley of Los Angeles favor inclusion of Buffalo and Dallas-Fort Worth in the league in 1963 or 1964.

Coach To Quit

REGINA (AP) — The Regina Leader-Post Monday said Coach Ken Carpenter of the Saskatchewan Roughriders intends to resign to accept a position on the coaching staff of the Denver Broncos in the American Football League.

Nearly $7,000 Distributed By United Steelworkers

By JOHN KOENIG
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly $7,000 has been contributed by the United Steelworkers to the campaigns of a dozen Pennsylvania democrats in the Nov. 8 election.

This was reported Tuesday.

Other preliminary reports showed that Pennsylvania Republican candidates individually have received upwards of $16,000 from the GOP congressional (campaign) committee in recent months.

The reports were filed with the clerk of the House of Representatives as required by law.

The contributions are in additions to reports showing $16,500 earmarked by the Republican committee for Pennsylvania GOP congressional candidates last May and upwards of $13,000 set aside in August for Pennsylvania Democrats by their own congressional campaign committee. These reports were filed earlier this year.

Individual candidates for congress are required to file preliminary financial reports 10 days before the election. The deadline was last Saturday. Final reports are due 30 days after the election Nov. 8.

The Steelworkers Union Political Action Fund contributed $1,000 to campaigns of both Rep. Elmer J. Holland, 30th District, and Rep. Frank M. Clark, 25th District.

Democrats

These other Democratic candidates, all incumbents with the exception of Dean R. Fisher, 17th District, received $500 each from the Steelworkers: William J. Green, Robert N. C. Nix, William A. Barrett, Herman Toll, James A. Byrne, and Kathryn E. Granahan, all Philadelphia; George M. Rhodes, 14th District, and James M. Quigley, 19th District. Russell M. Douthett, 29th District candidate, received $250.

The Steelworkers Political Action Fund also reported contributing $5,000 to the Kennedy-Johnson Labor Committee of Allegheny County, Pa.; $2,000 to the Citizens for Kennedy Committee of Washington, D. C., and $2,000 to the Pennsylvania State Democratic Finance Committee for fund-raising dinner tickets.

The AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) reported it allocated $15,000 and $5,000 Oct. 4 and Oct. 14 respectively to the Pennsylvania State COPE for the 1960 elections. The COPE report also listed a $1,000 contribution to the Scranton Pa., Central Labor Union on Oct. 14 for election purposes.

Reports from individual Republican candidates for Congress showed George A. Goodling, 19th District, received $3,000 from the GOP Congressional Committee; Rep. John P. Saylor, 22nd District, $2,500; Reps. William A. Milliken Jr., 7th District; Paul B. Dague, 8th District; Walter M. Mumma, 16th District, and Leon H. Gavin, 23rd District, $2,000 each; Rep. James E. Van Zandt, 20th District, $1,057, and James H. Mantis, 14th District, $1,500.

Dague and Gain also reported receiving $1,000 each from members of the Pew family of Philadelphia and vicinity.

Being Handled

William W. Scranton, GOP candidate in the 10th District, reported that all his contributions and expenditures are being handled by the Citizens Committee for Bill Scranton, which he said will file its own report.

Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, 26th District Democratic incumbent, reported receiving $500 from the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee; $250 from the National Maritime Union of America, and $200 from Mark W. Cresop Jr., Pittsburgh.

Rep. William S. Curtin of the 8th District reported $3,211 in contributions received and $1,631 in expenditures. The contributions included $3,000 by the Congressional Committee.

Curtin reported expenditures of $1,000 to the Lehigh County Republican Committee at Allentown and $250 to the Bucks County Republican Congressional Committee.

His listed expenditures included $108, plus $1,204 not itemized.

Recipient of the heaviest financial support individually from labor was Holland. In addition to $1,000 from the Steelworkers Union, Holland reported receiving a total of approximately $1,500 other labor groups, including Garment Workers, Railway Workers, Electrical Workers, Cement Masons, and Operating Engineers.

Deadline for application for such ballots was 4 p.m. yesterday, but a spokesman for the commissioners said any requests mailed prior to the deadline will be honored.

Rhee Law Wiped Out

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea's revolutionary government yesterday wiped out another law passed by the ousted Syngman Rhee regime and made the jobs of mayors and town chiefs elective once again.

During a Christmas Eve Parliamentary session in 1958, Rhee had pushed through legislation to make the posts appointive in a move to strengthen the hold of his Liberal party on the country.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 2, 1960

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Handle tasks according to proper importance; count possible assets and weigh well the best routes before deciding, even in minor matters.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Analyze unusual proposals carefully. They often sound more enticing than they are. Waste no time—especially where details are concerned.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Very fine month for your special talents, for ingenuity, craftsmanship, personable manner, dexterity, etc. Do all you can to alleviate others' difficulties as you progress individually.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Tomorrow will show what you accomplish today. Have renewed faith, hope, ambitions; give those finer qualities a booster shot and keep right issues on top. Shun extreme fluctuation.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — The right start is important, but so is steady tempo, consistency of high-type aims, methods. Leo can shine on this sort of day if he (she) will keep impulses and desires in check.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) —More than average-type day, with a call for your best personality and disposition. Problems not as great as many others, remember; don't think about ills; spontaneous aid speeds results.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Of necessity some matters you may have not please, so how you react and handle obligations will carry weight. Venus' bright aspect beckons to your finesse and practicality.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — When we begin to have prejudices and bias that others have, we are following the leader without regard for the brains God gave us individually. Study facts; don't be cajoled into decisions.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — Indifference is a sin against our talents and individual rights. We cannot expect things to turn out as we would like if we do not work for ends in which we believe. 'Nuf said!

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Strong Saturn aspect suggests getting out some of those dusty tricks (honest ones, of course), re-trying a tack that may have failed before but could well succeed now. Be justly decisive.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Time out for reward can be used profitably by you for forming new ideas to bolster a fading or wobbly situation or project. Your versatility and straight-forward tactics are NEEDED.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — Neptune and other planets' configurations urge your best foot forward to keep day on the track and running smoothly. Can be done with little extra effort, will pay big dividends.

YOU BORN TODAY have more than a few talents for unusual success. Sometimes waste time getting started, then at last minute produce what is indicative of the greater results you could have gotten with earlier, consistent endeavor. Be not hurt or dismayed at callous indifference of others, or lack of appreciation. Know that loyalty will be rewarded in a lasting fashion. Find whatever helpful you can in criticism, then forget unjust words that merely express another's antagonism or jealousy. Protect health, avoid over-exertion; pray; be calm; awaken to your many gifts. Birthdate of: Jas. K. Polk, 11th U. S. President.

Figuring Stock Profits

By William A. Doyle

Q. I bought 50 shares of General Telephone common stock in 1953, at $39 a share. As you know, 50 percent stock dividends were paid on this stock in 1954 and 1955. And the stock was split three for one earlier this year. As a result of all this, my holding increased to 336 shares.

If I sell some, but not all of these shares, how do I figure my profit? Am I supposed to pay a Federal capital-gains tax?

A. The key here is to figure out what each share you now own cost you. You paid $39 a share for 50 shares — a total cost of $1,850.

You should also add all brokerage commissions and other fees you paid at the time you bought the stock to get your complete purchase cost. Your letter doesn't mention this. So, we'll have to skip them in this example.

Then divide your cost ($1,850 by the number of shares you now own (336). That will give you the adjusted cost per share. In this case, the adjusted "tax-cost basis" on each share you now own comes out to $5.50.

General Telephone (now General Telephone & Electronics) common stock has a current market value of close to five times that amount. Here's proof that you made a wise investment.

If you sell any of this stock, the difference between $5.50 and the price you receive for each share will be your profit. That profit will be subject to Federal capitol taxes. Because you have owned the stock for more than six months, your profit should be reported as a long-term capital gain.

Q. You have explained that when a person buys or sells an "odd lot" of stock he must pay a fee of 12½ cents a share if the price of the stock is below $40 a share or 25 cents a share if the price of the stock is $40 or more a share. I bought 28 shares of stock at 40⅞ ($40.875 a share) and the broker charged me a commission of $16.45.

That's a whole lot more than 25 cents a share. Should I complain to the Securities and Exchange Commission?

A. No. The odd-lot fee is an extra charge you pay when you deal in anything except round lots. In the case of most stocks, the round-lot "unit of trading" is 100 shares.

The odd-lot fee is added to the cost of the stock when you buy and subtracted from the sale price when you sell.

But, on top of that, you still have to pay a commission. And, for the number of shares you bought at the price you mention, $16.45 is the correct commission on all major stock exchanges.

Q. I am interested in buying some bonds in a well-known company. How can I find out if the bonds have a sinking fund provision, so that I can be reasonably sure that money will be available to redeem the bonds?

A. If the bonds have a sinking fund provision, all the details are spelled out in the "indenture." That document explains everything about the particular bond issue. Also, the important information about any bond is explained in the statistical manuals you will find in any brokerage office.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Cooper Tries 'Hero' Role

Donald Nixon Confirms Loan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's brother Donald confirmed yesterday that a $205,000 loan obtained in an unsuccessful effort to save his restaurant business came from industrialist Howard Hughes' tool company.

But Donald Nixon added: "I have never asked my brother to do anything for me or anyone else in the government; and if I did ask, I know he would refuse."

As his first comment on an article last week by Washington columnist Drew Pearson, Donald Nixon issued a statement detailing his financial difficulties and accusing Pearson of an attempt to smear his brother, the Republican nominee for president.

"I am deeply grieved and concerned to think that any individual would use my business misfortune to influence the outcome of the presidential election," Donald Nixon said.

McPherson Exhibitions Set To Continue Thru Friday

THE exhibition of paintings by J. Havard MacPherson may still be seen through Friday, at the Pocono Art Center Gallery, from 2 to 4 P.M. daily, and on Tuesday and Wednesday nights after 8 o'clock. The Gallery is on the third floor of 58½ Main St., Stroudsburg.

Also, by appointment, classes of school children may be brought to see the paintings by phoning HA 1-0947.

Last Thursday two new classes were inaugurated at the Workshops of the Pocono Art Center, at Braeside and Brown Sts., East Stroudsburg. Called "The A-B-C's of Art," the classes are planned to introduce beginners to the experience of creating visual art. As a start, Marcia Clapp DeRocco, the teacher, presented clay, which is her own favorite medium. Drawing will also be undertaken, and later painting. The class for children is at 4 P.M. on Thursdays, while that for adults starts at 7:30 p.m., at the workshop.

Mrs. DeRocco is the founder and chairman of the Pocono Art Center, and brings the enthusiasm and training of her lifetime's experience to the project of establishing an Art Center as a "lasting contribution to the future of our children and our community."

Graduate Of Many

A graduate of the John Herron Art School of Indianapolis, and of Butler University, Indianapolis, and of the Art Students League, New York City, she also holds a diploma from the Metropolitan School of Music, of Indianapolis, and is a member of the Mu Phi Epsilon National Honorary Music Society. Winning the Griffith Fellowship National Award, and the Tiffany Fellowship in Sculpture, she went abroad and studied sculpture in Florence and Paris. She exhibited in Europe, and in this country at the National Academy, Allied Artists, etc., the Pennsylvania Academy, Carnegie Annual and the Hoosier Salon, where she took a first prize in sculpture. She also took first prize in a Chicago annual sculpture show. She continued her ceramic studies at the Inwood Pottery in New York City.

Mrs. DeRocco holds a license for teaching art in Indiana and New York. In Westchester County, N.Y., she taught in the Scarsdale schools, and developed progressive methods that are used today. Murals done by the children working with her were exhibited in the Broklyn Museum of Art. Her classes were used as source studies for teachers, and she trained for the supervision of teachers at the Indiana University, and later conducted courses in New York City, for teachers, on methods of procedure in teaching ceramics and sculpture.

She lectured on art in Brooklyn College. She introduced the first clay classes into Veteran's Hospitals as the therapeutic measures, a plan adopted and used throughout the U.S.

Commercially

Commercially, she has designed pottery for the U.S. and European Market, and decor and mannikins for department stores, such as Saks Fifth Ave., in New York and Pennsylvania.

In the fine arts, her greatest achievement has been in the field of portrait sculpture, using the mediums of carving in stone and wood, terra cotta and bronze. Among her commissions was that for the Edward MacDowell Memorial Head (she was a fellow at the MacDowell Colony, and there met the artist Jovan De Rocco whom she married. Other sculptured portraits were made of the scientist William Beebe, Shan Gar, the Hindu dancer, the daughters of William Benet, the composer Haubiel, and many others. Recently, she finished the portrait of David Cogan, producer of "Raisin in the Sun," and is currently working on one of the actress Anne Bancroft. She is also preparing for a one-man show to be held in New York City, the exhibition to be selected from more than 100 of her portraits in sculpture.

Mrs. De Rocco is well known in our community for such public-spirited contributions as organizing of special activities for the U.N. and the Cancer Fund drives. She is on the Board of Directors of the Laurel Home for the Aged, and is president of the League of Women Voters.

Tuesday nights after 8, a group led by Jesse Weiss meets at the Gallery to read and discuss plays and music. On Wednesday nights, the Painting Workshop meets. On Friday afternoons, Tillie Friedman teaches a ballot class at 4, at the same place. A China-Painting Class is conducted by Frank Buchmann on Friday nights. For information, phone HA 1-6938.

Nixon Pounds At Pocketbook Issue

By The Associated Press.

VICE President Richard M. Nixon hit hard at the pocketbook issue in campaigning through Pennsylvania and New York Tuesday—with some televised help from President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson.

Nixon appeared before an enthusiastic rally in Erie, Pa., and spelled out the Eisenhower Administration's various efforts to provide aid for economically distressed areas.

Later, he was given a huge welcome at Rochester, N. Y., where he accused Sen. Kennedy of resorting to a "bare-faced lie" in saying the Republicans always had opposed Social Security. Nixon said he considered such a statement "vicious" and "despicable."

Meanwhile, his Democratic opponent for the presidency, Sen. John F. Kennedy, began a two-day tour of California aimed at winning Nixon's home state with its parcel of 32 electoral votes. And he got a rousing welcome.

Addressing a rally at the University of Southern California, Kennedy denounced Nixon as a stand-patter in a revolutionary era, saying: "I can't believe the people will choose the status quo.

"We are either going to drop back or move ahead."

Kennedy's wild welcome into California had some out-of-the-ordinary sidelights: Fog delayed his arrival. The motorcycle of a policeman overheated and the gas tank blew up. The motor of Kennedy's auto overheated and he had to change transportation.

Nixon started out his day in Pennsylvania—a state with 32 electoral votes—and moved into upper New York—in a state with the nation's largest electoral count, 45 votes.

In Pennsylvania, the vice president pounded on the theme that the Democrats have made a "political football out of a pressing human problem by sending President Eisenhower two distressed area bills he had to veto." Unemployment is a pressing problem in the state's coal mines and steel industry.

Nixon also promised to work for doubling the nation's immigration quotas; predicted he would win a majority of the nation's seven biggest states, and challenged Kennedy to say how he would pay for promises made in the Democratic platform.

Truman Inflation

Then in Rochester, N.Y., Nixon said Kennedy's program would mean "a retreat to the unchecked price increases in the Truman administration." His statement said that under Eisenhower "runaway inflation has been stopped and the rise in the cost of living has been brought under control."

Support in the pocketbook argument that Eisenhower and Anderson provided was in a taped TV show broadcast over the CBS network as a paid political program.

Anderson called on Kennedy to spell out exactly how he would pay for the programs advocated in the party's platform. Generalities are not enough, Anderson said, "it's like being for good against evil."

Eisenhower said in introducing Anderson: "The preservation of the soundness of the dollar, as well as preservation of the confidence that the dollar will remain sound is absolutely essential both for the welfare of our citizens at home and the rest of the free world."

The President, meanwhile, made it definite that he will campaign for Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge in Cleveland and Pittsburgh Friday. The White House also said he will make a nation-wide TV talk from Pittsburgh Friday at 9 p. m. (CBS).

Lodge, Nixon's running mate, also campaigned in New York Tuesday. And Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, was in Chicago.

Poll Forecast

With the candidates sprinting toward the election day finish, these were the latest polls and predictions:

The American Society of Newspaper Editors polled its members, who predicted Nixon will carry 28 states with 314 electoral votes, Kennedy 19 states and 209 votes.

Time Magazine's correspondents estimated Kennedy is leading in states with 306 electoral votes and Nixon in states with 149.

Newsweek polled 60 top Washington correspondents. Results—Kennedy 279 electoral votes, Nixon 159, with 100 as a tossup.

U.S. News & World Report said its state-by-state survey of political experts showed the Democratic nominee is leading in enough states to win the presidency.

Absentee Ballots Might Delay Election Results

HARRISBURG (AP)—A close election Nov. 8 could result in Pennsylvania's absentee voters casting the deciding ballot. That means 32 presidential electoral votes could hang in the balance for 10 days.

The 10-day waiting period is to allow receipt of the absentee ballots from all over the world. They are then counted and certified to the State Elections Bureau as part of the official returns of each of the state's 67 counties.

This will be the first general election in which civilian absentee balloting will be permitted. The absentee franchise was extended to civilians under a 1959 Amendment to the State Constitution. Previously, absentee voting was limited to servicemen and hospitalized veterans.

An Associated Press survey indicated the county elections bureaus have mailed out absentee ballots representing 1.15 per cent of the state's registered voters—in other words, about 65,000 absentee ballots.

The survey indicated there is little difference in the trend of absentee applications from county to county or between urban and rural areas. The low was .8 of one per cent in Cumberland County and the high was 1.6 per cent in Montgomery County.

There is no way of determining what percentage of the mailed ballots will be returned.

In 1956 the 67 counties distributed 33,138 military ballots and 1,180 ballots for hospitalized veterans. Of that total an estimated 16,000 were returned.

Though President Eisenhower swept the state by 600,000 vote margin, Republican Sen. James H. Duff was defeated for re-election by Democrat Joseph S. Clark by a narrow margin. The margin could have been threatened by a Duff sweep of all soldier ballots. However, the votes split two to one in Duff's favor—far short of helping him overcome his deficit.

If the same proportions hold up this year—and there is nothing to indicate they will—the absentee vote would be worth 10,000 to 12,000 votes for Democrats and 20,000 to 24,000 votes for Republicans.

Absentee ballots must be postmarked prior to midnight election day. Absent from their regular polling place Nov. 8 or for persons who are unable to vote in person because of physical disability.

Phila. Bulletin Backs Nixon

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —The Philadelphia Bulletin, largest afternoon newspaper in the nation, Tuesday editorially endorsed Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency.

The Bulletin said the Republican candidate "offers more rational programs and displays deeper understanding of the means to further them," than does his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

U.N. Defeats Cuban Call For Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U. N. General Assembly Tuesday night rode down Cuban-Soviet demands for urgent Assembly debate on their charges that the United States is planning an invasion of Cuba.

The Assembly, after two days of debate, rejected a Cuban amendent to upset a previous steering committee decision assigning the debate to the Assembly's 99-nation political committee.

The vote was 29 in favor of the Cuban-Soviet stand, 45 against, and 18 abstentions.

U. S. Welcomes Debate

The United States branded the Cuban-Soviet charges "false . . . monstrous distortions and downright falsehoods," but said it welcomed the chance to disprove them in a far-ranging debate.

After voting down the Cuban amendment the Assembly decided by a vote of 53-11 with 27 abstentions to send the issue to the assembly's political committee. The Soviet bloc, Cuba and Indonesia voted against the majority. Six countries were absent.

James J. Wadsworth, U. S. delegation chief, took the rostrum in the U.N. General Assembly to say that airing of the accusations will show up Cuba and its Soviet supporters.

He argued for a complete discussion of the charges in the Assembly's political committee, even giving it priority for the widest possible debate there.

Valerian A. Zorin, Soviet deputy foreign minister and head of the delegation, opened Tuesday's debate with an accusation that "the United States seeks to delay the discussion which would expose its aims. It tries to gain time it needs to carry out measures planned by the Pentagon to prepare and commit direct armed intervention in Cuba."

Zorin led off with a long statement that encompassed the charges voiced in the Assembly Monday by Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa and spokesmen for Soviet bloc countries.

Zorin charged that the Cuban people "can at any moment become a victim of direct armed aggression from a neighboring imperialist power. Even now acts of gross interference by the U.S. government in the affairs of the Cuban people are taking place."

Wadsworth said that if Cuba is serious about the charges, it should take them to the U. N. Security Council.

Daily News Has Kennedy Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Daily News Tuesday night printed the final results of a nation-wide survey predicting Sen John F. Kennedy will win the presidency with 396 electoral votes in 30 states.

The newspaper's political analyst, Ted Lewis, gave Republican Richard M. Nixon 20 states with 141 electoral votes.

Chest Drive Moves Ahead

Industrial Units Set Pace

THE INDUSTRIAL division surged ahead in the Community Chest Fund Campaign yesterday when Al Schaffer and William Reaser, co-chairmen, brought in enthusiastic reports of the response in a number of industries in the county.

The employes at Worthington Mower Co. came in for special mention when it was announced that with the employe-giving still incomplete they had given $1,280. Representing the contributions of about 150 employes, this makes the per capita giving far above the average and gives a big boost to the drive.

Other employe groups who have completed their solicitation and added to the industrial division's surge were:

Stroudsburg Engine Works, employes, $460.

Ronson Corp. Employes, $640.

Weico employes, $170.

Industries Give

In addition the management of two of the major industries in the county also made their contributions with $2,500 each from Ronson Corp., and from Worthington Mower.

Some of these contributions are included in the final tabulation, others came in too late for tabulation this week. However the industrial division's percentage rose to $6,323.35 which is 27 percent of quota.

The campaign total, according to the official tabulation yesterday, shows contributions of $22,741.67, almost 27 percent of the goal of $87,222.

Percentage-wise this compares favorably with the money contributed in the first two weeks of the campaign last year, Glen Sanborn Jr., president, reported.

Among the divisions, the clubs and organizations of which Stuart Pipher and Walter McClelland are co-chairmen still led with 75 percent of its quota or $741.

Sharing honors for attaining 50 percent of quota were: the resorts with $3,137, the Barrett house-to-house, with $1,294, and professional with $4,762.32.

Also reporting additional funds were: Trade, with $3,535, or 25.3 percent of quota.

Public Service, with $768, or 13.2 of its total.

Stroudsburg house-to-house, $245 with 11.6 percent of its quota.

British Give U. S. Base For Polaris Subs

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told the House of Commons Tuesday Britain will furnish the United States a base for roving nuclear submarines armed with Polaris missiles.

The site is in Scotland, in the Holy Loch of the River Clyde. February is the planned date for anchoring a submarine tender there. A floating dock will come later.

Macmillan's statement, heard with hostility by the opposition Labor members, came after Queen Elizabeth II opened a new session of Parliament in regal splendor.

The queen sat in the House of Lords on a glistening golden throne and outlined, in a speech written for her by Macmillan's Cabinet, an extensive legislative program.

Macmillan said the agreement will serve and strengthen the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—an alliance the queen herself characterized as vital to peace.

Labor party members in Commons immediately attacked the Macmillan plan, saying the people of Scotland would resent exposure to destruction. But the prime minister retorted that a Polaris sub base would be less an enemy target than would bomber bases.

Macmillan emphasized that U.S. submarines operating from the base will be on "routine patrol in peacetime" and that their real home ports will still be across the Atlantic in the United States.

Of the decision to conclude such an agreement with the United States, he said: "It is in the tradition of Anglo-American cooperation in joint defense carried by successive British governments."

Macmillan withheld details of the arrangements at the Scottish anchorage, But other sources said the agreement calls for U.S. personnel to be stationed there to serve submarine units of the American Fleet Ballistic Missile task force, now coming into being.

Two Polaris-firing submarines of the force will start patrolling the northern seas within the next three months. Eventually a force of 45 nuclear-powered submarines is planned by the United States. Each sub carries 16 missiles.

Shortway Hailed In Jobless Fight

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—State Sen. Z. H. Confair of Williamsport Tuesday urged a prompt start on a 17-mile segment of the Keystone Shortway near here as one way to fight unemployment.

Confair was one of 11 witnesses who testified at the Shortway hearing. All spoke out for this segment of the limited access superhighway and there were no opposition witnesses.

A mild surprise occurred when Robert F. Astleford, of Hazleton, appeared on behalf of a farm cooperative group and endorsed the proposed route, which will carry the Shortway across lands owned by the farmers.

The 17-mile segment extends westward from Route 309 (Hazleton-Wilkes Barre Highway) to a point near Berwick.

Confair and Rep. Daniel J. Flood, (D-Pa.), a member of the House Appropriations Subcommittee, said work on the freeway will help creat jobs. Flood termed it an "important aid to the area."

Confair, who is also president of the Keystone Shortway Association, said that a survey made three months ago showed 92,000 unemployed persons in the Shortway belt in Pennsylvania. During the past 10 years, he said, 140,000 people have moved away.

The Shortway will eventually stretch 290 miles from Stroudsburg to Sharon. Near Hazleton it will intersect with the Anthracite Freeway, another proposed limited access highway.

Others testifying on behalf of the Shortway were Martin Cohn, eastern area vice president of the KSA; Paul Cerula, Greater Hazleton Chamber of Commerce, and area assemblymen.

Routing of the segment covered in Tuesday's hearings had been delayed because of terrain problems.

Presiding at the hearings was J. B. F. Rinehart, assistant attorney general for the State Highways Department.

This was the last of seven hearings dealing with the eastern link of the shortway. Other hearings will take up other sections of the road later.

Reds Seize 'U.S. Spy' In Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—Mikhail Platovsky has been arrested in the city of Minsk as a spy for the United States, Tass said Tuesday. It reported he had radio and code equipment and duplicating material for printing anti-Soviet propaganda.

The Soviet news agency did not identify Platovsky's nationality, but said he was trained in West Germany by U. S. intelligence officers and smuggled into Russia with V. M. Slovnov. The Russians announced Slovnov's arrest Aug. 2 in a charge of spying.

The announcement of Platovsky's arrest followed by five days the New York arrest of Igor Y. Melekh, chief of the Russian translation section at the United Nations, by the FBI.

In Washington the State Department disclaimed any knowledge of Platovsky's case and said he "apparently" was a citizen of Russia, or some other Communist country, not an American.

Ask Germany To Help Aid Free Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two top U.S. officials planned to go to Bonn in the wake of a letter from President Eisenhower urging bigger German contributions to backward nations and to free world defense.

The administration announced Tuesday that Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson and Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon would visit Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during the latter part of this month for talks on "matters of mutual interest, with the primary emphasis on the problem of aiding the less-developed countries of the world."

While the White House officially declined comment on Eisenhower's letter, it was authoritatively reported that the President had written Adenauer several weeks ago.

Poorer Nations

Eisenhower was said to have urged the German chief to step up West Germany's part in aiding less-developed countries and increasing her share in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense burden.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the United States plans to meet its NATO commitments including the maintenance of U.S. forces in Europe. He said there should be no inference from the announcement of the Anderson-Dillon trip that there is any intention to reduce U.S. forces.

Germany Recovered

However the spokesman left open the possibility that the U.S. representatives might do some talking with the Germans about possible ways of cutting down U.S. expenses.

Washington's view is that the Western industrialized nations, having recovered from the ravages of World War II, should pitch in with the United States in the task of helping backward countries of Asia and Africa.

Fog Slows Traffic On Area Roads

HEAVY FOG was reported in some sections of the Pocono Mountains last night, but for the most part the reports indicated it was spotty and clearing at a late hour.

State Police at Lehighton said the fog was patchy and clearing; troopers at Milford reported heavy fog; Fern Ridge troopers said the fog was heavy earlier but was clearing; while State Police at Mount Pocono said fog was thick in the mountains and in the Swiftwater area, but had cleared off, and troopers at Stroudsburg said fog was thick in spots.

The Blue Mountain Control Center at Wind Gap also reported bad fog in spots.

There were no automobile accidents reported by any of the stations checked. Most traffic was traveling at a slow to moderate pace.

Eaton Predicts Kennedy Victory

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland industrialist, said Tuesday he thought the election will be a landslide for Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee for president.

"I am not saying this because of personal preference," he said, "but as an opinion based on my experience in business."

"If Kennedy carries Iowa and Kansas he will carry all 50 states," he said in an interview.

Eaton has been a frequent defender of Russian policies and has visited the Soviet Union as a guest of Premier Khrushchev and other Red leaders.

Reds Told To Keep Hands Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower declared Tuesday the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo, Cuba, is important to the defense of the entire Western Hemisphere and this country will take whatever steps may be appropriate to defend it.

The President's declaration was in a statement which took note of the growing intimacy of Fidel Castro's government with Soviet Russia and Communist China.

Thus it was a warning to the Communist powers as well as Castro not to believe the United States can be bluffed into pulling out of Guantanamo.

In giving Eisenhower's statement to newsmen, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower wanted to make this country's policy position perfectly clear "so there can be no misunderstanding."

Hagerty said he wanted to point out that Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. and Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, recently have made statements similar to that of the President's.

Hagerty told a news conference that during the last week or so the President has been expressing his views regarding Guantanamo privately in talks with friends and in a few letters.

Here is the President's statement:

"While the position of the government of the United States with respect to the naval base at Guantanamo has, I believe, been made very clear, I would like to reiterate it briefly.

"Our rights in Guantanamo are based on international agreements with Cuba and include the exercise by the United States of complete jurisdiction and control over the area.

"These agreements with Cuba can be modified or abrogated only by agreement between the two parties, that is, the United States and Cuba.

"Our government has no intention of agreeing to modification or abrogation of these agreements, and will take whatever steps may be appropriate to defend the base.

"The people of the United States, and all the peoples of the world, can be assured that the United States' presence in Guantanamo and use of the base pose no threat whatever to the sovereignty of Cuba, to the peace and security of its people, or to the independence of any of the American countries.

"Because of its importance to the defense of the entire hemisphere, particularly in the light of the intimate relations which now exist between the present government of Cuba and the Sino-Soviet bloc, it is essential that our position in Guantanamo be clearly understood."

Judge Bars Polling Of Finch Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The judge in the second Finch murder trial Tuesday denied a motion to poll the jurors, who began deliberating the case two weeks ago.

Attorney Grant B. Cooper, representing Dr. R. Bernard Finch, moved that the jury be asked how it is divided numerically. He did not ask that they indicate how they stand on guilt or innocence.

Dr. Finch and his pretty mistress, Carole Tregoff, are charged with the July 1959 killing of the surgeon's socialite wife, Barbara. They contend it was accident. The first jury could not agree.

Superior Judge Leroy Dawson said in denying the plea:

"I realize that these people have listened to 12 or 13 weeks of testimony, and I originally thought that two weeks was a reasonable time for them to reach a verdict. But they were interrupted by three days in which they heard testimony reread. I deny the motion now, but I am not saying how I will feel about it by, say, Thursday."

Cooper then moved the jury be discharged. The judge turned that down, too.

Good Morning!

The area was ravaged by destructive quakes last May.

Damaged walls crumbled and cracks opened up in some roads, but there were no early reports of severe destruction or casualties.

Reorganization Of UN Planned

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A drive to expand the U.N. Security Council and the Economic and Social Council was launched yesterday. The Soviet Union quickly served notice it will fight the move unless Red China is seated.

The long-sought increase in the size of the 11-nation Security Council and the 18-nation Economic and Social Council is aimed at giving Asian and African countries better representation. Preliminary debates began in the U.N. Assembly special political committee.

The increase requires two-thirds approval in the 99-nation General Assembly, to be followed by formal ratification by two-thirds of the U.N. members, including the five permanent members of the Security Council. These are the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union, France and China.

Thus, if any of the five countries fails to ratify, the move to expand the councils would be halted.

Castro Halts Those Trying To Flee Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government yesterday tightened its control over Cubans seeking to flee this troubled island by extending its blacklist of those banned from seeking refuge abroad.

Informed sources said the list now includes many types of professional men needed in Castro's planned economy—engineers, petroleum specialists, all government employes and Cuban executives of the many newly nationalized U. S. and Cuban businesses.

These people now must obtain special permits from their superiors before they are allowed to visit or take up residence abroad. Enforcement of this order has been noticeably strengthened in recent days.

Monday a Cubana Airlines plane bound for Miami with a full load of passengers was delayed at Havana Airport for three hours while officials checked and rechecked all passengers. Six persons, apparently all Cubans, were taken off the plane before it left.

The latest move is to delay the baggage of those flying out of Cuba and forward it on later flights. Officials term it strictly a security precaution.

Some of the nation's best trained and most experienced men already have left the country. Among these are at least 16 top Cuban technicians at the seized Shell Oil refinery. Technicians at the former Esso Standard and Texaco refineries, now operated by the government petroleum monopoly, also have left.

"It's beginning to pinch," said one Cuban professional man.

Walter Hits Hard At Eisenhower

By Tony Cesare
Record Reporter

BRODHEADSVILLE — Congressman Francis E. Walter hit hard at the Eisenhower Administration last night while Rep. Van D. Yetter took the local level to task in what he outlined as "setting the record straight."

Rep. Yetter said he was confused by what he was hearing lately of how he voted for a wage tax in General Assembly.

"It must have been a bad dream," Yetter declared but he said he checked with the Secretary of House of Representatives in Harrisburg anyway and received this telegram in reply:

". . . Record reveals no bill was endorsed or voted upon," the secretary message stated.

"Deliberate Attempt"

Yetter said it was a "deliberate attempt to confuse the issue," in Monroe County.

The two Democratic leaders in the county spoke at the Democratic dinner at West End Fire House before a capacity crowd.

Other addresses were delivered by Assistant Atty. Gen. of Pennsylvania George G. Lindsay who delivered the Kennedy-Johnson message to the assembly and Bessie Altemose, who told the group of how the campaign is running in the western end of the county.

Cong. Walter's talk included the present status of American prestige, the sacred documents of the U.S. Constitution and attacked the present Administration as "do-nothings."

Walter, who in rapid succession asked the question and just as rapidly answered his own query said:

"Have we kept pace with the demands people make on the government?"

"No!," he blurted.

"But we won't delve on great length . . . or spend our time now to justify the do-nothing Administration." But if we had foresight (in previous elections) "then we wouldn't find ourselves in the situations we have today."

The 15th District Congressman also spoke of how he is aware of the prestige reports and how the country's prestige "has been lowered."

He attacked Eisenhower for not making a better showing at the U. N., during the last big meeting there and said that the President should have greeted the heads of state more fashionably. "The same way as they greeted him when he toured their countries," he said.

Walter went on to say that no government official can deviate from the sacred document of the U. S. Constitution. He stated that every official swears allegiance to U. S. document and . . . "swear to support the Constitution of the U. S."

"Any president couldn't disobey these laws and get away with it for five minutes," he said. The separation of church and state are "very, very, plainly described," he reported.

Jokingly, Walter said he knows Nixon (Vice President Nixon) so well that he prefers not to talk about him.

Yetter, during his brief remarks, said the GOP controlled Senate in Harrisburg have rebuked on many bills sponsored by the Democrats.

He illustrated the $55 million school aid bill which would have lowered taxes in many districts but the GOP overruled the act.

"Just look around the county and you will see things being done, Yetter said in reference to radio broadcasts, he has been hearing lately of how the Democrats haven't done anything for the past six years.

Yetter pointed out the 'Wind Gap Highway,' the constructions in the Stroudsburgs and the new thruways under construction as prime examples.

Rev. John P. Kline, of Pleasant Valley Lutheran Church gave the invocation while the toastmaster was Attorney Kennard Lewis.

Mrs. Kathryn Yetter, Mrs. John P. Kline, Grace Palmer, Democratic Club president of Monroe County; George Hallett, chairman of Monroe Co., Democratic Committee and many others of the organization were introduced.

East Stroudsburg Police Car Question Is Deferred

THE question of a second police car was referred to its police committee last night by East Stroudsburg Borough Council.

The action was taken after Robert W. Irwin, owner and operator of the Penn-Dell Dairy at 665-669 N. Courtland St., presented a strong argument for a second car.

Irwin cited four separate accidents at Eagle Valley Corners since Aug. 27 of this year and a series of burglaries dating from eight years back as evidence of the need for another car.

Irwin suggested that the new car should be a small sedan, unmarked. He charged that most of the persons involved in the accidents at the corner are local persons who know the road conditions and who are reasonably sure that the present police car, which he described as "lighted up like a Christmas tree," is nowhere around.

Irwin said the department's first car was purchased in 1939 when the borough had a two-man police force and that with eight fulltime patrolmen at present, there is ample manpower to staff a second car. He also charged that two men in one car is a waste of manpower.

Irwin said the borough "can well afford to put on a second car."

Burgess Jesse R. S. Flory said he feels a second car would help and added: "There is no question they (meaning speeders and other violators) watch the police car.

In other action, Council:

Deferred until a meeting on Nov. 15 awarding of a contract for collection of garbage, refuse and ashes after receiving bids of $5,745.48 from William J. Halterman and $5,500 from Willie Harper for a six-month period.

Approved Request

Approved a request from residents of E. Brown St. to have a borough-owned copper water line replaced with a six-inch line, if the petitioners agree to pay for it on a front footage basis.

Agreed to move a fire hydrant on Washington St. approximately two to three feet to permit installation of a canopy to be erected for East Stroudsburg National Bank.

Accepted the appointment of David Swank to the shade tree commission by Flory.

Approved $150 additional for operating capital of the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg Control Center. Stroudsburg will contribute an equal amount.

S.S. Setup Of County Plans Meet

THE Monroe County Sunday School Association will open its 65th annual Convention with a two-day session being held Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, 8:00 p.m.

The speaker for the convention will be Rev. D. K. Reisinger, who will be speaking on the topic, "Get the Job Done Now," for tonight's service. Rev. Reisinger who served more than twenty years in the pastorate, comes to us with a very high recommendation as a Convention speaker. He has served as Eastern Director of Education Services for Gospel Light Publications; for the past five years he has been president of Evangelical Teacher Training Association, Wheaton, Ill. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the National Sunday School Association. For seven years, he was President of the Buffalo, New York Bible Institute during which time he was a member of the Executive Committee of the Accrediting Association of Bible Colleges. Rev. Reisinger comes to us as a well known Convention speaker, and is therefore in constant demand in all phases of Sunday School training.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton host church pastor will lead the devotions with special music by Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder, Soloist.

Warren W. Godshall, President would therefore extend an invitation to all persons actively engaged in Sunday School endeavor to attend these meetings. The Fellowship Dinner is scheduled for 5:00 p.m. Thursday evening, and all persons interested in attending should have reservations made with the E. Stroudsburg Methodist Church Office.

Horn Cites Growth Of Area Resorts

"THE RESORT areas of Monroe County will not grow and prosper if the entire Democrat program is put into l..ing," said Woodrow A. Horn, Republican Candidate for Congress, last night at a Republican Rally at the Stroudsburg American Legion Home.

"You know," Horn pointed out, "the Democrats and my opponents have consistently fostered a series of programs that mean additional taxes and inflation of the dollar which must result in less disposable income for leisure activity.

"Federal spending sounds wonderful but you will pay the cost of the Democrat programs and you will pay it two ways—in higher taxes and in the loss of business for this area. The Eisenhower years have been good years for you and to buy the Democrat 'platform of promises' at this time wil' be nothing but disasterous.

Long, Hard Winter Is Seen By Old Farmer's Almanac

By Don Allen
Record Reporter

Stand by for a long, hard Winter.

That's the word from the Old Farmer's 1961 Almanac, now in its 169th continuous year of publication.

Robb Sagendorph of Dublin, N. H., who has edited and published the almanac since 1939, has this to say on the subject:

"The Winter will be colder than last year and slightly colder than average. There will be 52.5 inches of snow, 19.68 inches total precipitation and for these five months (November, December, January, February and March) an average temperature of just under 30 degrees. Look for a cold November, snowy December, very cold January, warm but snowstruck February and a cold but not too snowy March."

Rainy Summer ? ?

To those who survive the Winter, the almanac offers this outlook for the remainder of the year:

An early Spring and "if there is such a thing, normal or average;" a rainy Summer with no heat records being broken and a Fall which will be warm and "relatively excellent vacation weather."

The weather, of course, is only one of a variety of subjects to which the almanac devotes itself.

There is a listing of eclipses, an outdoor planting table, a schedule of growing seasons and killing frosts, an article on sonic booms, fallout, satellites and the moon, a page devoted to the origin of the names of the days of the week and—so help us—something called a "do it yourself" astrology game.

You can also find bird migration tables, "seasonal recipes," postal laws, word charades, old-fashioned puzzles and laws governing such diverse subjects as hunting, automobiles and marriage.

If you get the idea from the above that the almanac is a compilation of a little bit about a lot of things and not much about anything, you're so right.

And, apparently, that's just the way people like it. How else do you account for the glowing testimonials listed in an accompanying brochure on the almanac?

Can't Argue

For another thing, you can't very well argue with an institution — and if being published for 169 years doesn't make the almanac an institution, it should.

Sagendorph and Co. even managed to corral that urbane man about letters, Ogden Nash, to write a little treatise for them. It's right there at the top of Page 78.

In addition, there is miscellaneous information on such vital issues as "concerning kisses," early bathtubs (We are not making this up as we go along and an 1858 article entitled, "The Red Petticoat Not Getting On?" — which must have been pretty daring stuff in those days.

Around 169 Years

Call it corny if you like — and it has been by many — but a lot of farmers and a lot of other persons in more sophisticated occupations swear by it. And since it has been around for 169 years, it looks as if it's here to stay.

Strunk Is Named To Authority

ETST STROUDSBURG Borough Council last night named Clarence Strunk, chief of Acme Hose Co. No. 1, to the East Stroudsburg Municipal authority, succeeding Fred S. Miller, who resigned after he was appointed operator of the borough's sewage treatment plant.

Burgess Jesse R. S. Flory cast the deciding vote in favor of Strunk after he and George Butts, also nominated for the post, drew a 3-3 councilmanic vote.

The council also named Arthur Troegner to the borough's planning commission. This nomination had no opposition.

The one '61 car built to back up a long-term warranty

Ford led the way with the one car beautifully built to take care of itself . . . and you

On September 29, Ford Dealers set an industry trend—were first to extend their 1961 car warranty from the conventional 4,000 miles or 3 months to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first.

Why? Because Ford built the one car to support such confidence. Ford for 1961 is the one car beautifully built to take care of itself!

The '61 Ford was designed and built to the more exacting standards necessary to offer an extended warranty. Ask to see this warranty at your dealer's.

It is significant that Ford has so many take-care-of-itself features not found in other cars, regardless of price. These new Ford features are a triumph of exhaustive research, fine engineering, and quality construction that give you the most reliable Ford ever built. Drive a '61 Ford soon.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubricates itself—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications. Then a quick, inexpensive Ford Dealer lube job (which costs about $4.00*) will get you set for another 30,000 miles.

Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically for the life of the lining.

Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

Record Endorses Veteran Congressman For Reelection

A vote for Congressman Francis E. Walter next Tuesday is the best way the people of the 15th Congressional District can express their appreciation for a job well done during the past 28 years.

Mr. Walter, Democrat, of Easton, is seeking his 15th consecutive two-year term as a member of the U.S. House of Representatives. No other Pennsylvanian has ever served as long in either the House or Senate.

The people of the 15th District (indeed, those of the entire United States) have reason to be proud of the long and faithful service credited to Mr. Walter since he first took office.

The honors paid to him by his colleagues—and others—are mute testimony to everything he has accomplished on behalf of his fellow man over the years. A recital of his accomplishments since entering the House at the start of the Roosevelt Administration in 1933 would read like a book.

Suffice to say, Congressman Walter has risen to a high and honored place among our public servants in Washington.

He is most famous, perhaps, as chairman of the important anti-subversive House Committee on Un-American Activities. Because of his ceaseless efforts in exposing Communists, both in this country and elsewhere, he is best known by the people who hate him most—the Reds.

Congressman Walter is also chairman of the Subcommittee on Immigration, the ranking Democrat on the Judiciary Committee and a member of the Joint Committee on Immigration and Nationality Policy.

The high regard in which he is held within his own party became evident when he was elected chairman of the House Democratic Caucus by a vote of the membership.

The congressman is seventh in seniority among House Democrats and ninth in the entire House, and is the youngest in years of any of the members having great seniority.

His service to this country has carried him abroad on many occasions, among them as the U.S. delegate to the Intergovernmental Committee on European Migration at Geneva where he was elected president by acclaim. His awards include those presented by Japan, The Netherlands and Italy for distinguished service.

Mr. Walter's opponent in the present campaign has charged the congressman with absenteeism during portions of the last (86th) session of Congress.

On the surface, the charge appears to be a valid one. It is not substantiated, however, since it is a matter of public record that Mr. Walter was in Europe and Africa on government business or holding committee hearings in this country during much of the time referred to by his political rival.

It is also a fact, moreover, that Mr. Walter was called upon to preside as speaker of the House when controversial measures came before the membership during the last session. This was by agreement of the leaders of both parties.

His wise counsel and his stature among fellow congressmen resulted in both parties reaching agreement on most points of issue and thus averting deadlocks during the heated debates.

It is a privilege, we feel, to lend our wholehearted editorial support to the candidacy of Congressman Francis E. Walter. We call upon all voters to cast their ballots for him at next Tuesday's election.

Mr. Castro Runs True To Form

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Twisted Words

Colonialism has become a bad word. Liberation has always been a good word. The Western Powers have abandoned colonialism because they do not wish to be smeared by bad words (there are also other reasons, perhaps as pressing).

Soviet Russia calls colonialism liberation when it is associated with Soviet Russia. It is only colonialism when someone else does it. Ergo, Soviet Russia engages in a new kind of colonialism.

Let us take Cuba as an example. Spain practiced colonialism in Cuba. The United States went to war with Spain, occupied Cuba, gave Cuba its independence, in fact, liberated Cuba. So, we are gringos for doing that.

We are colonialists, imperialists, expoiters because we liberated Cuba. Now, Soviet Russia is turning Cuba into a Soviet satellite which is colonialism, but it is called liberation. From whom is Cuba being liberated?

While other countries are revoking their colonial charters and are giving subpect peoples their freedom, Soviet Russia has engaged in a new colonialism and so has Red China. Soviet Russia has become a successor to the Hapsburg Dynasty in the Danubian area.

It has conquered and taken the Balkan as well as the Baltic countries. Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Albania, Czechoslovakia, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia and Poland have become colonies (satellites) of Soviet Russia. East Germany has become little more than a province of Soviet Russia.

Mongolia is a hunting ground between Soviet Russia and Red China. And now, the Kremlin is moving into Ghana and Guinea and the Congo in Africa, while Red China has conquered Tibet and is moving into Ladakh, Napal, Assam, and is seeking to operate southward until it reaches the Bay of Bengal. As soon as a country gains its freedom, Soviet Russia attemts to liberate it — that is, to control it.

It is estimated that between 1945 to 1960, 38 nations have won their freedom from Western European colonial powers, where as Soviet Russia has extended its control over more than 25 countries.

A. Nations or areas formally incorporated into Soviet Union: Azerbaijan, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, East Poland, East Prussia, Bessarabia and Northern Bukovina, Sub-Carpathian Ruthenia, Karella, Sakhalin, Tannu Tuva, Kurile Islands.

B. Nations formally maintained as independent but in fact subject to Communist (Soviet and Chinese) colonial rule:

China, Manchuria, North Vietnam, North Korea, Tibet, Outer Mongolia, Poland, East Germany, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Albania.

The Soviet plan is twofold: it conducts a violent agitation for liberation or it supports a local party which seeks liberation. Then it steps in and takes over.

Thus, in Indonesia, where Sukarno believes that he is independent and neutral, he is constantly being forced to move farther to the left and was required to bring with him to the United Nations General Assembly a Communist leader, perhaps because his Communists are so powerful or because he needed a monitor. At any rate, he was afraid of something.

The West has made a grevious error in giving up its colonies, particularly in Africa where in most countries there the people are not ready for self-government and where significant mineral deposits can fall into the hands of Soviet Russia.

The rejection of colonialism by the Western Powers was forced by "the spirit of the times," a trite and meaningless phrase which can be defined as anyone chooses but which never means anything specific.

What happened was that in each Western country many persons, hoping to avert war and to change the world, insisted upon moving helter-skelter into libertarian movements, assuming that others are equally just and upright.

The African leaders do not have sufficient popular support or a long enough tradition to appreciate the values of self-government any more than the various peoples of the vast territory of Soviet Russia know what democracy means, they never having had any experience with its institutions or protocols.

An excellent example of the Russian concept of parliamentary majority rule was Khrushchev banging his shoe on a desk to distract attention from an applauded person in the General Assembly. He has had no experience with fair play to an opposition.

The reason that Soviet Russia moves into the so-called liberated areas is precisely because they are now on their own; they are incapable of self-government; and when the Western European Powei evacuates, a political vacuum is formed which Soviet Russia fills.

Veterans Guide

Q. I understand that recent legislation allowed veterans of the Spanish-American War to change from their older system of pension payments to benefits under the new law, if they wish. Does this new ruling also apply to the dependents of Spanish-American War veterans?

A. No, only to the veterans themselves. The veterans may elect to take pensions under the new law, but their dependents, as well as dependents of deceased Civil War veterans, may not.

Q. I am the widow of a World War II veteran who never applied for a GI loan. I have never remarried. Recently I noticed that the deadline for World War II GI loans had been extended to July 25, 1962. Does that mean my right to apply for a loan was also extended?

Q. I am a World War II veteran drawing disability compensation from the VA, and I also have a GI insurance policy on which I pay monthly premiums. I'd like to have VA use my compensation to pay my insurance premiums. Will they do that?

A. Yes. So long as your disability compensation checks are large enough to cover premiums, VA will arrange with you to have those premiums deducted from your monthly compensation checks. Just write and tell them what you'd like to do. Be sure to give your "C" number and the number of your insurance policy with the letter or letters before it.

The Pennsylvania Story

Minehart Speaks

(Editor's Note — The four candidates for Pennsylvania's two fiscal offices — State Auditor General and State Treasurer — this week are serving as guest columnists for Mason Denison. With the completion of this week's guest writings every candidate for statewide office this year—plus the two presidential candidates — at one time or another during the campaign will have had the opportunity of expressing their unabridged viewpoints in this newspaper and the nearly 40 other daily newspapers throughout the state in which "The Pennsylvania Story" is syndicated.)

By Thomas Z. Minehart
Democratic Candidate
For Auditor General

Throughout Pennsylvania, in and out of state and local government, the Auditor General is often referred to as the "watchdog" of the State Treasury. It has become a cliche; but like all cliches, the essence of truth is there. By law, only the Auditor General can, in effect, pay the State's bills.

It is worth noting that the Auditor General does not spend the State's money.

The State Legislature does this through appropriations to the various State agencies who, through the act of performing their mandated responsibilities, expend their allotted funds.

But, neither the State Legislature nor the agencies of state government have been constitutionally endowed with the right to pay their bills.

This duty has been granted the Auditor General and he fulfills this duty through the issuance of warrants to the State Treasurer who, in turn, fulfills his responsibility by writing checks in accordance with the warrants.

These warrants are prepared by the Auditor General upon receipt of proper requisitions and itemized statements from the State department, board or commission, or other agency to whom an appropriation of State money has been made by the State Legislature.

Before the warrant is written, however, it is the duty of the Auditor General to scrutinize the requisition to determine both its accuracy and its legality.

A legal background is important to the proper fulfillment of these duties, insofar as the expenditures of State money is concerned.

There is the other side of the coin, however, and it is equally important. For the Auditor General must also audit and inspect the accounts of all moneys owed to the Commonwealth.

The significance of this responsibility is sometimes lost in the avalanche of news releases proclaiming the present Auditor General's intrepidity in protecting the taxpayers' interest by watching outgo.

It seems to me that to protect the taxpayers' interest by carefully scrutinizing the reports of tax returns of those persons, associations or corporations who owe money to the Commonwealth is a corollary responsibility of this State office of which we hear little.

To me, the taxpayers' interests can best be protected by the Auditor General if that man has legal training and background.

My legal career lends itself to this need. In the maze of legal technicalities which inevitably arise in a complex agency of State governmrnt serving all other agencies of State government, a mind trained to search out fact and act in the letter as well as the spirit of the law is essential to good administration.

There is another factor which may justifiably be mentioned when a candidate for public office is appealing to the people — which is apart from the duties of the office he seeks. It is his philosophy of government—the meaning for which he understands public service to hold for the people.

My philosophy of government is the Democratic one. I believe that government exists to serve the people, but not to impose its will upon the people. I believe that government should be imaginative and act positively. I think it is wrong for servants of government to willfully obstruct the progress of the people's business for partisanship or for private advantage.

My family has long been identified with politics and government service. Two of my uncles from Franklin County served in the State Legislature. My father and, later, I served on Philadelphia City Council. I was the sole candidate elected on a reform ticket during the Republican domination of that city, the same Republican rule which was later turned out by the people after a series of scandals and corruption.

If granted the privilege, I will serve the people of this Commonwealth with honor and to the best of my ability.

Mirror of Time

Several Puerto Ricans made a daring attempt on the life of President Truman. The assassins shot their way to the presidential doorway before one was killed and the other seriously wounded. Their plan was to kill the president as he was sleeping.

Twenty-one men from Monroe County left for induction into the Armed Services.

Members of the American Legion and the VFW were among those selected to man the ground-observation posts in Monroe County by Civil Defense.

A total of $928,135 had been received by Monroe County veterans of World War II.

Members of the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church observed the 50th Anniversary of the church with special services in the church.

The report on the kill of small game in Monore County was listed as, "better than average."

Monroe County Sunday School Association held its 46th Annual Convention in the Presbyterian Church, Stroudsburg.

Minnesota and Northwestern were tied for the number one football team in the nation.

Off The Record

By Robert Clark, City Editor

Probably one of the best humorous stories about the coming election came from the lips of Monroe's District Attorney James Marsh.

Last week Marsh decided to take a poll of the number of stickers on cars for the different candidates. His findings: Vice President Richard Nixon, 97 stickers; Senator John F. Kennedy, 86; and the Wild Animal Farm, 112.

This means that either a bear, kangaroo or elk will be the next president and that the Cabinet will be made of every other animal from high atop Foxtown Hill.

Well, at least the government will be in the hands of Monroe County "personnel."

Mrs. Mabelle G. Creen is the 13th postmaster to serve the Mountainhome Post Office. Daniel Staples was the first to head the mails when the setup was situated at White's Tannery, 1858.

Other postmasters who served the area which dedicated a new post office building last Saturday were George Shafer, to 1861; Jeremiah Kresge, 1870; Jerome Frantz, 1875; Charles Decker, 1883; Martin B. Rinehart, 1893; Garrison Shafer, 1895; Madge Sarbaugh, 1915; Madge Shotwell, 1918; John J. Sarbaugh, 1923; Rapha C. Seig, 1929; and Charles Kingsley, 1934.

White's Tannery was changed to Mountain Home in 1870 and in 1895 was changed to one word—Mountainhome.

Mrs. Creen took over her present post June 18, 1934.

Harold Kreck, of Barrett Twp., did a magnificent job as master of ceremonies at the dedication of the new Mountainhome Post Office over the weekend.

Harold, one of Barrett's chief bosters verbally and physically ran the program o ffin clocklike fashion and gave the assembled quick and to the point remarks about each individual on the rostrum.

Issues In Campaign—V

Split On Health Care

By Congressional Quarterly

The basic issue on medical care for the aged in 1960 is whether to tackle the problem through compulsory national insurance under the Social Security system, as advocated by the Democrats, or through a federal-grant program that is dependent on state actions, as advocated by the Republicans.

The essential objective of both programs is to spread the costs among the younger working population through governmental action. Both sides concede that private insurance companies can not do the job on their own because of built-in cost factors in insuring the aged.

Kennedy Position

The approach supported by Democratic Presidential nominee John F. Kennedy calls for uniform nationwide health benefits for aged Social Security recipients, financed by a small increase in the Social Security payroll tax. The plan, strongly backed by the AFL-CIO, was defeated in the Senate Aug. 23, 44-51 (43-19; R 1-32). The fight against it was led by the American Medical Assn.

Democrats, who took the initiative in aged health care legislation in the 1959-60 Congress, claim that their program would work while the Republican plan would not, since the GOP plan hinges on implementation by the states. Democrats say there is little evidence that the states are in a position to act. On the other hand, they point out, at least 30 state governors, including New York Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller, have gone on record in favor of the Social Security approach.

Kennedy says his party's program is "based soundly on the pay-as-you-go insurance principles of the Social Security system" and would "enable our older citizens to receive help without making them take a pauper's oath."

During a swing through Buffalo in September, Kennedy described the Republican counterproposal as one which "will cost the American taxpayer over a billion dollars a year, is impossible to administer, which will not even be put into effect in many of our states, which has been rejected by the Governor of New York, and which will fail to bring relief where it does go into effect."

Answering GOP complaints that the Social Security plan is "compulsory," Democrats say the general taxes required to finance the Republican plan would be equally compulsory. To charges that the Social Security approach would allow benefits to wealthy beneficiaries who did not need them, Democrats say the only alternative, a "needs test," would be less desirable.

To complaints that the plan would not cover the aged who are not on Social Security, Democrats point out that many of these persons are covered by other government retirement programs, and the remainder could be covered by a "medically needy" program passed by the Senate in August. And to charges that the Social Security plan would blunt private insurance efforts, the Democrats counter that it would actually free the insurance companies from the high risks of the aged so that they could do a better job in other categories.

Nixon Position

The aged health care proposal supported by Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon calls for payments directly out of the treasury to assist states which decided to implement the Nixon program. The plan was defeated in the Senate, the same day the Kennedy plan was beaten but by a heavier margin, 28-67 (D 0-62; R 28-5).

The Nixon plan calls for a fixed range of benefits in states for some flexibility within that range. Participating states would be required to offer benefits to aged persons with incomes of $3,000 or less annually ($4,500 for a couple). Those who paid an enrollment fee would be entitled to specified government paid benefits. Others would be entitled to government subsidies of up to $60 annually to help them pay premiums of private insurance.

Although the Eisenhower Administration opposed the Social Security health care approach during House hearings of the Democratic "Forand bill" in 1959, it was nearly a year before the GOP presented its own program. The main Republican objections to the Social Security approach were that (1) it could "blank out" private commercial insurance efforts for the aged, (2) it would be "compulsory," and (3) it could be a step toward "socialized" national health care.

Nixon, in the first of the "great debates" Sept. 30, said the alternate health and other welfare proposals he was supporting were "not extreme" and "will accomplish and end without too great cost in dollars or in freedom." Nixon said he was convinced his proposals "could get through the next Congress."

Nixon Oct. 6 in Cleveland said his plan "would do a better job of meeting the costs of either short-term or long-term illnesses," would be "voluntary," would be operated "not by the Federal Government but by the states, with federal support" and "would build on and not destroy the encouraging progress being made by private health insurance." He said the Kennedy program would not help three million aged persons who were not on Social Security, but "would help the wealthy who have absolutely no need of it."

Nixon said that it was his "conviction" that "the American people don't want, and I don't believe that they will allow, anyone to am compulsory insurance down their throats."

Inside You And Yours

Dear Doctor

By Burton H. Fern, M. D.

Dear Doctor: I have terrible heartburn and gas pains, but x-rays showed nothing unusual.

I bought tablets containing calcium carbonate, magnesium trisilicate, glycerine and magnesium superoxol and take two every night. They give complete relief.

Should I keep taking them?

Mrs. L. F.

Dear Mrs. F.: If your doctor says so. The tablets can't harm you unless they cloud the real problem.

Pain is a useful alarm. You don't want to be like the fireman who couldn't stand the clanging alarm, disconnected it and missed the fire.

Sometimes this gas erupts from a blown-up emotional problem. Carrying the torch for an old flame has fired up many a heartburn in the younger set.

Dear Doctor: Is there a complete cure for albumen in the urine?

My six-year-old daughter has had it for two years, but the doctor won't give her any medication.

Mrs. H. P.

How It Happens

Dear Mrs. P.: The kidneys form urine by straining blood, usually holding back all proteins. But enough force on the strainer can open the mesh and let smaller proteins (albumen) through.

Sometimes albumen pours through only when standing or sitting, especially if the lower part of the spine shows a deep forward curve. It seems like gravity is pushing albumen through the strainer, because the condition clears when lying flat.

This is only one of many normal causes for albumen in the urine, which do no harm and need no treatment.

Ask your doctor what he thinks!

Celery Itch

Dear Doctor: Can you catch poison ivy from celery?

My boy friend, who works picking celery, has a rash that looks just like poison ivy but the doctor calls it celery itch.

Miss S. A.

Dear Miss A.: Celery can cause a rash just like bad poison ivy. Perhaps the itching blisters come from the plant-oil, chemicals sprayed on the celery, or celery-attacking fungus.

Celery rash clears up just like poison ivy.

Dear Doctor: My mother, grandmother and aunt all had Huntington's chorea. Some say it is inherited only by women.

Is this true? Can you prevent it?

Mrs. G. J.

Both Sexes

Dear Mrs. J.: Both men and women inherit Huntington's St. Vitus Dance.

Everyone inherits two traits, one from mother and one from father. You need only one, labeled Huntington, for admission to this St. Vitus Dance.

Perhaps your mother had only one; then she could have passed the normal tendency on to you. You won't know until you're much older, because the ailment often strikes late in life.

If you have the trait, half your children may inherit it. If you have no children, none will inherit it.

From The Realm Of Stamps

By Ray Patton

The four and eight cent "Champion of Liberty" series honoring Giuseppe Garibaldi will have first day sale at Washington, D. C., Nov. 5. The stamps will follow the previous designs of this series with the four cent value printed on the green color of the Italian Flag, and the eight cent value in red, blue and ocher.

The design is by Arnold Copeland, a member of the Citizens Stamp Advisory Committee. Giuseppi Garibaldi, Italian patriot, liberator and guerrilla leader was born in 1802. He became a sailor and when he was 23 was master of a ship. His espousal of the Italian National Movement forced his flight into exile several times.

While in exile in South America he fought for the liberation of Uruguay and then returned to Italy in the defense of Rome against the French. After the French withdrew from Rome it paved the way to the final unification of Italy. Garibaldi died in 1882 at Caprera.

No date or city of issue has as yet been set for the four cent Dulles Memorial Stamp but it still is due sometime after Nov. 15. The four cent Lincoln "Credo" will have first day sale at New York Nov. 19 in conjunction with the National ASDS show at the 71st Infantry Armory.

Stamp Club News

The Monroe Stamp Club will meet tonight at 8 at 36 Club Court, Stroudsburg. This meeting will feature a "Foreign Mixture." For the meeting on Nov. 16, which will be during National Stamp Collecting Week, the club will have two sound films, "St. Lawrence Seaway" and the new "Automated Post Office." Visitors are welcome.

Display The Flag

Dear Mr. Editor:

This is just a little note on our flag. Veterans Day is just a few days away—it seems we have forgotten.

When our boys came home we had lots of flags out; they were in windows and the streets. It seems we were proud of our boys. But now it looks like we have forgotten.

There were very few flags when we honored boys who passed away, on Memorial Day.

So please if you have a flag put it out so when our boys pass your home they will know you are thanking them for what they have done for us. We should be very proud to have a flag like ours.

MURIEL HUGHES
551 Main St.,
Stroudsburg, Pa.

The Flag

A bit of cloth, you tell me,
Is all it means to you.
A piece of streaming textile,
In Red, White and Blue.
But, oh! that banner waving,

So high and gay and free,
In God's clear air and sunlight,
Means more than that to me.

My heart is in those colors,
Their ripples thrill my soul,
They lead a happy people,
To some God-given goal.

New Social Security Benefit Checks On Way

TOMORROW, Stroudsburg area and people across the nation will receive social security benefit checks, made possible for the first time by the 1960 amendments to the social security law.

Receiving checks for the first time will be working people and their dependents (and also some survivors of workers who have died) and have become eligible for benefits because of a provision reducing the amount of social security credit needed.

The amount for work required to qualify for benefits has been reduced by about one-third, Harry R. Peterman, district manager of the Easton social security office said.

Also Receiving

Also receiving benefits for the first time will be widows whose husbands died before 1940. Before the changes in the law enacted in September, no benefits were payable to the survivors of any person dying before 1940.

Now, benefits may be paid to the qualified survivors of such persons if the worker, at the time of his or her death, had credit for at least a year and a half of work under social security.

Persons who believe they qualify for benefits under the amended law may still apply and receive benefits beginning with the month of October. Additional information about this can be obtained from the local social security office.

Very Small Change Noted In Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American economist recently returned from Russia reports there has been only a relatively small improvement in living standards there.

The economist is Dr. Floyd A. Bond, now with the private Committee for Economic Development and soon to become dean of the School of Business Administration at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Bond's views appeared in the weekly magazine U.S. News & World Report, in a copyrighted interview.

He said the rate of improvement in Soviet living standards "is disappointing, particularly in light of the glowing reports on the Soviet's high rate of economic growth."

"If the criterion is physical production, I would say the Soviet economy is working quite well, even though productivity is far below our own," Bond said.

"If the criterion is consumer well-being, then I'd say it is working quite badly, even though consumers are better off now than under Stalin."

Falcons Set For Parade

THE Falcon Drum and Bugle Corps, of American Legion Post, East Stroudsburg, will convene in front of the Ramsey School at 6 p.m. tonight, to participate in the Halloween parade.

The Corps is also slated to take part in the annual Halloween parade in Nazareth at 7:30 p.m., on Thursday night. All corps members are requested to meet at the Legion home at 5 p.m., so the corps can leave in convoy.

Any members unable to leave at this time, are asked to depart for the parade as soon as it is possible. A special effort should be made to arrive at the site prior to the 7:30 starting time, a spokesman reported.

Freedom, Honesty Is Reflected Here

HERE'S a lesson in home design. It applies to all who are considering building or buying a new home - whether it is luxurious colonial or a vacation home such as H-421.

Warmth and distinction need not be sacrificed to simplicity and economy.

Although this week's featured home has only three rooms and a bath, its design reflects unusual freedom and honesty. Here's why:

Extensive glass areas relieve the block pattern and opens up the interior. The living room's modest size borrows from the outside with a floor-to-ceiling window wall in the front and a contoured glass wall overlooking the side patio.

The designer, however, does not stop here. A second contoured glass wall compliments the bedroom. To obtain maximum benefit from this feature, a six foot folding door is the dividing partition between the two rooms.

It is agreed among kitchen designers that properly handled, a "U" shaped kitchen is preferable from the standpoint of step-saving efficiency and a maximum of cupboard and counter space.

This kitchen is a "U" and is handled properly. Not only is there room for a two compartment sink but a snack bar as well.

Positioning of the laundry equipment at the opposite end of this area emphasies the theme of a place for everything and everything in its place.

Economic heating unit is centrally located and shut off by a folding door.

Exterior vertical boards give an illusion of height with the brick planter adding a look of sturdiness as well as beauty to the structure. Board fence screens living center from view.

This plan conforms to general FHA, VA and Building Code requirements. Included with this plan you receive Specification Guide, Material List, and Conversion Detail Sheet. Your builder or material supplier can give you the average cost per square or cubic foot in your area. Complete Building Plan, including Detail Sheet, Material List, and Specification Guide for Des. No H-421 may be purchased for $9.75 for first set; 2 for $18.25; 3 for $26.25; or 4 for $33.75. You may also purchase The Daily Record Plan Book showing 71 designs for 75 cents postpaid. Bring Pleasure To Everyone With This Decoration

PLACE THESE whimsical snowmen in front of your home and note how much pleasure they bring to everyone. This colorful Christmas Decoration measures 40 inches high and can be cut from inexpensive panelboard which costs about 10 cents a square foot.

The panelboard required costs approximately $1.25. By following the full-size pattern, you can cut out and decorate these figures with professional results assured. Since you trace through the patterns, each color can be painted in its exact position.

An ordinary coping, jig or compass saw is the only tool needed to cut out the figures. While the largest snowman measures 40" high, it can be made higher by extending the body. If you want one figure to represent each child in your family, cut out additional snowmen to size corresponding to the child's height.

Another personal touch is to name each figure after a member of the family. Still another idea is to cut out the faces and insert a photograph blow-up of each member of the family.

To insure capturing the nappy facial expressions of the snowmen, full-size decorating outlines are printed directly on pattern. The face and body lines are traced directly on the panelboard. Each color is then painted in its respective position. Nothing is left to guesswork.

No artistic ability is needed to decorate with professional touch. After Christmas make a New Year Greeting and fasten it over the original Christmas message.

Send 50 cents in coin or money order (no stamps please) for Pattern No. 331; send 35 cents additional for 64 page catalog illustrating over 300 other Build It Yourself projects to The Daily Record, P. O. Box 215, Pleasantville, New York.

On The House

FROM various sources come these bits of information of interest to the home owner:

With a few exceptions, bedrooms in English homes have no closets. That's because the English use wardrobes as a standard part of bedroom furniture.

Herman H. York made this and other interesting observations in discussing his assignment earlier this year as supervising architect of the American-style home exhibited during England's 50th "Ideal Home Exposition" in London. He also noted that American central heating is considered desirable, but the English will buy houses without it; the interior planning of English homes is much less open than in modern American homes, because the English prefer compartmented houses; and most Englishmen think Americans spend too much money unnecessarily on bathroom and kitchen equipment.

For those confused by the different numbers given to fuel oils, here's a breakdown, furnished by the National Fuel Oil Council. Fuel oil No. 2 leads the list both in production and consumption and is the main home heating oil used in the major types of home heating equipment, in hot water heaters and for similar domestic uses. Kerosene, a widely known product, which has no number, is ordinarily used for heating in space-type heaters, in cooking stoves and lamps.

Fuel oil No. 1 is a similar type of distillate oil, consumed in pot-type burners, space heaters and in some special furnaces.

Fuel oil No. 4 is a heavier type of oil used in large heating units, but which does not require pre-heating before vaporizing in a burner. Fuel oils 5 and 6 are even heavier residual types of oil, are used in large heaters and require pre-heating. Fuel No. 3 is no longer made.

Painting authorities say that about 90 percent of paint blistering on the exterior of a house is caused by water vapor created inside the house from showering, cooking, mopping, washing, etc. Very little of this trouble occurs during the months when the windows are open.

Heat beater blades of an electric mixer in hot water a few minutes before attempting to mix cold shortening with your mixer.

When pan broiling meat, you need only to add enough fat to coat the skillet and keep the meat from sticking.

Modernize Home With Mobile Light

By Vivian Brown
AP Newsfeatures Writer

IT TAKES the American housewife a good while to adopt some of the newer features in the home. She fears the expense and she usually must sell her husband on the idea she can make a radical departure from customary home decorating.

So it goes with mobile light fixtures which make a lot of sense in today's small homes and large families. The units give rooms a sleek, modern look, increasing the living space by eliminating floor clutter.

There is an opportunity to use mobile light fixtures wherever there is a table, chair or bed in the home. If a ceiling outlet isn't available, there are two solutions. Your electrician can add an outlet, sometimes involving a small amount of plastering or decorating. Or you may use a fixture that plugs into a wall outlet near the floor.

Where is the best place in the room for a mobile light fixture?

The American Home Lighting Institute offers this room-by-room guide:

Living Room: Pull-down fixtures are good at the sides of a sofa, and even over end tables, if you have them. The fixtures may be raised to general illumination for reading or sewing.

A low corner table may look very dramatic with a pull-down fixture over it. Pull it down low over a planter or figurine on the table for an unusual effect.

If there is a roving game table in the living room, you may want to use a pull down fixture on a track so that when the table is moved, you may pull the fixture along to follow it. The fixture can be moved up and out of the way when the table is moved back against the wall.

Dining Room and Kitchen: Tables in both of these rooms can appear in a variety of moods by raising or lowering the pull-down fixture mounted above. The lower the fixture, the more intimate the lighting. If there is a buffet table that is used a good deal, a pull-down fixture on a track will be handy to highlight a particular area of the table.

Bedrooms: Pull-down fixtures over night stands provide good reading light and add to room beauty. In children's rooms, a pull-down fixture over the head of the bed is a good idea. A light over a table in the corner separating two beds, L-fashion, may provide all the illumination that is needed in that area.

Sewing Or Study Room: In a room with a desk or sewing center, you'll find work goes faster if you have a pull-down fixture on a track. Let the fixture hang high in the center of the room. When you use the desk or sewing machine, just pull the fixture down and over to the spot where you need the light over your work.

Heres' The Answer

QUESTION: I want to apply liquid wood preservative to some fence posts I will be placing in the ground. Should the preservative be applied with a brush?

ANSWER: Generally, the preservative can be applied with a brush. However, it is essential that the portion of the posts below ground be treated more intensively than that which will be above ground. One way to do this is to fill a galvanized steel pail about half full of the preservative. Place the lower portion of the post in the pail for a minute or two. The upper portion, which projects above the liquid, can then be coated with a brush. After the treated post has been removed from the pail, place it on some old newspapers so that the drippings do not damage the floor or lawn.

QUESTION: in applying putty when replacing a broken window pane, should the putty be painted or left as is?

ANSWER: Putty will last longer if it is painted. However, allow the putty about 24 hours' drying time before putting on the paint. Also, the channel into which the putty is placed should be painted or brushed with linseed oil before application of the putty.

Dear Abby: The tradition of stopping the clocks when someone died stems from an old Irish superstition. It was said that if the "devil" could hear a sound in that house, he would return to claim another spirit. They also turned all the mirrors to the wall so they wouldn't get dark and smoky. Then they went out to the beehive (if they had one) and whispered the news of the death to the bees, lest they leave the hive. Don't ask me why they did all this. I just know they did.

FROM IRELAND

Dear Abby: According to my grandmother, who is 92, only one clock was stopped in the house when a person died. The reason being that when the coroner came around to write up the death certificate there would be no question as to the exact time of the death. There was no superstition to it.

MONICA

Dear Abby: The custom of stopping the clocks when a person died originated in Scotland in the 17th century. In those days all clocks were the loud ticking type, and out of respect for the deceased, they kept complete silence.

M. Mc. T.

Dear Abby: Stopping the clock at the moment of death is an old Jewish practice. It is symbolic that "time" has run out for that person and, therefore, in his honor, everything "stands still" until he is laid to his eternal rest.

HAD JEWISH NEIGHBORS

Dear Abby: Where do people get the idea that stopping the clock when someone dies is an "old superstition?"

It is still done today and the reason is a good one. When friends make condolence calls, they don't have to ask, "What time did he pass away?" They can just look at the clock.

"DOC"

Dear Abby: When I was a little girl, I recall seeing my mother stop the big grandfather clock that stood in our hallway. I asked her why she was stopping the clock and she told me my brother had died, and there should be no chimes or bells in a house of mourning. She was Hungarian-born, so I imagine this was an old Hungarian custom.

OVER EIGHTY

Dear Abby: If you find out why they stopped the clocks when a person died, please print it. And while you are investigating this superstition, also find out why they throw out all the water that happens to be in the vases at the time of death, and why they cover up all the mirrors and pictures.

CURIOUS

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers all letters.

Trooper's Condition Is 'Satisfactory'

NEW BLOOMFIED, Pa. (AP) —A young sailor accused of killing his wife in Maryland is due to be taken to that state Wednesday or Thursday, Perry County authorities said yesterday.

The serviceman, Donald R. Riefer, 24, of Rochester, N. Y., also has been charged with assault with intent to kill for wounding Pennsylvania state trooper Stanley J. Jezewski, 22, of Nanticoke, Friday night.

Jezewski, in satisfactory condition at Harrisburg Polyclinic Hospital, was shot six times when he stopped Riefer for speeding near Limerpool in Perry County. Riefer sped away from the scene and was arrested 90 minutes later near Williamsport.

When caught, police said he admitted killing his wife Geraldine, in their Port Deposit home. Maryland police, checking his story, found the woman's body.

Riefer, who was stationed at the Bainbridge Naval Station, was arraigned on the Pennsylvania charge and was held on $5,000 bail.

Perry County Sheriff Lester Fuller said the defendant probably will be transferred to Maryland in three or four days to face the murder charge.

Riefer shot his wife during a domestic quarrel. When he was arrested, his two sons, Donald, 5, and Daniel, 3, were in the car. A child welfare agency in Williamsport is caring for them.

Manufacturers Hike Spending

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —The Federal Reserve Bank reports that manufacturers in the Philadelphia area will spend a record $412 million this year on new plants and equipment.

The previous high was $391 million in 1957.

The bank said a survey of manufacturers indicates spending next year will drop 20 per cent to $330 million. It added, however, that forecasts for 1962 show no further drop.

Two-thirds of the manufactures answering the poll said spending in 1962 will equal 1961. The remaining third said spending in 1962 will exceed 1961.

There were an estimated 399,000 live births registered during August, 4.5 per cent more than the 382,000 in August 1959.

"50th Year Selling Quality Furniture for Less"

Just Between Us — —

That was truly a terrific fashion show put on at the Manor last night. I might have been at the Couture Group showings in New York from the professional touches to the show: the commentator, the printed programs and the clothes themselves.

The models weren't quite as emaciated as the New York variety, we'll have to admit, but for that very reason the guests could tell how the styles would look on them—well, the ones who are sticking to their diets, anyway.

And I got a little homesick for Italy at all the Italian imports shown—not quite as radical as the avant garde numbers I saw at the Alta Mode showings but beautiful knits handled in an unusual manner.

However, looking around the crowd, I couldn't have been anywhere but Monroe County: they were there from Bushkill and Barrett, and Pocono and Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg, from every club and clique, and both political parties.

Incidentally, the crowd was pretty fashionable, too, I must say, and exhibited some fashion trends themselves, including those big pins Lenore Benson was talking about.

The only fault I could find with the party was that I had to leave it when everybody else was settling down to cards or to hashing over the fashions and deciding which ones they could wear best.

Holiday Fashions Score With 450 Guests At BPWC Party At Manor

The forecast of holiday fashions presented last night at Pocono Manor Inn under the auspieces of the Business and Professional Woman's Club lived up to its title "Viva Elegance" with more than a touch of "Alta Mode," too.

The 63 brand new fashions, presented by Zacher's, East Stroudsburg and commented by Lenore Benson, merchandise editor of Madamoiselle magazine, more than 450 guests from all sections of the county applauded the touches of Parision design, the imported fabrics from Italy, and the all-America.. wearability of the styles.

Printed programs carrying descriptions of each number added a further professional touch to an already professional production, which included sportswear, daytime dresses and — the largest group of all — the after 5 fashions for the holiday.

There was more than a hint of coming fashions for Spring, too in many of the clothes: heightened, whitened colors, a relaxing of the sheath silhouette often marked by soft sashes of leather, fuller skirts, cropped jackets, and emphasis on skirts, under simple, almost severe bodices.

Among the colors, gold, beige, and a sort of whipped cream white called candlelight in interest with the lilac shades: rosewood lilac, and grape. Other high colors were brilliant turquoise, a flame orange, and royal blue.

Leather appeared in many of the sports ensembles in which car coats were teamed with coordinated skirts, blouses and sweaters.

In the daytime dresses, big news came in the knit suits of Italian import, and in the costume look of jerkin or jacket and dress. In this group, the necklines were simple, collarless and often set away from the neck as a background for accessories. Miss Benson forecast that the big important pin was the big news in the jewelry items for late Winter and Spring.

The After 5 fashions included long-sleeved dresses made important: though fabrics like velvet and satin or wool and moire combinations, or silk alpaca and through interesting neckline treatment or unusual peplums, poufs or tunics.

Cocktail dresses included brocades, red chiffons, or gold lame, and the closing ball gowns featured sequin bodices or crystal bead trim made dramatic through color and fabric.

Modeling in the show were many of the BPW members themselves including the president Betty Clark: Ann George, Mary Hunsicker, Sara Kresge, and Joyce Rutt, with Betty McClelland and Doris Shinn — and modeling the men's fashions John Butz.

Ann George was chairman of the successful affair, with the proceeds to be used for the club's welfare projects. Evelyn Hastie was chairman of the ticket committee which included Edna Brockman, Ann George, Hazel Kaniper, Rose Kennedy, Hilda Kitzman, Dolores Lesoine, Betty Peckman, Betty Peterson, Ruth Rinehart and Dorothy Storms. Aura Miller was in charge of publicity.

Diane Flagler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Flagler, provided the music for the show with shoes by George's Smart Footwear, hair stylings by Gladys Rundle, make-up by Millie Everitt; and transportation by Keipers.

A card party followed the fashion show.

The Wyckoff Shopper

"the friendly store" A.B. Wyckoff Stroudsburg, Pa.

THE MAIL ARRIVES—

Dear Wyckoff Shopper,

When talking about gifts for children you said "Blueberry Hound." I have a five year old who looks at TV, and it's Huckleberry Hound. Just thought I would mention it. Huckleberry, blueberry—no difference really.

Mrs. Omar Michaels, Jr.

Dear Mrs. Michaels,

Thank you for listening and thank you for calling my error to mind. I guess I was depending too much upon my memory, for I usually work without notes. As you say, there isn't much difference between huckleberry and blueberry . . . in PIE, at least. I like' em both, and am happy I went no farther astray than I did. I like gooseberries and raspberries too, so that bubble bath hound might have been called just about anything, depending upon where my mind was wandering. I can see I'll have to either take a memory course, make notes about our merchandise, or adopt a five year old. The latter might be too expensive. Anyway, write again . . . or better still, stop by someday and we'll share a dish of STRAWBERRY ice cream!

Sincerely,
Madalyn Maloney

Another letter signed "essie":

Dear Shopper,

I listen to you on the radio. Your programs are best when you "get on your soap box." Why don't you get up there about election, and give us your views on bigotry?"

Yours truly, essie

Dear "essie,"

There are several reasons why I don't, and one is that the Wyckoff store, which sponsors our program, does not endorse any political party or candidate, and I would likewise not wish to do so. There is one thing I am for, and so is the store—the United States of America. My personal feeling is that God probably admires much for which our nation stands, and will not let us go too far astray in the selection of a President. I personally hope to vote intelligently, and have listened to both candidates regularly and weighed the issues. I have tried to decide in my own mind whether their promises are sound, or whether they would eventually cost our nation more than they would give. My mind is made up . . . I have no desire to force my opinions upon anyone, and can only wish everyone felt likewise.

As for bigotry, I think most people are, to an extent, biased beyond reason on certain subjects. Bigotry, however, is a two-edged sword, and I deplore it. It annoys me when I see it in others. I am ashamed when I find it in myself. Beyond this, I wouldn't make a statement. In any case, thank you for listening and for writing. Keep listening, keep writing, and when you are in the store, drop by.

Best wishes,
Madalyn Maloney

My sincere thanks also to Mrs. Helen Hess for the pretty card, and to the members of the Portland Woman's Club for their letter about our recent fashion show and Wyckoff Shopper column. I love mail the way some gals love males.

Reject Request For Dismissal

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— The district attorney's office and the State Justice Department have asked that charges be dismissed against Miss Norma Jean Scott, 21, a witness in a vote fraud case.

However, the request was disregarded and she was held on $500 bail by Magistrate Thomas A Marotta yesterday.

She testified Thursday against John Whitehead, 35, a Democratic committeeman. Whitehead, she said, paid her to vote five times in last November's election. As a result of her testimony, Whitehead brought counter charges against her.

WHAT STARTS THINGS ROLLING RIGHT AFTER ELECTION?

The election returns, of course. But who totes up these results so you have them scant hours after the polls close? Not the government. (Government returns won't be certified for weeks.) The count is made by almost 10,000 daily and weekly newspapers working hand in hand with Associated Press and United Press International. On election night, tens of thousands of newsmen pick up vote totals at precinct level, feed them up the line to local, state and national headquarters. Computers translate the numbers into hard election facts: who won, who lost. (Generally, the press wire services handle state and national counts; your local newspapers, city and county contests.) Vote counting is only one key role newspapers play in a free election. Newspapers bring you coverage—in unmatched depth—of conventions and campaigns. Newspapers bring you candidates' words in a form you can go back to for checking and rechecking. On editorial pages, newspapers express opinions, explore issues, help you weigh platforms and promises—help you make a well-informed choice. At election time—and all the time—you can bet on newspapers. And never lose.

The Daily Record

Missouri Second

Iowa First But Must Get Past Minnesota

By The Associated Press

IOWA'S rating as the No. 1 college football team of the nation will be challenged Saturday at Minneapolis when it meets the strong Minnesota team which is ranked No. 3 in the weekly Associated Press poll of a 48-man panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

The Iowa team, which has rolled over Oregon State, Northwestern, Michigan State, Wisconsin, Purdue and Kansas for six straight victories, was a near-unanimous choice in this week's poll. The Hawkeyes received 46 first place ballots as compared to one each for Minnesota and Washington.

Minnesota also takes impressive credentials into this vital clash for the Big Ten lead. The Gophers have won six in a row in their march past Nebraska, Indiana, Northwestern Illinois, Michigan and Kansas State.

In six games, Iowa has scored more points (161 to 154) but Minnesota has given up fewer to the opposition (31 to 69).

Missouri Second

Missouri, winner of seven straight and ranked No. 2 in the latest poll, also faces an important opponent Saturday when it meets once-beaten Colorado in a Big Eight clash that could decide the championship.

Navy, the No. 4 club with seven in a row this year, meets a rugged opponent on the road when the Middies travel to Durham, N.C., to play Duke, beaten only by Michigan.

Ohio State, which has lost only to Purdue (24-21) in six games and is rated fifth, is not expected to have too much trouble with Indiana.

Mississippi, tumbled to sixth after its 6-6 tie with Louisiana State, hopes to make up ground against Chattanooga.

Rose Picture

Washington, ranked No. 7 plays Southern California in a game which should go far toward firming up the Rose Bowl situation.

Tennessee's 27-14 victory over North Carolina on a day when Mississippi was being tied and Baylor and Syracuse were losing put the Vols into the No. 8 position. They play Georgia Tech Saturday and Mississippi Nov. 12.

Despite Syracuse's 10-0 defeat by Pitt, the Orange remains in the top ten, dropping from third to ninth. Syracuse plays Army Saturday at New York.

The new No. 10 team is Rice. Rice risks a share of the Southwest Conference lead Saturday night in a game with Arkansas at Little Rock.

The leaders (first place votes, season won-lost-tied records in parentheses; points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

1.	Iowa (46) (6-0)	476
2.	Missouri (7-0)	359
3.	Minnesota (1) (6-0)	350
4.	Navy (7-0)	324
5.	Ohio State (5-1)	279
6.	Mississippi (6-0-1)	265
7.	Washington (1) (6-1)	142
8.	Tennessee (5-0-1)	108
9.	Syracuse (5-1)	91
10.	Rice (5-1)	73

ESSC's Barkman Plays Despite Damaging Injury To Right Leg

By Curt Prins
Daily Record
Sports Editor

TOBY BARKMAN is the second leading scoring on the East Stroudsburg State College football team but only 11 months ago, it was doubtful if he would ever play football again.

Barkman, a freshman from Roxbury, N.J., was struck by a car in January, 1958 and he spent the next 11 months on crutches.

Barkman had been off crutches for only three hours, when he was hit by the car.

A cartilage injury in his knee put him on crutches at the end of the football season of his junior year, 1958.

On January 12 of that year, at 4 p.m. he was allowed by his doctor to walk without the crutches. At 7 that night he was struck by the car.

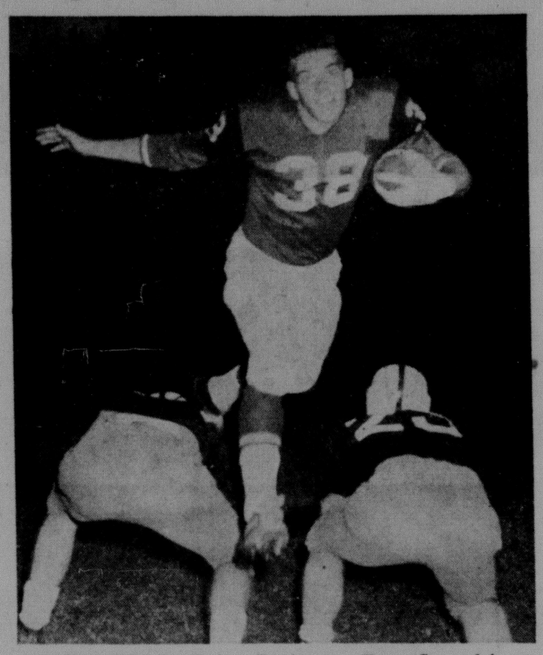
Pin And Plate

It took 24 stitches to repair the damage to his face and another 30 in his right leg, where two bones were broken. A steel pin and plate were put in his right leg to strengthen the bone. Two bones in his back were also broken. Doctors doubted if he would ever play football again.

Barkman, who earned this week's "Brite Star" for his clutch performance against Bloomsburg, did not play football in his senior year at Roxbury High. But he had recovered sufficiently the following spring to run track.

As a dash man, he turned in a 10.1 clocking in the 100-yard dash, to win the district title.

"I think I was able to run faster after the accident than before," says Barkman, "although I didn't run track in my junior year and have no time for comparison."



BRITE STAR—Toby Barkman, East Stroudsburg State College halfback earned this week's Brite Star award for his play against Bloomsburg Saturday. He scored two fourth period touchdowns, as the Warriors upset Bloom 21-20. (Staff Photo by Prins)

Fastest Warrior

Barkman is the fastest man on the East Stroudsburg squad. He outraced two Bloomsburg defenders to haul in a pass from quarterback Bill Lewis for a 42-yard touchdown in the final period and minutes later went off right tackle for the tying score.

He also scored touchdowns against Mansfield and Shippensburg, for a season total of 24 points.

Frank Lupin leads the team in scoring, with 30 points.

When the season opened, Barkman was on the second team. He played only briefly against Millersville in the opener. But injuries to the first unit halfbacks, Donnie Schleicher and Bill Race, earned him a starting assignment against Kutztown.

Since then Barkman has alternated between first and second team and last Saturday was rushed into the game on the first play after Lupin broke his leg.

Dad All-American

Halfbacks run in the Barkman family. Toby's dad Ralph (Mose), was a Little All-American halfback at Albrigh in 1928.

Toby might have been able to get a scholarship to one of the big football schools, if he had played in his senior year of high school. He was picked on the all-district team in his junior year. But he was forgotten by the scouts after the injury.

He was recommended to the East Stroudsburg Coach Jack Gregory by Bob Shiffner, the Roxbury coach, who felt Toby could play football despite the injury.

Toby told me the injury wouldn't bother him," says Gregory, "and so far it hasn't. He has a great deal of potential and he could be a great football player."

New Clubs To Get Special Waiver, Draft Treatment

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick and the presidents of the two major leagues Tuesday set up procedure for stocking the new clubs created by expansion of the American and National Leagues.

Frick gently slapped the wrist of the American League, which unexpectedly voted to expand to 10 clubs in 1961 last week. He said future expansion should be made jointly following executive sessions at which the league president and the commissioner would be present.

Frick said, however, he was satisfied that the American League had lived up to its commitment to the defunct Continental League.

Waiver Preference

Its expansion committee had recommended two Continental League clubs be added, but the owners decided to shift one franchise and added two new clubs.

Under the procedure for stocking the new clubs, the new teams will be given preferential treatment within their leagues in all waiver claims and will get two extra draft choices from the minor leagues at $25,000 each.

Frick said the new Los Angeles and Washington clubs will get the special treatment in waiver claims after they had qualified for membership, probably by the Nov. 17 meeting. The Minneapolis-St. Paul franchise, actually the old Washington franchise switched to a new sight, will not get special treatment.

Houston and New York, added to the National League for 1962, will not be able to participate in the 1960 draft as they probably will not have qualified by that time. However, Houston probably will draft from the lower minors as a member of the American Association in 1961. Both New York and Houston will participate in the draft a year from now.

The changes in the draft procedure must be approved by the minor leagues, who are being asked to do so in a mail vote.

Warriors Face Dry Spell, New Rules Against Cortland

EAST STROUDSBURG State College has not beaten Cortland in football since 1951, when a guard named Jack Gregory played for the Warriors.

Gregory will be with the club again Saturday but this time as a coach. The game is at Cortland.

In the '51 game, played at Normal Hill, the Warriors won 20-6.

Short On Points

Since then the Warriors have scored only 34 points in seven games against Cortland. The 1953 game was called off because of snow. Over the same span, Cortland has tallied 120 points.

And East Stroudsburg has not beaten Cortland on the New Yorkers' field since 1946 and has scored only 15 points there, over the same length of time.

In the overall series, which goes back to 1926, Cortland holds an 11-10 edge, with five ties, including last years 0-0 battle at East Stroudsburg.

Not only will East Stroudsburg, which is 5-2, with a four game winning streak, have to battle an eight year losing streak at Cortland, but also a new set of rules.

Cortland plays under the NCAA rules, while the Pennsylvania State College teams play National Football Alliance or high school rules.

There will be no unlimited substitution Saturday but the "wild card" rule will be used. Under the "wild card" arrangement a coach may substitute one player at a time after each play. Complete team changes are allowed only once in a quarter.

Added Point

For extra-point tries, the ball will be placed in the three-yard line rather than the two. A kick will count one point and a run or pass two.

Fumbles cannot be advanced and only one arm is allowed for blocking. And the ball may be advanced out of the end zone. Alliance rules do not allow a kickoff that goes into the end zone to be returned.

But the change that may cause the most trouble concerns shifts. In Alliance rules, an offensive interior lineman may not lift his hand from the ground once he puts it down. In NCCA rules this is not required as long as someone on the team moves to a different position, such as changing from a T-formation to a single wing. However, it is an illegal procedure penalty if there is no such change following the lift of hands.

Starner Tops In Contest

THREE contestants in last week's Daily Record Grid Contest picked 19 correct winners out of a possible 23.

However, Larry Starner, Stroudsburg RD 3, came out on top by picking 53 as the most points to be scored by any of the contest teams. Only one point off from the high mark of 54.

Harold Plastas of East Stroudsburg State College, placed second by picking 47 as the high mark for the week. James Paul of 837 Fairview Ave., Stroudsburg missed out on the prize money because his pick of 42 for high score was too far removed from the weekend's to score.

Not Everyone Happy With Alvin Dark

By HARRY JUPITER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—He's quiet and he's serious but there's only one way Alvin Dark attacks the game of baseball. He gives it everything he's got.

The announcement of Dark's selection as manager of the Giants was met with mixed emotions here.

Some fans declared Dark will be an inexpensive substitute for such as Casey Stengel or Leo Durocher—who were proposed by several sports writers and thousands of fans to succeed interim Manager Tom Sheehan.

Predict Success

Others, recognizing Dark's aggressiveness, hustle and intelligence, predicted a successful managerial career for the 37-year-old infielder.

Often overlooked, however, is the intense pride and desire of owner Horace Stoneham for a pennant. He has the final decision in every major move the Giants make.

Stoneham hired Dark because he believes Dark can lead the Giants to San Francisco's first National League pennant.

As for Dark getting the job without previous managerial experience, Stoneham remembers that the intense young man was the major league rookie of the year in his first full season with the Braves in 1948.

Dark, a fullback and sprinter at Louisiana State, believes in the run-run-run and hustle-every-second style of baseball.

Rugby Winner

PENANG, Malaya (AP)—Thailand's National rugby team Monday night defeated Penang's Blues 14-3 to complete a four match tour of Malaya with an unbeaten record. The visitors won three games and tied one.

Two Quick Goals Win For College

EAST Stroudsburg State College scored twice within a minute in the third period, to hand Wilkes College a 3-1 soccer loss at Normal Hill yesterday.

It was the fourth win for the Warriors and the third in a row. Saturday they upset previously unbeaten Lock Haven. The Warriors have lost three and tied one.

Paul Grube pushed East Stroudsburg into a 1-0 lead in the second period, when he shot from in front of the net rolled through the Wilkes goalie's legs.

Tie Breaker

Barry Wray scored mid-way through the third frame to break a 1-1 tie and less than a minute later freshman Karl Dickl rammed in the insurance goal.

Bob Roberts scored the visitors lone goal in the third period.

East Stroudsburg got off 48 shots, while a tight Warrior defense limited Wilkes to only four chances.

Two Backs Ready

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP) — Roger Zailskas and Pete King, two of Army's fastest halfbacks, will be ready for limited service Saturday against Syracuse at New York's Yankee Stadium. Both have been out of action most of the season due to injuries.

6 Points Hurt Pitt

By JOE BRADIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Except for six points Pitt could be winging its way to South Bend on Saturday undefeated. Instead, the Panthers go against Notre Dame with a 3-2-2 record.

Pitt opened with an 8-7 loss to UCLA, tied Michigan State 7-7 and next lost to Oklahoma 15-14. Then came 17-6 and 42-0 victories over Miami (Fla.) and West Virginia, respectively.

Last Saturday, the Panthers won their third straight by beating previously unbeaten Syracuse 10-0. Notre Dame lost 14-7 to Navy. As has been the case in four of the five defeats, the Irish had the advantage in statistics but not on the scoreboard.

Offensive Problem

Pitt's big problem is its offense. There's no question about its defense. The Panthers proved that against Syracuse. Led by big Mike Ditka, Pitt never gave the Orangemen a chance to move. On the other hand Pitt moved well on the ground but not through the air.

Assistant Coach Carl Depasqua, who has scouted Notre Dame, speaks highly of the Irish. "Notre Dame is a tough luck team," he says. "They move the ball well and if our boys don't play a good game, it will be a long afternoon."

And from Brady Lynn, the Irish assistant backfield coach and scout, comes this appraisal of Pitt:

"A big strong man, similar in size and ability to Michigan State and Purdue, and probably as good as any team in the country."

Ray Murray, former American League catcher, led the Rio Grande Valley Giants to victory in the Texas League this year. The team took the lead early in May and never was headed.

Shifts Make Ballplayers Morning Paper Readers

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

MAJOR league baseball has become a fluid thing, like the molasses you pour on your morning pancakes. The situation may become just as sticky.

Players are reading their morning newspaper more than ever. Those who are ready to build or buy new homes are holding off in fear of being traded.

The swapping of playing talent will be greater than ever this off season now that new teams in Washington and Los Angeles must be stocked for next spring in the American League's surprise expansion move.

Minneapolis-St. Paul gets a break because most of the Washington name players will call Minnesota their "home" in 1961. At best, only two or three 1960 Senators listed as expendables will be back in the Capital next year under new management.

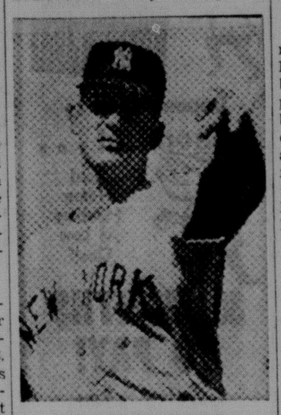
Giants Active

The San Francisco Giants figure to be more active than ever when the winter league meetings open in Louisville Nov. 28. At the St. Petersburg sessions last year they made a multi-player deal with Baltimore. It didn't help. Now Horace Stoneham now wants to trade Johnny Antonelli.

The Yankees would like to have him. And Antonelli, a Rochester, N.Y., resident, would like to pitch for the New Yorkers. Who wouldn't, with all their power? Before the World Series, Whitey Ford was mentioned in a possible deal for Anty. Now the Yankees have cooled on such a deal. Ford pitched two series shutouts.

"I don't know if I'd quit or not if I were traded," Ford says. "It all depends on where I was traded. I'm an off-season customer's man in Wall Street and my family ties are in New York. I'd hate to leave the Yankees."

The Detroit Tigers will try to unload veteran third baseman Eddie Yost. They are figuring



WHITEY FORD
Will He Go West?

on Steve Boros, who had a fine season at Denver, as their 1961 third sacker.

Trade Minded

Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane undoubtedly will be quite active. Of the 40 players on his list this time last year, only 10 finished the season around Lake Erie. Cleveland was a pennant contender a year ago but in 1961 finished fourth, 21 games off the victorious Yankees.

Milwaukee is looking to get outfielder Wes Covington and his bad heel out of the National League. The Braves also are looking for a couple of relief pitchers and a new shortstop to replace Johnny Logan. Among their expendables are two fine pitching prospects, Carl Willey and Juan Pizarro. They also could use another catcher to back up brilliant Del Crandall.

Pittsburgh might try for a right-handed hitting outfielder with Dick Stuart and Gino Cimoli as expendables. Stuart didn't appear too happy after Bill Mazeroski decided the series with his ninth inning homer in the final game. Stuart was to bat next for pitcher Harvey Haddix. He never got the chance.

Youth Movement

Los Angeles has a youth movement under way and Gil Hodges and Duke Snider can be had. Baltimore wants a power hitter and it would'nt be surprising to see the Orioles come up with Hodges who would act as a platoon man around first base with Jim Gentile spelling him against right handers. Hodges might even like such a deal. He lives in Brooklyn. It would give him more time in the east and would cut down his flying hours with only one California team in the American League.

The Los Angeles Dodgers are looking for a catcher. They could do worse than turn to the Chicago White Sox for veteran Sherm Lollar. He would love that left field screen in the Coliseum.

Yes, the players are reading the morning papers more than ever. Baseball these days is like a three-ring flying circus and the players would like to know now where they can expect to have their morning coffee next year.

Yanks Out Of Meet

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Scandinavian track and field officials decided not to accept a United States offer for a U. S.-Scandinavia meet in Helsinki in July.

The U.S. team requested $15,000 and expenses, which was considered too much, and the proposed dates conflicted with the inter-Scandinavian championships.

Red Cracks Lift Marks

MOSCOW (AP)—Anatoli Zhgun, a 23-year-old Leningrad railway engineering student, bettered two world lightweight weightlifting records, Tass reported.

Zhgun lifted 324.08 pounds in the snatch, bettering his world mark by 1½ pounds. He hoisted 352 pounds in the jerk, topping by 1½ pounds the record held by Japan's Anuma Grover.

Atkins Top Back

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

PERVIS ATKINS, an outstanding, all-around halfback from New Mexico State University, was named the back of the week Tuesday by The Associated Press for his exploits in the unbeaten Aggies' last quarter 27-24 triumph over Arizona State.

With his team trailing 24-14 in the final period, the 190-pounder from Oakland, Calif., returned a kickoff 98 yards for a touchdown and later ran 70 yards from the 4, setting up the winning score. That brought the Aggies their seventh straight victory this year, their 11th over a 2-year span, and virtually assured them the Border Conference football championship.

Many Leads

Atkins, the 1959 major college rushing, scoring and punt return leader, has teamed with tailback Bob Gaiters, the nation's top scorer this season, to give the Aggies a powerful one-two punch. Atkins has been one of the chief blockers in springing Gaiters loose. He also has been a stickout on defense.

There were other contenders for the weekly honor, including Tommy Mason of Tulane, Guy (Sonny) Gibbs of Texas Christian, Wilburn Hollis of Iowa, Ed Dyas of Auburn, Hank Lesesne of Vanderbilt, Hugh Scott of Princeton, Tommy Larscheld of Utah State and Marshall Starks of Illinois.

Angels Win Hoop Opener

HAWLEY — Newfoundland's Blue Angels rapped the Hawley Raiders 89-49 to win the opening game of the newly formed Pocono Mountain Basketball League. Wade Keen tossed in 26 points to lead the winners. He was followed by John Hinds with 24 and Bob Haag with 19.

Newfoundland plays the Viking A. C. next Saturday at Hawley.

Full Season Of Grid Shocks Crammed Into One Saturday

By FRED WALTERS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Maybe it was the witching spirit, or maybe it was the weather—rain in the east — but this past weekend in Pennsylvania high school football provided more shocks than the entire season put together.

Here's a rundown by region:

Northeast — Bangor, Pottsville, Wilkes-Barre Meyers and Minersville all suffered their first defeats of the season.

Berwick, which beat Pottsville, and Coal Twp., which edged Hazleton, took over the East Penn southern division lead, with Coal on top. The two meet Nov. 12.

West Scranton continues on top in the northern division and should stay there.

Three Area Powers

Independent Easton, Northampton of the Lehigh Valley and Nazareth of the Lehigh-Northampton are other standouts in the region. Unbeaten Kingston, which ended Meyers' long string, is now the Wyoming Valley favorite, pending its Nov. 12 game with Wilkes-Barre G.A.R.

Midstate—York and Harrisburg Harris, two strong Central Penn teams, both went down to unexpected defeat, while conference leader Lancaster was an impressive winner over Reading. Harris meets Lancaster this coming weekend.

Carlisle defeated a good Hanover Delone team by an astounding 47-7 and heads for its South Penn showdown with Waynesboro this weekend and leader Chambersburg the following week as a team that looks awfully difficult to beat.

Lock Haven Wins

Bald Eagle-Nittany stunned unbeaten South Williamsport, 34-19, to take over the West Branch lead. Lock Haven—certainly one of the state's best—thumped previously unbeaten Danville, 38-6 in a Susquehanna Valley contest.

Chief Logan was a big winner, walloping Lewistown — in whose shadow it has played for years—33-0. Trevorton of the Twin Valley and Southwestern of the Laurel League continued unbeaten as did defending Laurel champion Littlestown, which has a Nov. 11 date with Southwestern.

Sayre remained unbeaten with Cortland, N. Y., Nov. 11 its next big one.

West Central—Dubois comes up to its big game with Hollidaysburg once-tied (by Altoona), but otherwise perfect. It trails Lock Haven in the West Penn standings. The two do not meet. Central Cambria won impressively over Indiana, 25-0.

Southwest—Greensburg, Hampton and Avella fell out of the various WPIAL races.

Greensburg's 20-14 loss to Latrobe left only Beaver Falls and Monessen available for the WPIAL-AA playoff. Hampton's 14-12 loss to Freedom left Sewickley and Beaver the only two WPIAL-A contenders. With Avella out of the WPIAL-B race, Northwestern, Perryopolis, Trafford, Union Twp. and Washington Twp. were left.

Buffalo Baseball Outlook Bright

NEW YORK (AP)—R. V. Taylor, chairman of the board of the Buffalo group seeking a big league franchise, said Tuesday he was encouraged about the chances of getting into the National League after a conference with Branch Rickey.

Rickey, president of the defunct Continental League of which Buffalo was a member, told Taylor that Lou Perini of Milwaukee, John Galbreath of Pittsburgh, Phil Wrigley of Chicago and Walter O'Malley of Los Angeles favor inclusion of Buffalo and Dallas-Fort Worth in the league in 1963 or 1964.

Coach To Quit

REGINA (AP) — The Regina Leader-Post Monday said Coach Ken Carpenter of the Saskatchewan Roughriders intends to resign to accept a position on the coaching staff of the Denver Broncos in the American Football League.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Nearly $7,000 Distributed By United Steelworkers

By JOHN KOENIG
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly $7,000 has been contributed by the United Steelworkers to the campaigns of a dozen Pennsylvania democrats in the Nov. 8 election.

This was reported Tuesday.

Other preliminary reports showed that Pennsylvania Republican candidates individually have received upwards of $16,000 from the GOP congressional (campaign) committee in recent months.

The reports were filed with the clerk of the House of Representatives as required by law.

The contributions are in additions to reports showing $16,500 earmarked by the Republican committee for Pennsylvania GOP congressional candidates last May and upwards of $13,000 set aside in August for Pennsylvania Democrats by their own congressional campaign committee. These reports were filed earlier this year.

Individual candidates for congress are required to file preliminary financial reports 10 days before the election. The deadline was last Saturday. Final reports are due 30 days after the election Nov. 8.

The Steelworkers Union Political Action Fund contributed $1,000 to campaigns of both Rep. Elmer J. Holland, 30th District, and Rep. Frank M. Clark, 25th District.

Democrats

These other Democratic candidates, all incumbents with the exception of Dean R. Fisher, 17th District, received $500 each from the Steelworkers: William J. Green, Robert N. C. Nix, William A. Barrett, Herman Toll, James A. Byrne, and Kathryn E. Granahan, all Philadelphia; George M. Rhodes, 14th District, and James M. Quigley, 19th District. Russell M. Douthett, 29th District candidate, received $250.

The Steelworkers Political Action Fund also reported contributing $5,000 to the Kennedy-Johnson Labor Committee of Allegheny County, Pa.; $2,000 to the Citizens for Kennedy Committee of Washington, D. C., and $2,000 to the Pennsylvania State Democratic Finance Committee for fund-raising dinner tickets.

The AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) reported it allocated $15,000 and $5,000 Oct. 4 and Oct. 14 respectively to the Pennsylvania State COPE for the 1960 elections. The COPE report also listed a $1,000 contribution to the Scranton Pa., Central Labor Union on Oct. 14 for election purposes.

Reports from individual Republican candidates for Congress showed George A. Goodling, 19th District, received $3,000 from the GOP Congressional Committee; Rep. John P. Saylor, 22nd District, $2,500; Reps. William A. Milliken Jr., 7th District; Paul B. Dague,. 8th District; Walter M. Mumma, 16th District, and Leon H. Gavin, 23rd District, $2,000 each; Rep. James E. Van Zandt, 20th District, $1,057, and James H. Mantis, 14th District, $1,500.

Dague and Gain also reported receiving $1,000 each from members of the Pew family of Philadelphia and vicinity.

Being Handled

William W. Scranton, GOP candidate in the 10th District, reported that all his contributions and expenditures are being handled by the Citizens Committee for Bill Scranton, which he said will file its own report.

Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, 26th District Democratic incumbent, reported receiving $500 from the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee; $250 from the National Maritime Union of America, and $200 from Mark W. Cresop Jr., Pittsburgh.

Rep. William S. Curtin of the 8th District reported $3,211 in contributions received and $1,631 in expenditures. The contributions included $3,000 by the Congressional Committee.

Curtin reported expenditures of $1,000 to the Lehigh County Republican Committee at Allentown and $250 to the Bucks County Republican Congressional Committee.

His listed expenditures included $108, plus $1,204 not itemized.

Recipient of the heaviest financial support individually from labor was Holland. In addition to $1,000 from the Steelworkers Union, Holland reported receiving a total of approximately $1,500 other labor groups, including Garment Workers, Railway Workers, Electrical Workers, Cement Masons, and Operating Engineers.

A TOTAL of 351 requests for absentee ballots were received by Monroe County Commissioners in their capacity as the county election board through yesterday.

Deadline for application for such ballots was 4 p.m. yesterday, but a spokesman for the commissioners said any requests mailed prior to the deadline will be honored.

Rhee Law Wiped Out

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea's revolutionary government yesterday wiped out another law passed by the ousted Syngman Rhee regime and made the jobs of mayors and town chiefs elective once again.

During a Christmas Eve Parliamentary session in 1958, Rhee had pushed through legislation to make the posts appointive in a move to strengthen the hold of his Liberal party on the country.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 2, 1960

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Handle tasks according to proper importance; count possible assets and weigh well the best routes before deciding, even in minor matters.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Analyze unusual proposals carefully. They often sound more enticing than they are. Waste no time—especially where details are concerned.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Very fine month for your special talents, for ingenuity, craftsmanship, personable manner, dexterity, etc. Do all you can to alleviate others' difficulties as you progress individually.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Tomorrow will show what you accomplish today. Have renewed faith, hope, ambitions; give those finer qualities a booster shot and keep right issues on top. Shun extreme fluctuation.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — The right start is important, but so is steady tempo, consistency of high-type aims, methods. Leo can shine on this sort of day if he (she) will keep impulses and desires in check.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) —More than average-type day, with a call for your best personality and disposition. Problems not as great as many others, remember; don't think about ills; spontaneous aid speeds results.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Of necessity some matters you may have not please so how you react and handle obligations will carry weight. Venus' bright aspect beckons to your finesse and practicality.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — When we begin to have prejudices and bias that others have, we are following the leader without regard for the brains God gave us individually. Study facts; don't be cajoled into decisions.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — Indifference is a sin against our talents and individual rights. We cannot expect things to turn out as we would like if we do not work for ends in which we believe. 'Nuf said!

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Strong Saturn aspect suggests getting out some of those dusty tricks (honest ones, of course), re-trying a tack that may have failed before but could well succeed now. Be justly decisive.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Time out for reward can be used profitably by you for forming new ideas to bolster a fading or wobbly situation or project. Your versatility and straight-forward tactics are NEEDED.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) —Neptune and other planets' configurations urge your best foot forward to keep day on the track and running smoothly. Can be done with little extra effort, will pay big dividends.

YOU BORN TODAY have more than a few talents for unusual success. Sometimes waste time getting started, then at last minute produce what is indicative of the greater results you could have gotten with earlier, consistent endeavor. Be not hurt or dismayed at callous indifference of others, or lack of appreciation. Know that loyalty will be rewarded in a lasting fashion. Find whatever helpful you can in criticism, then forget unjust words that merely express another's antagonism or jealousy. Protect health, avoid over-exertion; pray; be calm; awaken to your many gifts. Birthdate of: Jas. K. Polk, 11th U. S. President.

Figuring Stock Profits

By William A. Doyle

Q. I bought 50 shares of General Telephone common stock in 1953, at $39 a share. As you know, 50 percent stock dividends were paid on this stock in 1954 and 1955. And the stock was split three for one earlier this year. As a result of all this, my holding increased to 336 shares.

If I sell some, but not all of these shares, how do I figure my profit? Am I supposed to pay a Federal capital-gains tax?

A. The key here is to figure out what each share you now own cost you. You paid $39 a share for 50 shares — a total cost of $1,850.

You should also add all brokerage commissions and other fees you paid at the time you bought the stock to get your complete purchase cost. Your letter doesn't mention this. So, we'll have to skip them in this example.

Then divide your cost ($1,850 by the number of shares you now own (336). That will give you the adjusted cost per share. In this case, the adjusted "tax-cost basis" on each share you now own comes out to $5.50.

General Telephone (now General Telephone & Electronics) common stock has a current market value of close to five times that amount. Here's proof that you made a wise investment.

If you sell any of this stock, the difference between $5.50 and the price you receive for each share will be your profit. That profit will be subject to Federal capitol taxes. Because you have owned the stock for more than six months, your profit should be reported as a long-term capital gain.

Q. You have explained that when a person buys or sells an "odd lot" of stock he must pay a fee of 12½ cents a share if the price of the stock is below $40 a share or 25 cents a share if the price of the stock is $40 or more a share. I bought 28 shares of stock at 40⅞ ($40.875 a share) and the broker charged me a commission of $16.45.

That's a whole lot more than 25 cents a share. Should I complain to the Securities and Exchange Commission?

A. No. The odd-lot fee is an extra charge you pay when you deal in anything except round lots. In the case of most stocks, the round-lot "unit of trading" is 100 shares.

The odd-lot fee is added to the cost of the stock when you buy and subtracted from the sale price when you sell.

But, on top of that, you still have to pay a commission. And, for the number of shares you bought at the price you mention, $16.45 is the correct commission on all major stock exchanges.

Q. I am interested in buying some bonds in a well-known company. How can I find out if the bonds have a sinking fund provision, so that I can be reasonably sure that money will be available to redeem the bonds?

A. If the bonds have a sinking fund provision, all the details are spelled out in the "indenture." That document explains everything about the particular bond issue. Also, the important information about any bond is explained in the statistical manuals you will find in any brokerage office.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Donald Nixon Confirms Loan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's brother Donald confirmed yesterday that a $205,000 loan obtained in an unsuccessful effort to save his restaurant business came from industrialist Howard Hughes' tool company.

But Donald Nixon added: "I have never asked my brother to do anything for me or anyone else in the government; and if I did ask, I know he would refuse."

As his first comment on an article last week by Washington columnist Drew Pearson, Donald Nixon issued a statement detailing his financial difficulties and accusing Pearson of an attempt to smear his brother, the Republican nominee for president.

"I am deeply grieved and concerned to think that any individual would use my business misfortune to influence the outcome of the presidential election," Donald Nixon said.

McPherson Exhibitions Set To Continue Thru Friday

THE exhibition of paintings by J. Havard MacPherson may still be seen through Friday, at the Pocono Art Center Gallery, from 2 to 4 P.M. daily, and on Tuesday and Wednesday nights after 8 o'clock. The Gallery is on the third floor of 584 Main St., Stroudsburg.

Also, by appointment, classes of school children may be brought to see the paintings by phoning HA 1-0947.

Last Thursday two new classes were inaugurated at the Workshops of the Pocono Art Center, at Braeside and Brown Sts., East Stroudsburg. Called "The A-B-C's of Art," the classes are planned to introduce beginners to the experience of creating visual art. As a start, Marcia Clapp DeRocco, the teacher, presented clay, which is her own favorite medium. Drawing will also be undertaken, and later painting. The class for children is at 4 P.M. on Thursdays, while that for adults starts at 7:30 p.m., at the workshop.

Mrs. DeRocco is the founder and chairman of the Pocono Art Center, and brings the enthusiasm and training of her lifetime's experience to the project of establishing an Art Center as a "lasting contribution to the future of our children and our community."

Graduate Of Many

A graduate of the John Herron Art School of Indianapolis, and of Butler University, Indianapolis, and of the Art Students League, New York City, she also holds a diploma from the Metropolitan School of Music, of Indianapolis, and is a member of the Mu Phi Epsilon National Honorary Music Society. Winning the Griffith Fellowship National Award, and the Tiffany Fellowship in Sculpture, she went abroad and studied sculpture in Florence and Paris. She exhibited in Europe, and in this country at the National Academy, Allied Artists, etc., the Pennsylvania Academy, Carnegie Annual and the Hoosier Salon, where she took a first prize in sculpture. She also took first prize in a Chicago annual sculpture show. She continued her ceramic studies at the Inwood Pottery in New York City.

Mrs. DeRocco holds a license for teaching art in Indiana and New York. In Westchester County, N.Y., she taught in the Scarsdale schools, and developed progressive methods that are used today. Murals done by the children working with her were exhibited in the Broklyn Museum of Art. Her classes were used as source studies for teachers, and she trained for the supervision of teachers at the Indiana University, and later conducted courses in New York City, for teachers, on methods of procedure in teaching ceramics and sculpture.

She lectured on art in Brooklyn College. She introduced the first clay classes into Veteran's Hospitals as the therapeutic measures, a plan adopted and used throughout the U.S.

Commercially

Commercially, she has designed pottery for the U.S. and European Market, and decor and mannikins for department stores, such as Saks Fifth Ave., in New York and Pennsylvania.

In the fine arts, her greatest achievement has been in the field of portrait sculpture, using the mediums of carving in stone and wood, terra cotta and bronze. Among her commissions was that for the Edward MacDowell Memorial Head (she was a fellow at the MacDowell Colony, and there met the artist Jovan De Rocco whom she married. Other sculptured portraits were made of the scientist William Beebe, Shan Gar, the Hindu dancer, the daughters of William Benet, the composer Haubiel, and many others. Recently, she finished the portrait of David Cogan, producer of "Raisin in the Sun," and is currently working on one of the actress Anne Bancroft. She is also preparing for a one-man show to be held in New York City, the exhibition to be selected from more than 100 of her portraits in sculpture.

Mrs. De Rocco is well known in our community for such public-spirited contributions as organizing of special activities for the U.N. and the Cancer Fund drives. She is on the Board of Directors of the Laurel Home for the Aged, and is president of the League of Women Voters.

Tuesday nights after 8, a group led by Jesse Weiss meets at the Gallery to read and discuss plays and music. On Wednesday nights, the Painting Workshop meets. On Friday afternoons, Tillie Friedman teaches a ballot class at 4, at the same place. A China-Painting Class is conducted by Frank Buchmann on Friday nights. For information, phone HA 1-6938.
